Wheeling Annexes 10 Miles of Roads

The Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Municipalities which have been annexing roads are on a wild goose chase. A number of municipal attorneys are positive that such actions are illegal. They have so advised their municipalities which explains why Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Elk Grove Village have not engaged in an annexation spree.

Trustee James Millay, Arlington Heights, put it this way. "Such acts by a municipality are immoral. There is such a thing as a moral code for villages. Communistic countries do such things."

The epidemic has spread to Wheeling and Lake county where many villages are taking part in road annexation races. We hope American courts will have more success in stopping area grabbing than has the United Nations.

News stories tell of the free ride that Uncle Sam is giving the wives who will accompany their husbands as they take a trip to Puerto Rico on public business.

The Internal Revenue department tells the businessman that he cannot claim as a deduction the cost of taking his wife along on business trips.

But then Ike is being severely criticized because he used his plane Columbine to take Mamie to a plush resort near Phoenix, Ariz.

Our sympathy goes to the Zenith organization in its fight for pay television. It is not that we are willing to shell out hard earned dollars to watch television in our home. We are just getting fed up with the many commercials that are ruining the programs that we have been receiving.

Will it not be worth a few dimes or quarters to be able to select worthwhile programs without listening to the "associate" sponsor every few minutes?

When you buy pay T-V, does that guarantee proper reception of the super programs on the home set?

T-V Channel 11 needs financial aid if it is to be kept upon the air waves. Civic organizations and individuals should help to keep it there.

The financial campaign in its behalf starts March 11. Palatine Lions did not wait for that date. It started the drive for WTTW last Thursday evening.

Last week's published story of Carl Sandburg's visit to Wheeling and pictures taken by our staff photographer of that visit are to be placed in the Carl Sandburg room at the University of Illinois.

His writings and stories of Lincoln lore provide a historic background of the past 100 years.

Local historical societies are collecting material of happenings right here at home during those same 100 years. Future generations will prize them. Families with authentic documentary pieces should turn them over to them for safekeeping. They will become more valuable as the years pass.

The greatest gamblers today are the shopping center promoters.

Announcements of new locations are being made monthly. Is it not time that zoning authorities declare a moratorium on shopping center zoning permits?

We cannot believe that hardheaded businessmen will do any stampeding to sign leases.

Editor to Attend New Orleans Parley

Stuart R. Paddock, editor-in-chief of Paddock Publications, left Wednesday to attend the winter meeting of National Editorial association in New Orleans, La. He was accompanied by Mrs. Paddock.

The editor will participate in a panel discussion on the subject, "Wanted: More Editorial Leadership." The only weekly editor on the panel, Paddock will discuss the problem of "Popularizing Worthy Local Causes."

AN HONORARY life membership in Arlington Heights chamber of commerce was awarded this week to Stuart R. Paddock, president of Paddock Publications, "in gratitude for devotion to civic improvement." Presenting Paddock with the commemorative plaque is Robert Kozeliski, newly-elected president of the chamber. Paddock is retiring as a director.

Second Project for Rand Road

$2 Million Plan Includes Motel, Shopping Center

Plans were announced Saturday for construction of a $2 million shopping center at the southeast corner of Rand and Palatine rds.

It is the second such project proposed for Rand rd. within a month. A shopping and recreation center will be built 1 mile to the northwest, opposite Chestnut st., according to plans disclosed late in January.

BOTH GROUPS of promoters must first obtain the approval of county zoning authorities before any soil is turned. A zoning hearing was held February 13 for the 20-acre project and the rezoning request taken under advisement.

A hearing on the Rand-Palatine rds. development probably will not be scheduled until April, as the county zoning board has a full calendar for March. It is now zoned for farming.

A 40-unit motel is planned for the 27-acre site at Rand and Palatine rds. It would have 26 stores, including a department store and 2 supermarts, with parking for some 2,000 autos. An auto sales agency and a service station are also proposed.

CLARENCE L. Woodworth, president of a Lincolnwood realty which will manage the project, said ground will be broken sometime next summer. Sponsors of the development are Theodore Karavidas and his 2 sons, Charles and George. They purchased the property last year.

The "Rand shopping center," as the development is tentatively named, will have a total floor selling area of 200,000, square feet with the department store to occupy about 80,000 square feet, added Woodworth, head of Woodworth-Calder, inc.

Builders of the other project, located three-eighths of a mile northwest of State and Arlington Heights rds., are seeking rezoning to a B-2 business classification. The center would contain a bowling alley, restaurant, cocktail lounge, 12-15 stores, a 150-unit hotel-motel and a variety of recreation facilities.

Burglars Ransack Stonegate Home

Arlington Heights police are trying to determine how an empty 1-gallon ice cream container and a hypodermic syringe fit into a Stonegate burglary.

THIEVES BROKE into the Peter Atwood residence, 1223 Mayfair, Saturday and stole 6 bottles and 5 cases of whiskey. They pilfered the refrigerator for the ice cream, ate it and left the empty container and the syringe at the scene. The Atwoods said the syringe does not belong to them. The ice cream binge may mean several persons, perhaps youths, were involved.

Police said entry was gained by breaking a small bedroom window on the south side of the house. The home was entered 2 weeks previous and liquor also stolen then.

THE REV. EDGAR H. Behrens, pastor of Faith Lutheran church, reported an attempted break-in at his church early last week and 3 other buildings, including another church, were also entered several days later.

Night shift police spotted an open door at St. James Catholic school at 1:39 a. m. Thursday. A priest said all doors had been locked earlier in the evening. Although the building had been entered, no losses or damage were noted.

HALF AN HOUR later the squad saw a partly-opened door at Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church on the south side and again heard all entrances had been locked earlier. Again nothing was taken in the apparent break-in.

To complete a busy shift, 2 officers found a third place entered 2 hours later. The American Legion building at Miner and Douglas was entered and an inside door leading to the bar removed, pried from its hinges. Police reports listed no losses.

Auto Strikes, Injures Boy, 3

A 3-year-old Arlington Heights boy was struck and injured Tuesday afternoon when he darted out from behind a parked car into the path of an oncoming vehicle.

David R. Hugg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Hugg, 1007 N. Chicago, received a fractured arm in the accident in front of 10 W. Campbell. The driver, Mrs. Carolyn O. Stinson, 29, of 2103 S. Ashland, Palatine, was going only about 10 miles an hour and was unable to avoid the boy.

May Spark Area Road Grab 'War'

The village of Wheeling annexed 10 miles of country roads Monday in the first move of what may develop inton an annexation war among northwest Cook county suburbs.

USING THE SAME legal gimmick that enabled the city of Chicago to attach O'Hare airport to itself, Wheeling stretched its limits south along Wheeling road into unincorporated Prospect Heights and northwest along McHenry rd. into the Buffalo Grove vicinity.

At its most southwesterly point, the intersection of Camp McDonald and Wheeling rds., the corridor extends to within about 1 mile of the outer edges of Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect.

The village of Streamwood, 3 miles east of Elgin in Cook county, grabbed 75 miles of roads beyond the village proper to creep within a stone's throw of Elgin, Bartlett, Schaumburg Center and Barrington Hills.

And to the north in Lake county, the municipalities of Deer Park, Long Grove and Mundelein have been taking in roads at a furious pace for the past several weeks.

BUT WHEELING is the first village in the townships of Wheeling, Elk Grove and Northfield to toss what Mayor A. R. McIntyre calls a "protective shield" around itself.

At the request of communities alarmed by the fast-moving and secretive highway grabs, State's Attorney Ben Adamowski is challenging the legality of the practice in court.

In the event the technique is found to be illegal (with a decision perhaps years away), Mayor McIntyre promised residents of the surrounding territory that Wheeling "will gracefully withdraw its attempted annexation."

But until the dust is settled, Wheeling "intends to fiirmly hold this territory and protect it from back yard invasion by other village governments," continued the mayor.

HE DID NOT SPECIFY the nature of the threat, but Des Plaines lies to the south of Wheeling and the village of Northbrook to the east across the Des Plaines river.

McIntyre's village board connected the roads to the village merely by voting such annexations at a special meeting Monday. No consent from owners of property along the roads is needed as the highways are already public property. No roadside property is taken into the village by the action.

McIntyre's statement explains the reason for the sudden leap by noting that other villages might try to snatch choice prospective sites for commerical and industrial developments to the south and west.

THE "PROTECTIVE shield" extends about 1.5 miles out from the village proper on the northwest and up to 2 miles on the south.

Starting at the intersection of McHenry and Dundee rds. these are the roads annexed:

McHenry rd. northwest to Aptakisic rd., southwest to Buffalo Grove rd., south to Dundee rd., east to Schoenbeck rd., south to Hintz rd., east to Wheeling rd., south to Camp McDonald rd., east to River rd., north via Milwaukee ave. to the village limits.

SEVERAL WEEKS ago a well-trained shoplifter made off from the Emerald shop in Arlington Heights with a mink stole valued at $1,295. The mink was to have been given away in a sales promotion contest. Last week Senne replaced the valuable fur piece with another stole of natural brown mutation mink, known commercially as "Autumn Haze" and the contest goes on. A prankster suggested that the prize be awarded for someone who could best tell in 10 words or less how the shoplifter did it in bright daylight. However the genial proprietor, shown putting the mink in the window, said the prize will still go to the best 10-word description of the stole—not the steal.

Village Trustees Doom Moving Condemned House

A home built in 1882 but given a facelifting a few years ago isn't fancy enough for Arlington Heights, or even for a lot outside the village and across Central road from the NIKE base.

Thus ruled the village board last week, in effect dooming a white-shingled home at 27 S. State rd. to demolition.

THE VILLAGE owns the house and it must be removed to make way for a new parking lot.

Village Manager F. R. Buechner had told Harold J. Proebstle, who lives in a small house across the road from the main gate to the NIKE station, that he could have the house for $1 if he would move it.

Buechner thought he was saving the village the estimated $500 cost of razing the venerable house. An ordinance bans moving of a house more than 40 years old onto a lot in the village. Proebstle's lot is about one-quarter mile west of the limits, which are at the west edge of the Northwest Community Hospital site.

MAYOR EDWARD G. Carlisle objected to the plan, saying it might create a future slum problem in an area that might be annexed at some future date.

Trustee Melvin L. Kurtz also objected. He thought the manager ought to have taken bids instead of negotiating the almost-sale.

This week Buechner is advertising for bids for tearing down the house.

Proebstle declares the 3-bedroom house would have been plenty modern for him. He was to have spent $6,000 or more to get the home to new moorings.

SHAME OF THE SUBURBS—II

Rural Slums Disgrace

The special series of picture stories discussing the plight of 800 Spanish-speaking families segregated into rural slums in northwest suburbs continues this week in Paddock Publications.

Housing is a major factor in the problem facing these former migratory farm workers now settling permanently in suburban fringe areas on a permanent basis. This week's story tells of the living conditions and housing problems of 3 typical families.

The articles are being written by Charles Hayes, managing editor, and Tom Brennan, associate editor, of Paddock Publications. The second in this series will be found in part 4 of this week's edition.

C. of C. Reelects Kozeliski as Head

Robert E. Kozeliski, local Illinois Bell Telephone co. manager, last week was re-elected president of the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce.

Other officers chosen to lead the chamber during the coming year are: Herbert Kiekowski, owner of Arlington Heating and Sheet Metal co., vice president; Barney Erickson, real estate salesman and owner of Dunton Court cleaners, treasurer, and Wilbert C. Hartmann, secretary-manager.

NEW MEMBERS of the board of directors for 3-year terms are Paul E. Collins, vice president of Arlington Federal Savings and Loan, and Joseph Svoboda Jr., manager of Svoboda's menswear. Elected for 2-year terms on the board of directors are John H. Kehe, partner in C. M. Behrens and Associates realty firm, and Jack V. Keller, of Florence, Blum and Keller realty firm.

Holdovers on the board are George Harris, pharmacy owner; Mrs. Muriel Mundy, women's wear shop owner; George Schneberger, Arlington Elevator and Material co.; Anthony J. Prasnikar, owners of Arlington Heights Animal Hospital; and F. J. Freiburger, Creamery Package plant manager.

NEW OFFICERS will be installed at a dinner dance at the Rolling Green country club, March 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Retiring members of the board of directors are Ian Craig, Sylvia's Flowers; Rolland A. Franzen, Arlington Heights National bank; Arnold E. Freise, Parkway Liquors, and Stuart R. Paddock Sr., Paddock Publications.

Parents, Teachers To Meet

The second of 3 annual teacher-parent council meetings will be held at the Arlington Heights high schools tonight.

At the Prospect school, parents of freshmen will meet the teachers, hear a discussion of academic departments and will be told what is expected of the student.

AT THE ARLINGTON Heights school, the parents of sophomores will be guests at a similar open house. Parents of juniors and seniors will attend a parent-faculty student panel discussion on children's social activities.

A general PTA council meeting will precede the programs at each school.

Police Find Manufacturer Of 'Bombs'

A homemade "bomb" that exploded in a locker at Arlington High school 2 weeks ago was a leftover from the Fourth of July, police have learned.

A 15-year-old boy traced down as the manufacturer told officers he made and blew off 8 of them over the holiday. He gave one to a friend who waited 7 months, until February 11 to use it. It was made of potassium nitrate, charcoal and sulphur.

Another explosion went off in a locker at the school last Thursday but police have not found the culprits. The latest one shredded a book and knocked a shelf loose.

Sad $41,000 Tale Has Happy Ending

Arlington Heights trustees last week learned that some $41,000 they had figured on using to help pay the village's "housekeeping" expenses won't be available after all.

THE MONEY didn't actually vanish. But — as the trustees were told in a stiff letter of protest from the plan commission — the sum must be used for certain purposes, not including items such as police, fire and administrative expenses paid out of the general corporate fund.

The $41,772 involved came into village hands from 2 sources: $14,200 was paid by subdividers in lieu of dedication of land "for public use;" the remainder came from annexation fees.

The village board put the money into the general corporate fund at the start of the current fiscal year last May. But while it was appropriated into the fund, the money remained in a "special separation account" at the bank and was never spent.

THE PROTEST came from the plan commission when the commission belatedly learned the sum was ticketed for general running expenses.

As commission chairman Evan E. Olmstead pointed out in his letter to the board, a village law requires that any money given "in lieu of dedication of public land" be used "in the acquiring of other property for a public use."

Briefly, Olmstead insisted that the dollars exacted from builders not go to pay the village hall light bill or firemen's salaries, but instead go toward purchase of property to be used in some manner by the public. Last week, trustees conceded the plan commission is correct and said the money will be used properly.

Under this same 1955 rule requiring land dedication, the village acquired at no cost the small neighborhood parks in Virginia Terrace, Westgate, Mills subdivision and other areas. And Arlington Heights school district 25 obtained its 7-acre site for Westgate school as a "gift" from builder Leo C. Reuter.

The rule requires dedication of 5 to 10 per cent of the land area, depending on the size of the subdivision.

The total value of these properties, though never calculated, might easily top $100,000.

LAST YEAR, the park district went out to buy land for a small park in Arlington Greens, built before the law went into effect. The district had to pay $18,000 for a 5-acre site.

Several plan commission members would favor using the $14,200 collected so far (with thousands more due to come) for park or school sites. In the past some trustees haven't liked this idea.

A second village ordinance covers the disposition of annexation fees, assessed at the rate of $325 an acre. These payments must be spent only for the improvement of water and sewer systems, according to a 1930 regulation.

WHEN OLMSTEAD'S letter was received, Finance Director J. Ward Wright was told to investigate. His report set the minds of both the trustees and the plan commission at ease. Wright said the $42,771 would never have gone to pay "housekeeping" bills because he "would have determined if there were any binding ties on the money before it had ever been transferred into the spendable general corporate fund." At any rate, the village will be able to squeeze through the year with money from other sorces without hurting, added Village Manager F. R. Buechner.

So the trustees will be able to pay all the bills and plan commission will have its land "for public use." (AF

Apartment Project

A builder will ask the Arlington Heights zoning board Monday to rezone a corner property to permit construction of a 50-unit apartment project at an estimated cost of $400,000.

A CHANGE from one-family to multiple-dwelling class B will be sought for 5 lots at the northwest corner of Salem ave. and Miner st. The lots have a frontage of 280 feet on Salem and 132 feet on Miner.

Owner Ludwig C. Marcy said 2 buildings, both with 2 stories and English basement, would have 25 apartments each. He said the apartment zoning would serve as a buffer between homes he is building to the west and the village-owned garage property on the east side of Salem.

Hearings are held in the village hall at 8 p.m.

A much-postponed hearing on rezoning of the 4-acre Meyer property at 104 S. Wilke rd. from residential to commercial will be resumed March 17. Also set for that date is a hearing on a request for a zoning variation to permit construction of 3 buildings, containing a total of 18 apartments, on an L-shaped parcel at Central and State rds. The tract is now limited to 10 apartment units and a proposal to erect a 32-unit building there was rejected by the village last year. (AF

Enhances Wholesome Family Living

Sex Education Is Vital For Pre-Teens: Principal

A sex education program at the junior high school level can enhance wholesome family living, an Arlington Heights school administrator told a group of fellow educators last week.

THE PURPOSES and methods of the program, now in its tenth year, were outlined for a panel audience attending the 42nd annual meeting of the National Association of Secondary School Principals' convention in Indianapolis last week. The NASSP is a department of the National Education association.

Sex education in the classroom fulfills "one of the really pressing needs of early adolescent children," noted Robert P. Campbell, Miner junior high school principal who addressed the group.

HE LISTED 4 specific objectives of the program. Sex education is designed to:

Provide students with accurate information about human reproduction;

Give students a vocabulary to enable them to talk about reproductive organs without abscene connotations;

Reinforce the instruction provided by parents in establishing desirable social attitudes toward sex; and

Provide an opportunity for students to discuss sex with the assistance of an adult who can provide the "facts."

BOYS AND GIRLS are separated for sex education classes, which are taught by girls' and boys' health instructors at Minerr and South junior high schools. From 4 to 6 class periods in both the sixth and eighth grades are devoted to sex instruction given as a portion of the health education program.

A film entitled "The Miracle of Reproduction" is shown to sixth graders and eighth graders see the film "Human Growth," produced by the University of Oregon.

Interested parents are invited to see the same films before the classroom showings. Also at the evening meeting, Dr. Franklin Fitch, a member of the staff of the Northwestern university medical school and prominent in the Illinois Social Hygiene league, explains the program to parents.

About 25 per cent of parents attend these sessions, reports Campbell.

THE LETTER of invitation to parents asks them to notify the school if they do not wish their child to see the film or to participate in the discussion which follows.

"In the 10 years we have had the program, we have had no such notification," observed the principal.

When sixth graders are introduced to sex, very few boys and perhaps one-quarter of the girls have reached puberty, according to Campbell. At this age, the students are mainly interested in factual information, teachers have found. When the information is repeated (with a different film) in the eighth grade, most of the girls and three-fourths of the boys have attained puberty and their interests have changed. Then they are concerned more with the social implications of sex, dating and the like, said the educator.

COMPARING the classroom program with the usual methods by which youngsters learn about sex, Campbell noted:

"Even with our more relaxed attitude toward discussions of sex today, children are continuing to get most of their information on sex from the smut of playground talk and from the 'big boys' in their neighborhood."

On the other hand, once teachers answer questions "simply, directly and honestly" and without any suggestion of amusement or shock at a question, "they (the pupils) become bored rather quickly . . ."

Valve Is Blamed For 'Steam Bath'

The M. C. Astley home, at 830 N. Princeton, was turned into a virtual steam bath last week.

The cause of it all was a faulty safety valve on a hot water heater.

Jack Benson, of the Arlington Heights fire department, said the pressure built up in the hot water tank, forcing the boiling water to back up into cold water pipes.

The heated water cracked the reservoir on the stool of a second floor bathroom and water spilled onto the floor.

When the fire department arrived, water was dripping from the ceiling of the kitchen below the bathroom and steam was roaring up from the basement.

Mrs. Astley, fortunately, had turned off the gas supply entering the house, which thus cut off the flame beneath the water heater.

That alone, said Fireman Benson, averted a possible explosion.

FIRE DEPARTMENT apparatus cleared the basement of steam, electricity was cut off and Mrs. Astley was assured she would soon be able to get cold water out of cold water faucets.

Fireman Benson praised Mrs. Astley for cutting the gas supply into her house.

"In cases like that, it also would be wise to open all jets and allow the gas in the lines to escape."

Damage to the plumbing was estimated at $200. (AF

Youngsters Share Birthday Honors with G. Washington

Among the local youngsters who had birthdays the past week were a few who shared the honor of the day with George Washington, and 2 of them hosted friends at theater parties.

Bonnie Barnett celebrated Washington's birthday and her own Saturday with a luncheon for a few friends in the home of her parents, the Mitchell Barnetts, 713 S. Evergreen. Miss Barnett, who was observing her eighth birthday, attended the local matinee with her guests after lunch.

For Charles Zehner and his guests Saturday afternoon it was the matinee first and then refreshments at the Zehner home, 20 S. Salem. Charles was 7 and with his guests, 11 school chums and neighbors, enjoyed the movie, "Old Yeller."

MR. AND MRS. Kenneth Auer, 740 S. Evergreen, honored their daughter, Sandra Linn, on her first birthday Tuesday with a family celebration. Among the guests were Sandra's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fleischhauer of Fontana, Wis., and her godparents and their son, Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Boman and Burton. Mr. and Mrs. Fleischhauer plan to visit here a few days with their daughter and her family. The Auers recently celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary with a weekend at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton.

It was Jimmy Taylor's first birthday Monday and if the birthday boy was a little sleepy at the family dinner Monday evening it was because he'd celebrated Sunday night too with relatives who dropped in to wish him happy birthday. Guests at the dinner party Monday in the home of his parents, the Merton Taylors, 439 S. Evergreen, were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Taylor of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Borchard, 729 N. Dunton, entertained with a buffet dinner for 24 last Tuesday evening to celebrated Mr. Borchard's birthday. Mr. Borchard's guests were fellow members of the art faculty of school district 65 of Evanston.

Mrs. Robert Gentile and Mrs. Mary Fugate were co-hostesses last Tuesday at a birthday celebration for Mrs. Minnie Granzin and Mrs. Gloria Daidone. Eight neighbors met at the Fairview home of Mrs. Gentile, formerly of N. Dunton to congratulate the birthday pair.

*(Author's Name Below)

Scientists first use their imagination to figure out what can be the possible causes of a disease. Then they research each theory until they are positive of their basic facts.

Next, the chemists create a formula, or sometimes even a new man-made chemical, that will accomplish the desired result.

After it has been clinically tested for safe use, the new discovery is sent to our prescription departments. Your physician prescribes it, we pharmacists compound it and another disease can be treated better than ever before.

TELLING ABOUT this open house, Mrs. John Thomson, who is in charge of training the retarded into useful activity, says:

"We believe that the public will be thrilled with the progress these youths are making, as evidenced by the beautiful assortment of wares for sale. We have ventured into new techniques to weave zephyr-light silk scarves and little gassamer-thin wool scarves to tuck into the neck of your spring suits. To complement these we have hand-woven bags in every size, shape, texture and color. In basketry, besides our popular standbys ,we have some unusual new styles to fit casseroles and pie plates.

"Moreover, you can have the fun of seeing for yourself how all these things are made. We're not putting on a special program; just carrying on in our Shelter Workshop and classes as we do every day. We think our demonstration of art in action very interesting and inspiring." (B-8

2 Governmental Leaders Seek Answer to Postal Jam

You've fought your way through a long line at a suburban post office and wondered:

"Will they ever do anything about this?"

Well, if 2 governmental leaders have their way, something will be done.

SEN. OLIN D. Johnson, chairman of the Senate committee on post office and civil service, reminds that the United States postal system was not designed to make money for the government. The system, created in 1775, was conceived as a service to the people, in contrast to the practice in other countries, where post offices were run as money makers for kings.

Second, Sen. Johnson points out, the money we pay for such purchases as stamps does not go to the post office.

Every cent the postal department receives goes into the general fund of the treasury. Every cent it spends comes from appropriations by Congress.

"WHEN REVENUES are less than Congressional appropriations, we have the familiar deficits," the Senator says.

"Few people realize, however, that every post office deficit is partly a 'phantom' deficit because it results from charging as costs a huge variety of operations which the post office carries on for other government agencies or in the interest of the nation's general welfare."

Sen. Johnson, in an article written for Reader's Digest, lists the many extra activities of the post office, its clerks and carriers, such as the selling of migratory bird hunting stamps, the registration of aliens, the distribution of millions of tax forms for the Internal Revenue Department, the surveys taken for the Federal Housing Administration and the assistance given Civil Service in spreading information about examination for government position.

Sen. Johnson lists many other activities that cause the post offices to show a "deficit," such as free mail for the blind and rates for books, pamphlets and other reading material.

To "clean up the mess," Sen. Johnson recommends a basic postal policy which defines precisely what costs are to be borne by mail users and what costs are to be borne by the government because they are public services.

THE OTHER VOICE heard in the clamor to improve post offices services is Postmaster Gen. Arthur E. Summerfield, himself.

He also wants the self-sustaining postal service.

But his views are concerned chiefly with the mechanics of the postal operation. He urges "next-day" delivery of mail between any 2 cities in the nation and a happy, properly-compensated employee force working under modern conditions.

Summerfield would make a "breakthrough" toward "modern mechanization" to improve the service as a whole.

Perhaps if Sen. Johnson can succeed in divorcing the extra costs, then Mr. Summerfield can score his "breakthrough."

Alert Watchdogs Sound Fire Alarm

Two German shepherds—Duke and King—proved alert watchdogs for Sylvia's lounge last Thursday.

Mrs. Sylvia King, operator of the tavern and package liquor store at Northwest hwy. and Wilke rd., told police she closed the tavern at midnight and retired to her apartment in another section of the building.

ABOUT 30 MINUTES later she and her husband were awakened by the dogs' frantic barking.

A hurried trip followed to the tavern where the dogs are kept nightly to discourage prowlers.

A fire was discovered, whisky bottles were popping and there was danger the blaze might spread to the cleaning establishment next door and to the King apartment above the cleaners.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT was summoned but the flames engulfed the entire lounge area before they were extinguished. The loss, said Mrs. King, was $18,000.

No cause cuuld be found for the fire but firemen speculated a defective heating register could have been the reason. (AF

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

The difference in price between today's prescriptions and those of 20 years ago can easily be figured. The difference is measured in dimes . . . sometimes even in dollars. But how can we measure the difference in results? Surely, no value can possibly be put on a life saved by a miracle drug that didn't exist 20 years ago!

Census Takers Ask 'Latecomers' Help

The Bureau of the Census has asked for the cooperation of persons who may have been missed in the latest Arlington Heights census completed this week.

A form to be filled out by persons who were not at home when enumerators called is printed in this week's Arlington Heights Herald.

John W. Camit, special census supervisor for the Chicago regional office of the census bureau, requested the forms be completed and mailed at once to "Census Supervisor, U.S. Bureau of the Census, Village Manager's Office, Village Hall, Arlington Heights, Ill."

THE FORMS WILL be forwarded to Washington, D.C. to be checked against names taken in the count.

For each additional name added to the list, the village will receive an additional sum of about $5 a year in state gas tax returns.

Camit suggested that persons who were not contacted ask neighbors if they gave census takers information, as enumerators in many cases took names of absent persons from near by residents. (A

Sex Offenders Need Treatment

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The time has come when at home, in school, and at church, children, both boys and girls, should be taught to beware of strangers.

When I was a kid in North Dakota, I seldom got to see anyone whom I didn't know, because everyone around me was a friend; people whom we worked with, traded with, had parties with — all known by their first names. But when a strange person did come into the area, I would not even go near him — or especially, her. It wasn't that I was afraid, or even embarrassed. Just cautious and on guard.

THAT IS THE way youngsters should be today — girls and boys alike — in the presence of people whom they do not know. And they should be especially wary of the individual man or woman who is seeking to do them a favor, or offers them money, or a ride, or candy — anything at all — in exchange for their company. They should stay out of reach, and keep moving.

On the other end of the problem, every possible means should be used to keep sex morons off the street. The present method of punishing the guilty offender and setting him free is not good. Any person found dangerously abnormal sexually should be arrested and sent to an institution equipped to handle such morons. If they do not show total recovery, they should be kept under lock and key until they do.

OF COURSE, in a population of more than 170,000,000 people such as the United States, there is bound to be lots of such morons in various stages of development, whom no one suspects. Many have a condition in which they may be normal over long periods of time, then become sexually activated to a point beyond their control, and under the pressure of this urge, go out to find relief.

But once such a person becomes a known offender, steps should be taken to cure him, or he should be kept under lock and key. It is the constant repetition of sex crimes by known offenders that is inexcusable. To turn such people loose on the public untreated is itself a crime. (B12

PLACING YOUR PICTURE in albums makes them easier to enjoy yourself and to share with others.

Make Your Own Picture Book

by FRED GAREISS

It's fun to make and keep an attractively planned picture album.

Pictures and paste pot—a dash of imagination and a bit of patience—and, of course, an album of some kind. That's all you'll need for this little project.

Your choice of album—its size or material—is a matter of personal preference. If you want to tackle the task of making the album itself, you can fashion good sturdy covers from cardboard, wood, leather, or heavy acetate sheets. For the individual pages cut art paper into sheets a little smaller than the covers — or, if you prefer, buy some ready-made album leaves of the proper size.

If you'd rather not start from scratch, however, you can find a whole assortment of suitable books in almost any stationery or department store. Some very professional-looking albums — similar to the kind used for wedding pictures — have transparent envelopes instead of plain pages to give the greatest possible protection to your favorite prints. And you might want to consider several of the smaller albums which are compact enough to be carried in pocket or purse — something that proud parents and grandparents might be interested in.

When it comes to mounting your pictures, don't depend on row-upon-row arrangements only. Try all kinds of layouts — and here don't hesitate to borrow ideas from the national picture magazines. Notice how their pages are given variety and interest by having enlargements contrast with smaller shots for extra eye-appeal. And note, too, how "special effects" are obtained by cutting some pictures into various shapes or putting several prints together to make a panoramic view.

A special word for those of you who are compiling vacation albums. Gather all the maps and travel folders you saved from your trips. Then sort them out to coincide with the various picture series you snapped. To add an extra fillip to your album, use the left-hand pages for these useful and colorful mementos—with the appropriate snapshots mounted opposite on the right-hand side.

Explosion, Fire Damages Des Plaines Shop Center

A shopping center at Algonquin rd. and Lee in Des Plaines was damaged by an explosion and fire Tuesday morning.

Des Plaines Fire Chief Raymond Kolze, who estimated damage at $100,000, said the blaze was preceded by a blast of undetermined origin in the rear of a National Tea co. store.

THE ROOF OF THE store collapsed but firemen prevented the flames from spreading to four other smaller shops in the same block. The Modern Mode Furniture store nearby was damaged by smoke and water.

Fire departments from Mt. Prospect, Niles and Park Ridge aided Des Plaines firemen as they fought the blaze for three hours. (B8

Mixed Chorus Sets Concerts March 3, 24

The newly-re-organized Town and Country mixed chorus, along with its new director, Mrs. Ervin Westfahl of Arlington Heights, is busy making plans for 2 monthly programs. The first to be held March 3 at the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, and the second March 24 at St. Paul House, Chicago.

Both programs this month will be held during the lenten season, so the music sung will be mainly religious. However, the group plans to use all types of music for future programs as they have in the past.

Mrs. Myron of Mt. Prospect, a newcomer to the chorus, is the accompanist. She was formerly a music teacher in Chicago. Other newcomers to the chorus, which number more than 15, are from Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine.

There are openings in all sections for singers who realize the importance of participation in music. Persons interested may come to rehearsals Monday evenings at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Harvey Hoffmann, 903 W. Isabella, Mt. Prospect, call Mrs. E. Westfahl, CLearbrook 3-9026, or Mrs. Rose Pfeiffer, Flanders 9-0891. All concerts are scheduled for Monday nights, the regular rehearsal night. (B-8

Sunday on TV

"How Christian Science Heals," will be heard on the regular Sunday television series at 9:45 a.m. over channel 7. Four young people will discuss how spiritual understanding of God can help and heal no matter what the problem may be. A graduate of Boston University and a freshman at Penn State describe healings of injuries suffered in accidents. Also on radio the program by the same name will be heard at 9:15 a.m. over station WNMP.

A man from Canada tells how spiritual understanding of God's power helped him to overcome the anxieties and fears which trouble so many parents.

Czechoslovakia Is Travel Bargain for U.S. Tourist

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Czechoslovakia has now opened its borders to visitors. Just about anybody is permitted to enter and see the wonders of communism in action. There is, however, a price to pay.

For every day that a tourist wishes to remain in Czechoslovakia, it is compulsory to spend a minimum of 5 dollars. This is the amount of money that the Czech State believes it is worth for letting foreigners "take a look."

THIS 5-DOLLAR DAILY fee pays for the visitor's hotel and 3 meals. It must be paid in advance, even before entering the country. Otherwise, no visa will be issued to the ordinary tourist.

Five dollars for a hotel room and 3 meals is surprisingly cheap. The quality of the service for this 5 dollars is quite good. The Government has set aside their very best hotels to accommodate the tourists, and include in their restaurant menus dishes that are somewhat extravagant. It is certain that for one's 5 dollars, the treatment the tourist gets makes him feel like visiting royalty in a Western land.

There is, also a kind of deluxe-deluxe pension plan that the Czech State offers visitors. Figuring that some of the tourists might be millionaires, a 12-dollar a day scheme has been established. This entitles the visitor to a caviar-champagne type treatment, living in hotel suites that are used by heads-of-states and such people. In these rooms the rugs are of double thickness and the servants enter by crawling, not walking.

CEDOK, THE AGENCY of the Czech Government which handles tourists' comforts, has been assigned the task of drawing dollars into the State treasury. To accomplish this effectively, Cedok is really offering Americans much more for their money than these same tourists can find elsewhere. The need for foreign currency is so great that the Czechs are prepared to pay dearly in goods and services.

So that there is no doubt in the visitors' minds about what they are getting at all times, small indications constantly pop up. A good example can be seen in the menus of all the best hotels. Not only do they list the various meats and fishes, but in small numbers list the actual weight of the fish or meat of each plate that one may choose. Nothing is left to the doubt or speculation of the guest.

PART OF THE PLAN of encouraging tourism is the "feeling of security" extended to visitors. Police are extremely polite, border guards salute, and so forth. We promise not to throw anybody into jail, they are trying to say, because we want your business.

'You Can Count On Her'

by Betty Thackery — CLearbrook 3-1916

Girl Scout news is gathered and presented for publication by Mrs. T. W. Thackery, CL. 3-1916. All news should be telephoned to her before 4 p.m. Monday.

THINKING DAY

In scouting February is known as International Month. It has many important dates: February 12 is Lincoln's birthday, February 14 is Valentine's day, February 22 is Washington's birthday. February 22 is also the birthday of Lord and Lady Baden Powell, who founded scouting in England in 1908. February 22 is also known as "Thinking Day" when each girl scout thinks of her sister scouts all over the world.

Juliette Low was one of the first Internationalists. The idea of friendship among all nations was one of her great enthusiasms and she spread the warmth of her own personality as she traveled all over the world.

TODAY PEOPLE OF all nations are working to achieve universal friendship and understanding. Girl Scouts of the United States try to keep Juliette Low's work immortal with offerings to the "Juliette Low World Friendship Fund" established after her death in 1927 for the promotion of girl scouting and girl guides throughout the world as a contribution toward world peace. As Juliette Low, the woman of world vision, was counted on in her day, so today we say of each girl scout "You can count on her"

Arlington Heights

Regular monthly meeting of the south Arlington Heights girl scout leaders was held February 19 in Pioneer Park field house. Mrs. Ray MacDonald, neighborhood chairman, announced the new training schedules.

A large group of leaders will be taking the basic outdoor course which will qualify them to take their scouts on cookouts. Several leaders have signed up for the camp licensing course after which they will be allowed to supervise overnight trips to Camp Pine. Both courses will be held the last of April.

Three potential leaders for the new troops to be formed in Elk Grove attended the meeting. They were Mrs. N. Cash, Mrs. R. Doers and Mrs. P. Lockard.

Patterns for the trefoil were distributed to leaders. Trefoils will be displayed in the homes of all brownies, scouts and leaders during Girl Scout week, March 9-15.

It was further announced that Girl Scout Sunday will be March 9.

Troop News

Members of troop 115 received second class badges February 20. They were: Laurie Burrows, Becky Daeschner, Kathy Hoban, Sally Heddesheimer, Claudia Johnson, Carole Genn, Enola Gustafson, Toni Machin, Carol Miller, Karen Mache, Marianna McAuliffe, Susan Redeker, Peggy Scheck, Diane Skamfer, Nanеen Shannon, Barbara Tully, Anne Zerrien and Susan Merritt. The troop is under the leadership of Mrs. Ronald Scheck.

SCOUTS OF troop 564, under the leadership of Mrs. Orville Anderson and Mrs. Ed Johnson, are working on second class badges. To fulfill the requirements of the international field, the girls honored as their guest, Olga D'Jus. Olga is 11 years old and has been living in this country for 2 years at the Magnus Farm. Prior to that, she and her family lived in the northern part of France. She spoke to the girls on scouting in her native land.

Mothers and troop committee members were invited guests at the meeting. A surprise was in store for the troop committee when the scouts presented them with miniature scout pins in recognition of their services to the troop.

TROOP 281, UNDER the direction of Mrs. Raymond Sklencar enjoyed a field trip February 13. Their first stop was at the Arlington rest home where they left favors of candy for valentine trays. Then they traveled to the Avon Cosmetic Co. where they toured the plant and learned how cosmetics are made and packaged. After lunch the girls went shopping in the girl scout department of Speigler's department store and their last stop was at the girl scout office in Des Plaines. (B8

Palatine

Sunday afternoon, March 9, Girl Scouts of the north Palatine neighborhood will entertain their fathers at a square dance to be held in Paddock school gym. Donald D. Finfrock, 311 N. Hale, a professional caller, will call the dance and Mrs. Finfrock will assist in teaching the routines.

This is the third annual father-daughter square dance sponsored by the north neighborhood Girl Scouts troops and this year it will take place on Girl Scout Sunday. Girl Scout week will be observed March 9 through March 15 in recognition of the founding of Girl Scouts March 12 in Savannah, Ga.

Mt. Prospect

Mt. Prospect troop 101, under the leadership of Mrs. Shirley Ward and Mrs. Mildred Ottinger, had a tea Sunday, Feb. 16, at which Gail Smith, Judy Lips, Judy Maitland and Linda Hackbarth, mariner scouts from Arlington Heights, gave talks and showed slides of a camping trip they took to Canada.

Tea, punch and cookies were served. (B8

Wheeling Home Is Burglarized

A Wheeling man estimated loss in his burglarized home at $1,290 and said the toll would have been much higher had he not come home early.

Louis A. Luempert, 1852 Buffalo Grove rd., Wheeling, told Cook county deputies that when he came home from church last Thursday night he surprised a burglar who ran north toward Palatine rd.

When Luempert entered his home he found he had stopped the thief from taking the family television set which was in the middle of the living room. However, the burglar had taken a mink stole and mink scarf, a 12 gauge shotgun, $75 in cash, and 2 wrist watches and 1 pocket watch.

Luempert noted that the burglary occurred within a week after he had disposed of the family watch dog.

The next night the theft of a generator valued at $800 was taken from the Healy Bros. construction project on the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago interceptor sewer at Busse and Dempster rds.

'Americans, Keep

"We've got to live with what we've made," exhorted Mark A. McCloskey, chairman of the New York State Youth commission, when speaking before the combined PTAs at the February general meeting.

"It's a great adventure we've undertaken," he went on to say. "No country has embarked on as large an undertaking in education as we in America."

In developing the question, "Why have we spilled such an ocean of ink on education?", he pointed out that wealth, power and productivity have given Americans the basic philosophy that everyone within our society can and should have his abilities exploited and his potential developed.

TOUCHING ON the explosive subject of delinquency, McCloskey said that it must be openly admitted that some children are not "put together well." If the parents are negligent, the school mediocre, and the neighborhood bad, then chances are that a child will tend toward delinquency. His main suggestion for improvement was the use of enough money, care and concern to get delinquent children "back into the stream" rather than push them into a dead end street.

About 400 parents and teachers packed the South Junior high school gymnasium to hear this charming Irishman on the subject "The World of Our Youth." After being grounded in New York City and then spending 24 hours on a blizzard-plagued train, he exhibited such a remarkable degree of exuberance and enthusiasm that his visit here will long be remembered.

THE MEETING began with posting of the colors by PTA-sponsored Boy Scout troop 57. Rev. Edgar H. Behrens gave the invocation. After a summary of the work of the standing committees by PTA President Mrs. Robert Schultheis, the following slate of officers for 1958-59 was presented and unanimously elected: President, Mrs. Robert Schultheis; first vice-president, Mrs. William Franck; second vice president, Mrs. Robert Wallace; secretary, Mrs. Wayne Faust; treasurer, George Harris.

In commemoration of the 61st anniversary of Founder's day, a clever reading was given by Robert Tindall with background music by the combined PTA men and women's chorus. Credit for the original script goes to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ploetz.

Double Opportunity

Proceeds from the PTA Book Fairs will be made available to buy new books for each of the 7 school libraries. In addition, parents will have an opportunity to add to their home library shelves.

Remember the dates: March 15 at South Junior high and March 22 at Miner school. Time: 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

TV TUNE-UP

When you service your automobile consistently, you get longer and more reliable use from it. In the long run, it costs less and you have enjoyed it more.

Statistics on TV sets from several electronic organizations bear this same idea about television usage. Sets that are maintained properly, outlast many times a set that has not been properly serviced. Just replacing a worn out part would be like replacing a tire on your car without being sure that the wheel was in balance or out of alignment. Your TV set should be readjusted with every service even if the maintenance might only be minor. Sometimes we find that another cause for the actual trouble.

At LANDWEHR TV we do the complete maintenance job. Your set is tuned for the most efficient function thereby giving you better and longer life. Phone CL 5-0700 for your next service call.

Dr. S. P. Mulley, Arlington Heights optometrist, collected the two dozen glasses during his 44 years of practice in Chicago and Arlington Heights.

ONE IS A LORGNETTE, worn 40 years ago. Another is a pair of glasses worn many years by a man who finally gave them up for new ones at the age of 60. The collection includes many of the odd-shaped lenses used in past years.

Dr. Mulley, who lives at 308 S. Mitchell, was born in London, England. He came to Chicago in 1914 and began practice at the old Spalding Jewelers in Chicago. Their offices were at Michigan ave. and Van Buren. (A

'Better Service' Is Aim Of Arlington Phone Office

The big telephone news in Arlington Heights during 1957 was the dedication and completion of the new revenue accounting office.

On May 7, a cornerstone ceremony was held and in July the building was completed.

OTHER NEWS highlights of the year were:

. . . In January Tom Miller of Arlington Heights plant department was honored here for saving the life of a 10-year-old girl. At a luncheon attended by telephone people and local civic and business leaders he was given the Theodore N. Vail award citation, one of the highest honors a telephone employee can receive.

. . . In November additional cable was added to provide long distance service between Arlington Heights and Wheeling. More than 23,000 duct feet of conduit was placed in nearly 4,000 feet of trench. Thousands of miles of wire are now being threaded through this and the job will be completed late this winter.

ROBERT E. Kozeliski, Illinois Bell manager here, said, "We had a busy year in 1957 providing the best possible telephone service."

Dorothy O'Malley, chief operator, reports her operators completed a record 2,500,000 calls during the past 12 months. The average Arlington Heights telephone was used to make 390 calls during the year.

Wire Chief D. W. Wagoner's group installed telephones, removed telephones and moved them from one location to another.

By year end total telephones in service hit a new high of 24,442, a jump of about 4,000 over a year ago.

"ALL OUR WORK during the year has been with the view of offering more and better telephone service," Kozeliski said.

In conducting its 1957 operations, Illinois Bell spent $3,148,186 in Arlington Heights. Wages of $2,883,157 accounted for the largest portion of this total.

By year end, Illinois Bell had 385 employees in Arlington Heights. (A

GEORGE HARRIS

These past few days certainly give one that "old feeling." Spring has been in the air and it sure does feel good. If you're been feeling a little sluggish lately, now is the time to see your favorite doctor for a check-up.

Actually, there is nothing quite so wonderful as feeling "fit as a fiddle." There will be a lot of things you'll want to do as soon as spring arrives, so don't let bad health rob you of those pleasures. When I was a kid, this weather was commonly called "sulphur & molasses" days. That prescription has been replaced by wonderful health-giving vitamins, so be sure that you have ample supply.

If your doctor gives you a prescription to be filled, be sure you have it compounded at Harris Pharmacy, where the finest ingredients are used and the pharmacists are all "tops" in their profession. Yours for health and laughter . . .

The meaning for today of Christ Jesus' healing mission will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, March 2.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" is the Golden Text from John (18:37): "To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth."
Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (131: 26-29): "The mission of Jesus confirmed phophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood."

WHO ARE THE DISCIPLES OF CHRIST?
They are an American born communion which has gathered two million people in 125 years. They stress new testament Christianity practiced in democratic churches. They advocate Christian unity, and cooperate with church federations, city, state, national and world-wide. They gave over 73 million dollars to local churches and missions last year. They have doubled membership in sixty years. Their greatest area of strength is the middle west. They have 35 colleges, 15 homes for children and the aged, and 245 foreign missionaries. The Arlington Heights Christian church cooperates with these brotherhood projects, and with cooperative Protestantism.

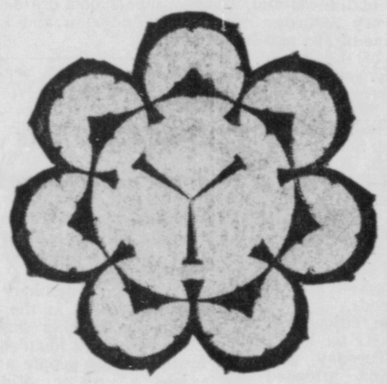
These Lutheran Churches Call You to Lenten Worship



"BEHOLD THE LAMB OF GOD!" JOHN 1:29

In this Holy Season of Lent our hearts and minds are drawn in a special way to the wonderful facts of our salvation.

John the Baptist was the forerunner of Jesus. He was chosen of God to bear witness to Christ. He was to prepare the way for the coming of the Messiah, the Promised One. When he saw Jesus, he declared, "Behold, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world!"

Just before He began His public ministry, Jesus went to the Jordan River where John was baptized. Here He was declared to be that Lamb of sacrifice Whose blood would be shed on the Cross of Calvary for the payment of the sins of the whole world.

"Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." In these words John the Baptist summed up all the Old Testament teachings and prophecies concerning Christ. The centuries had been filled with the sacrifices of lambs without spot and without blemish. They were merely types or symbols of the sacrifice of the only-begotten Son of God. But He was the perfect sacrifice "as of a lamb without blemish and without spot." 1 Peter 1:19. "He did not sin, neither was guile found in His mouth." By His holy innocence and His full and complete suffering and death our Savior, Jesus Christ, satisfied the righteous anger of God over against a sinful world.

And God the Father hath accepted the sacrifice of His Son for the reconciliation of the world. When John said, "Behold the Lamb of God," the Father said, "This is My beloved Son in Whom I am well pleased." And "Him God raised up from the dead, and gave Him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God." 1 Peter 1:21.

Nine Suburban Nurses in Class

Nine members of Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect Nurse clubs recently completed a Red Cross first aid instructor course at the Arlington Heights Recreational park field house.

The free 25 hour course provided training in all phases of first aid, including new techniques contained in the revised Red Cross textbook. Completion of the course qualifies the nurses to conduct Red Cross standard and advanced first aid classes. The Chicago chapter Red Cross conducted 802 of these classes, certifying 23,153 persons in first aid, during the past year.

Palatine Cook Shares Her Delicious Dessert Recipes

by LOIS SEILER

Two delicious dessert recipes, one for the family and one for guests, have been shared with us this week by Mrs. Charles H. Currey of Palatine.

Cherry desserts are popular during the month of February, and Mrs. Currey's favorite family-type recipe is for an appealing cherry cobbler.

SIMPLE TO PREPARE, the batter for this cobbler is quickly mixed by hand. A cherry filling is cooked and poured over the batter. During the baking process the cherries sink to the bottom of the light-textured dough.

It is best served warm, with the juice spooned over the cobbler, and is good with ice cream, whipped cream or Half and Half.

This is a wonderful family dessert as it can be prepared on the spur of the moment and is so tasty.

For a company dessert, friends have most frequently commented about Mrs. Currey's elegant chocolate cake.

IN ADDITION to other ingredients, this excellent recipe contains sour cream and three eggs, the whites of which are folded in. These two features contribute to the cake's light texture. It is moist, too, and will stay that way for several days, although you'll find, like Mrs. Currey, that it usually doesn't last that long.

This flavorful cake can be iced with a chocolate frosting or white icing. Mrs. Currey's family prefers the chocolate frosting which is fudge-like in texture.

The Curreys live at 248 N. Schiller in Palatine. They have 3 children: Susan, 14, Chuck, 13, and Richard, 5 months.

Mrs. Currey is a member of the PTA and the Palatine Book Review club.

Cherry Cobbler

½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon butter
½ cup milk
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
Pinch of salt

Mix ingredients in order listed. Pour batter into a greased pan, 8 by 8 by 2 inches.

For the filling, combine:
1 can red sour cherries
1 cup sugar
½ cup water

Bring mixture to a boil. Pour over batter in pan and bake until done, about 30 minutes in 400 degree oven.

Spoon out of pan into sauce dishes, spoon juice over the cobbler and serve with ice cream, whipped cream or Half and Half.

Serves 6 generously.

Chocolate Cake

2 squares chocolate
½ cup water
½ cup butter
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup sour cream
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt

Cook chocolate and water in saucepan over low heat until a smooth paste is formed. Set aside to cool.

Cream butter and sugar. Beat in egg yolks one at a time. Add chocolate mixture and stir until blended.

Stir soda into sour cream and add to butter mixture in three parts alternately with thirds of flour and salt which have been sifted together.

Whip egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold lightly into cake batter.

Bake in two greased, 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 25 minutes.

Chocolate Frosting

3 squares chocolate
¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup butter
¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups confectioner's sugar
1 egg yolk, unbeaten
¾ teaspoon vanilla

Combine chocolate, brown sugar, butter, water and salt in saucepan. Stir over medium heat until blended and slightly thick, stirring occasionally. Cool five minutes.

Add confectioner's sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. (If not of spreading consistency, add more sugar.) Add egg yolk and vanilla; beat well.

White Icing

1 cup sugar
⅓ cup water
7 marshmallows, cup up
2 egg whites
1/8 teaspoon salt

Boil sugar and water until mixture forms a thread. Remove from heat and add marshmallows.

Beat egg whites and salt until stiff but not dry. Add syrup in a thin stream. Whip constantly until icing becomes creamy and of the right consistency to spread.

Creamy Corn Chowder

A creamy corn chowder gets a winter's meal off to a cheerful start. As a matter of fact, it's hearty enough for the main course if you make plenty for seconds and serve it with biscuits and a crisp green salad.

Using pantry shelf staples such as evaporated milk and canned corn, you can make this excellent chowder at a moment's notice any day this winter. The evaporated milk, creamy, economical and full of good nutrition, simplifies the recipe and gives the chowder extra body. Serve the chowder steaming hot in individual bowls or bring it to the table in the traditional tureen.

Corn and Bacon Chowder

6 slices bacon, diced
¾ cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon flour
¼ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
1 tall can (1 2/3 cups) evaporated milk
1 can (1 lb.) cream-style corn

Cook bacon, celery and onion in large saucepan until bacon is crisp. Blend in flour, celery salt and salt. Add water, mixing until smooth; then add evaporated milk and corn. Mix until well blended; heat to serving temperature.

YIELD: 6 servings.

Use Cheese In Menus For Lent

Cheese, cheese and more cheese is your key to power-packed and flavorful meals during the Lenten season.

The convenience and versatility of cheese cannot be overestimated. Besides being a snack-time favorite, cheese is "something to build meals around." Any dish with much cheese in it belongs in the main-dish category.

CHEESE LIKE meat, eggs and fish, has satisfying flavor and staying power, according to Mrs. Dorothy McIvor, University of Illinois foods specialist. Two ounces of American Cheddar will supply the same amount of protein as 2 ounces of lean cooked meat.

The variety of cheeses and uses for them is seemingly endless. If you are undecided about what kind to buy or how to use it, you can get a "road map" of cheeses and their uses free from the University of Illinois. It's called Cheeseway Boulevard. Get your copy by writing to 330 Mumford Hall, Urbana, Ill. (SH

Chicken Stars In 1-Dish Meals

"Wonderful easy" are one dish meals. Complete main courses which can be prepared in a single pan or skillet are a boon to busy homemakers.

Let chicken parts (thighs, breasts, drumsticks, or wings) star in your skillet meals. Start with a freezer well stocked with these frozen chicken parts. You'll turn out dishes that will win the approval of both your family and dinner guests.

The tempting recipes given below feature chicken and vegetables cooked together slowly, over low heat, for a rich blending of flavors and colorful eating.

Make a crisp tossed salad; dessert . . . pudding made from instant mix topped with canned crushed pineapple.

Kitchen Storage Must Be Adequate

No matter how much storage space you may have, you should use it efficiently to give you more room, says Virginia Guthrie, economist at the University of Illinois. Storage area in the kitchen is often not adequate to meet family needs.

Miss Guthrie suggests that a good rule is to use the most accessible storage for items used frequently. For example, items used in home preservation should not be robbing you of space for those you need daily. The ones used only periodically can be stored in a box either in the attic or basement until they are needed.

FOR BETTER organization, stack such items as sauce dishes, plates and saucers. Hang cups on hooks in the cabinets. Also, small metal shelves in the cabinets will give you more shelf room. Use them for small items like glasses or cups if they can't be hung on hooks.

Peg boards help to improve inadequate storage. Hang pans, measuring utensils, and cooking tools on the board. They will then be easy to reach and they won't take up limited space.

Family Service Holds Tea in New Quarters

Groups representing organizations in Chicago and suburbs attended an open house Wednesday at the new offices of the Northwest Family Service Association in Mt. Prospect.

In attendance were counselors from educational systems, doctors, ministers and professional men. Representatives from the United Charities, Travelers Aid, American Red Cross, Salvation Army and the Cook County Department of Welfare also attended.

JOAN DUFFY, school social worker from Palatine, and Mrs. Hiram Whitcome of Palatine, case committee chairman, acted as hostesses.

Gerald Chapman of Arlington Heights and the Rev. E. Stevens of the South church in Mt. Prospect were present.

THE NEED for family service in the area was described by Mrs. George Nicklaus, executive director of the association. Many referrals have been made to the association by schools, ministers and other social agencies. Mrs. Nicklaus said many people have visited the office without referral.

The association's office, which is open to all welfare cases, is located at 214 S. Emerson st. (B8

ENJOYING REFRESHMENTS at Northwest Family Service's tea were Gerald M. Chapman, association board president; Mrs. Edward Carlisle, wife of Arlington Heights village president; and Mrs. Robert Savage.

DISCUSSING NEEDS for family service in northwest suburbs at last week's professional tea were Mrs. H. C. Whitcomb of Palatine chapter, Family Service; Mrs. Pauline Banister of Red Cross home service; and Robert Paulson of Cumberland school.

NORTHWEST FAMILY SERVICE association's projected program for northwest suburbs is explained by Mrs. Mary Nicklaus, executive director (seated), to Rosalie Farwell of Evanston hospital; Mrs. Mitchel Dawson of Glencoe Family Service; and June Teason of Illinois Children's home.

DISCUSSING SUBURBAN problems at Northwest Family Service's professional tea last week were Margot Atkin and Marion Emory of United Charities, John Mauff of Family Service of America's midwest office, and J. Aldene Ecker of Fox Valley Mental Health association.

Post Office Seeking Bids

Garage and service station operators are invited to submit bids for the servicing and maintenance of federally-owned vehicles used by the Arlington Heights post office.

Bids will be received until 2 p.m. Monday and bidding forms may be obtained at the post office. (B8

Victor Herbert Operetta 'On Stage' March 7 to 9

Tuneful melodies and lively dialogue, featuring love and laughter, will be threaded through the whole tissue of the "Red Mill," Victor Herbert operetta to be presented by Music on Stage, March 7-9.

"TINA, STOP!" cries Willem to his stage-struck daughter. But Betty Randolph, as the barmaid in Victor Herbert's Red Mill," pays no more attention than the "Rude walls" she is addressing. Jack Wassmer gives up and holds his ears in this scene from the Music-on-Stage production set March 7 to 9 in Arlington high school Little Theatre.

CAST WHO WILL display their talents in this vehicle are suburban and Chicago residents.

A Palatine tenor, Dick Alexander, and a soprano from Mundelein, Jean Hobbs, will provide the love interest of the plot, contrasting with A. Robert Topel, Schiller Park, and Robert Parsons, Carpentersville, a pair, "Con" and "Kid," who never cease their humorous antics. Two more Palatine residents, George Palmer as the Burgomaster, and Jack Wassmer, as the Innkeeper, keep up the high comedy pace whenever they are on stage.

Mrs. Hobbs and Palmer will be new to Music-on-Stage audiences. The former studied voice under Robert Speaker of the American Observatory of Music and with Rosa Raisa, former opera star, and holds a teacher's certificate from Alvernia Conservatory of Music.

PALMER, A GRADUATE of Arlington high school, has lived in Palatine for 8 years. He is soloist in choir of Palatine First Methodist church.

Alexander, a resident of Palatine since last March, was president of Music on Stage in 1957. He had part of Count Sigismund in "Waltz Dream," 1956 Prospect Heights Community benefit. He studied voice at Metropolitan School of Music and Midwestern Conservatory of Music.

Topel scored a hit as Major General in Music on Stage's first production, "Pirates of Penzance," last year. He holds a master's degree in music from Northwestern university, directs a church choir and teaches piano.

BETTER KNOWN in this area, perhaps, as principal of Wilson elementary school, Parsons, too, has been seen by the community operetta fans. He was one of the Nanki-Poos in Prospect Heights benefit, "Mikado" and Captain in the "Pinafore." This is his first for Music on Stage.

Jack Wassmer, this year's president of the group, was Samuel in "Pirates of Penzance" and also a cast member in "Waltz Dream."

Performances this year will be Friday night 8:15, Saturday, 8:15 p.m., and Sunday matinee, 2:30, at Little Theatre of Arlington high school. (B8

Along The Camp Fire Trail

Campfire Training Course

Three sessions remain in the Camp Fire training program being conducted by the Chicago Area Council of Camp Fire Girls at Pioneer Park field house. The course, open to all leaders, coleaders, sponsors and interested mothers of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine and outlying communities, will have its fifth and sixth sessions from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. March 4 with the final session from 9 a.m. to noon March 7.

Previous sessions February 24 and 26 were well attended and missed sessions can be made up at a later date in order to qualify for a training certificate.

Ceremonials and Rank Requirement Activities

Camp Fire Girls, received her trail seeker certificate, rank beads and honor beads at the February 17 group council fire, conducted by Mrs. Owen F. Oliveson, guardian of the Arlington Heights group.

As partial fulfillment of one of the requirements for Woodgather's rank, girls from the Elutapitkins, Okonta and Tawanka Camp Fire groups toured Busse Flowers in Mt. Prospect February 18. The girls were shown how to start marigold seeds in flats and individual pots.

After Mr. Busse took them through the greenhouse and explained how various plants and flowers are cared for, each girl had the opportunity to start her own marigold plants. These seedlings will be tendered until they can be thinned and re-planted. Hoping for flowering maturity by May day, the plants will be distributed to shut-ins, a childrens home, a hospital and other agencies.

Blue Bird First Grader Parties

First grader parties are in full swing, with hostessing Blue Birds just as anxious over the prospect of entertaining would-be Blue Birds as the first graders are in being entertained. Park school youngsters were guests of the Merry Blue Birds at Pioneer Park field house February 24 and Indian Princess Blue Birds carried out their party plans for first grade girls at Faith Lutheran church February 25.

Other February 25 parties took place at Westgate, North and Forest View schools with the Bonny Blues, Minnetonka and Forest View Blue Bird groups as hostesses. Remaining first grader parties, taking place on March 3, 6 and 13, will be held at Dryden, North, Ridge and Miner schools and are being planned by the Busy Bees, Blue Belles, Little Fawns and Fireflies Blue Bird groups.

Group organization chairman, Mrs. Myron Masny, reports that school chairmen Mesdames Robert Ayres, Walter Christopherson, Raymond Gustafson, Carl Hilton, Edmund Mears and Glenn Rubenking have been a great help to her in arranging the many parties. Mrs. Ayres and Mrs. Gustafson were responsible for the sending of invitations with the help of Mesdames Harold Housekeeper, Raymond Nitch, George Owens, Kenneth Peterson and Donald Vogel.

Camp Fire and Blue Bird news from Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Palatine, is submitted for publication by Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg, CLearbrook 3-7017. News should be phoned to Mrs. Schomburg before 1 p.m. Mondays. (B8

'58 Easter Seal Drive to Begin

The 1958 Easter Seal appeal in behalf of crippled children and adults will open March 6 and continue through Easter Sunday, April 6, it was announced by Howard L. Willett Jr., president of the Chicago Metropolitan Unit, Illinois Association for the Crippled.

"Easter Seals will be sent to 1,100,000 homes in the Chicago area in 1958, signaling the start of the most extensive and, we hope, the most successful Easter Seal appeal in our history," said Willett.

WILLETT EXPLAINED that Easter Seals will be mailed to Chicago area residents March 7. The 1958 sheet will include 2 seals of 2 sizes and designs, plus a 3"x8" sticker for contributors to display in their windows. The sticker repeats the campaign billboard and poster picture of a little crippled girl longing to discard her crutches and put on a roller skate like other children.

The seals will be enclosed with a letter appealing for contributions.

A goal of $200,000 has been set to maintain and expand services to the crippled in the Chicago area, Willett said. Approximately 90 per cent of the funds raised during the campaign finances services for crippled children and adults in the immediate Chicago area. The remainder helps support the national Easter Seal program of research, education and information services.

IN THE CHICAGO area, direct services include 2 training centers where crippled children receive physical, occupational and speech therapy; 2 summer day camps; at-home therapy for crippled persons; employment for homebound adults, and an orthopedic loan pool. Services are provided regardless of race, religion, or cause of crippling.

Last year, 2,820 crippled persons in the Chicago area were served by Easter Seals. Willett said that service will be extended this year if sufficient funds are raised. (B12

WESTGATE PARK & SHOP ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Round 'n About Westgate

An interesting meeting and enjoyable social hour was enjoyed by members who made the effort to appear at Pioneer park last Wednesday night. Newly elected president, John Vork presided and introduced the new board. Members present had an opportunity to sign up for duty with the committee of their choice. A general invitation is extended to members to serve on the various committees. Jim Blocki announced that the Westgate Newsletter will be published monthly, so contact him with any pertinent information.

JEAN ANN COLLINS, 11, daughter of Jean and Ray Collins, 1604 Fremont, celebrated her recent birthday in a unique manner. Professional callers brought their equipment to the Collins' basement and an evening of square dancing was enjoyed by 22 young ladies, neighborhood friends and girls from Jean's fifth grade class at Park school.

Joseph Henry Mongrain arrived February 17 in St. Francis hospital and weighed 7 pounds 13 ounces. He is now at home with his happy parents, Jean and Bob Mongrain, 1504 St. James, and sister, Annette, and brother, Bobby. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mongrain and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zweisel of Marquette, Mich.

THE DITTMEYER family of 113 Wilke will shortly be lost to Westgate and neighbors last week surprised Christine when they arrived en masse, bearing cakes and coffee as well as gifts of a nylon blouse and summer straw bag. Present were Mary Keslinke, Elva Raimery, Jo Norton, Betty Lang, Jerry Martinell, Theresa Daniels, Dolores Pergande, Evelyn Althen, Rosalyn McCracken and Marge Potter.

Two local couples attended a box supper and casino party at Recreation park in Des Plaines on the occasion of their sorority's "husband night." They are Louise and Ken Smith and Arlene and Marvin Verbeck.

The 1958 membership drive is in full swing and officers are aiming for 100 per cent participation. Jim Blocki is responsible for this year's excellent first issue of Westgate News, which lists the new district directors and the territory they cover. Residents who have not as yet been contacted, please forward checks to the district man or to membership chairman Barney Callahan, 1510 Fremont.

TWO LOCAL families returned recently from several weeks in Florida and sagging temperatures notwithstanding, claim it a wonderful respite from sub-zero days. Rose Johnson and son, Keith, 1410 Fremont, enjoyed a lengthy stay in Miami and Fort Myers Beach, joined later by husband, Frank, and daughters, Karen and Linda.

A combination of motor and plane travel took the Cerwin family, 219 Yale, to the warmer climes of Miami and Delray. Nan and daughters, Ann and Mary Lea, traveled with husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cerwin of Chicago. Len joined them later and escorted home part of his family.

LUNCH AND A trip to Des Plaines to see "Old Yeller" was an occasion for celebrating the ninth birthday of Laura Baranowski, daughter of Estelle and Chuck Baranowski, 239 Yale. Guests were Debbie Hoppe, Dana Martinson, Lynanne Fouty, Carol Herda, Pam Potter, Marilyn McCracken and Sheryl Thurek.

Friends from all over town joined in a surprise birthday luncheon for Elaine Hoppe, 319 Wilke. Hostess for this event at her home in Sherwood was Mrs. Vera Smith.

Another birthday "gal" was feted at a luncheon given by Bernice Callahan for friends and neighbors. Guest of honor was Barbara McDonald, 1601 Fremont.

Completely surprised and thrilled was Casey Minaglia, 1712 Fremont, when Betty Timson and Molly Gillis hosted at a miscellaneous baby shower. Gifts were presented by Ruth Sulander, Catherine Schommer, Emma Langhorst, Anna May Dziki, Jean Collins, Vicky Benson and Mary McClanahan.

Westgate teenagers were well represented at the Junior High's eighth grade Cotillion at Recreation park. Dance enthusiasts included Leslie Hoppe, Bruce Nicol, Dennis Wood, Carol Paulson, Helene Mell and Penny Fink.

Second place winners in a dance contest were Penny Fink and Bruce Nicol.

THE CHILDREN in the Blix family, 15 Reuter, have had an overdose of wintertime illness this year. Nine-month-old Beverly is home recuperating after a session in the hospital. Mother is full time nurse to her and a 2 year-old brother, also ill. The warm summer sun will be welcome to this family.

Guests with Elinor and Howard Huff for an evening of pinochle Saturday night were Estelle and Chuck Baranowski, Elaine and Dick Hoppe and Eleanor and Bud DeZonna.

An evening of bridge with Louise and Ken Smith was enjoyed by Dorothy and Herb Stokes, Lillian and Walter Kreuger and Norma and Bill Thomas.

Ten guests joined Jackie and George Rudolphy for a buffet supper Saturday night. Present were son, Chuckie's recently married godfather, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gotzes of Chicago and their bridal party. (A

County Willing To Widen Central

(CNS) — Cook county highway department is willing to widen Central rd. into a 4-lane highway from State road to Northwest hwy.

All that remains to be done is for Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect to acquire the necessary right-of-way, Hugo Stark, chief engineer of the county roads, said Monday.

The county has yet to hear from the 2 villages since the widening program was approved by County Highway Superintendent William J. Mortimer recently, Stark said.

Officials of the 2 villages campaigned for the widening project after the county programmed widening the 2-lane road by only 4 feet. The villages passed resolutions last year calling for 4 lanes.

"WE'RE WAITING to hear from Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights to clarify the right-of-way situation," Stark said. He added that the understanding was reached at a meeting of officials of the county and the villages that the villages will help acquire the right-of-way and participate in the cost.

A division of cost has yet to be agreed upon, Stark said.

When will work on the 1.5 mile stretch of road start?

"That all depends on when we get the right-of-way," Stark said. (AM

Lions to Hear Safety Expert

FRANK BURROWS JR. "Movies, Motors and Magic" will be the theme of a traffic safety talk delivered March 4 by Frank R. Burrows Jr., field service director of the Citizens Traffic safety board of Metropolitan Chicago, before the Arlington Heights Lions club in St. Peter Lutheran church youth center, 213 W. St. James ave., Arlington Heights.

Burrows will list the most dangerous misconception about safe driving and will demonstrate methods of avoiding traffic tragedies. Emphasized in his talk will be warnings of the three most dangerous actions of drivers who consider themselves to be expert.

THE 3 ARE:

1. Shopping on a dime. Although many drivers think they can, it will take 88 feet to stop at 30 miles per hour, 366 feet to stop at 60 mph.
2. Trying to beat an amber light or race another car to an intersection. This driving error is frequently fatal.
3. Trying to take right of way from another driver. (A

Five Senior Boys Win Scholarships

Five senior boys at Arlington high school have been awarded Certificates of Merit as a result of their outstanding performances in the 1957-58 National Merit Scholarship Program, according to superintendent H. L. Slichenmyer.

Bruce Bolas, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bolas, 630 S. Beverly, Arlington Heights; Dennis Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Grant, 111 Hillside, Prospect Heights; Eldon Kreider, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Kreider, 101 W. Algonquin rd., Des Plaines; Marvin Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Meyer, R.R. 3, Palatine; and William Roosen, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Roosen, 314 N. Elmhurst, Mt. Prospect, turned in examination scores which place them in the nation's upper one half of one per cent.

THE LOCAL SENIORS are among 7300 finalists in the current NMS competition which began last October with the testing of 256,000 of the nation's most able high school seniors. Over 1000 of the finalists will be awarded $5 million in scholarships. Winners will be announced May 1.

Merit scholarships are the most sought-after award on the high school academic scene. Each is a four-year award and each Merit scholar may choose any accredited college in the United States, and any course of study leading to a degree.

EACH MERIT scholarship carries a stipend based on the student's need. The stipend is variable and is determined individually.

Sears Foundation alone is providing $500,000 in scholarships this year. Other organizations such as IBM, the Shell Companies Foundation, Lilly Endowment, Standard Oil (Indiana) and many others are providing major programs of Merit scholarships. (ACM

DeMolays Need Meeting Place

A plea is being made by members of the Mt. Prospect chapter of Order of De Molay for a permanent meeting place. To date they have been meeting in the various churches and in the members' homes. However, with the present set-up, they are not able to carry out their work according to the De Molay ritual.

Sponsoring the chapter is the Mt. Prospect Masonic club, with John Knox of Rolling Meadows as councilor. Members of De Molay are boys between the ages of 14 and 21.

Any information toward obtaining a permanent location will be appreciated. Calls will be received by Mr. Knox at Clearbrook 5-3766. (AM

Tinsley Cagers Win Again, Still Leading League

Tinsley Bus cagers started slowly the first half against Des Plaines Comets in YMCA league, but came back strong the second half with 42 points to win, 64-34. Halftime tally was 23-22, Des Plaines.

The victory enabled the local cagers to maintain their hold on first place in second half of play in the industrial loop. Unusual statistic of the contest was both teams making every free throw attempted, with Tinsley carding 4 of 4 and Des Plaines 5 of 5.

High scorers for Tinsley was Roy Hahnfeld with 17, followed by Gordie Busse with 15. Stieper was tops for the losers with 12.

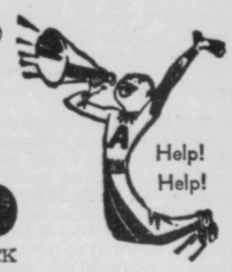
KICKIN' IT AROUND



by BOB PADDOCK

WHAT'S IN A BYE? Qualifying for the sectional wrestling tournament at Palatine, in this case. With just 7 schools entered in district tourney at Elmwood Park last weekend, the fourth seeded boy was always given a bye through the first round of competition. That meant those boys automatically qualified for the sectional meet this week at Palatine.

With seedings made by coaches, York gained 6 byes, Palatine 4, Arlington 1 and Leyden 1. Interestingly enough, team point standings went just the opposite way, Leyden, Arlington, Palatine, York.

Heights coach Dick Mudge reported he was well satisfied with his team's performance in copping second in the district, with a couple of exceptions. He believes that by correcting a few mistakes, the Cardinals could be a strong contender for the sectional title. First and second place winners in each weight class will compete next week in the state finals at Arlington.

OUR SPY at Illinois, Bob Frisk, makes this prediction for next year's Illini cage squad: senior Roger Taylor 6-0 and junior Mannie Jackson 6-2 at guards, soph Johnny Wessels 6-7½ at center, and junior Govoner Vaughn 6-4 and soph Vern Altmeyer 6-8 at forwards. Bob doesn't feel Terry Bethel, 6-7 All-American prep player from Collinsville, will start but should play a lot. Quoting Bob: Altmeyer looks real good and is a top defensive player.

Wessels is farther advanced now than George BonSalle was at a like time and can hook with either hand. He needs a little hustle to be real good.

Jackson is starting to drive now and if he's moved out to guard, he'll be even more dangerous with that deadly jump shot, too. Vaughn is a fixture in the front line and Taylor, who'll undoubtedly captain the team, is a good scorer and feeder. Next year just might be the year!

SPRING SPORTS are gaining momentum at Arlington high school with the waning of winter . . . Golfers are swinging in the practice range under the gymnasium steps . . . Trackmen are working out in the new fieldhouse at Prospect, as are baseball pitchers and catchers . . . Baseball coaching setup at Arlington this year will include Dick Kinneman varsity, "Bus" Ormsbee frosh-sophs, Frank Bohac freshmen, assisted by Bob Hose . . . Among grapplers slated to compete in Waukegan sectional this week is Glenbrook's Bill Schmadebeck, 103-pound state titlist . . . Basketball coaches of the WSC will pick the all-conference team Mar. 3, with loop wrestling coaches doing the same March 10.

State swimming meet will be held at Evanston this weekend with 40 schools competing, including Maine, Glenbard and Riverside-Brookfield of the West Suburban league, plus Glenbrook and Elmwood Park of the Tri-County loop . . . New Trier is defending champ.

Morton and New Trier were Suburban League wrestling champs at frosh-soph level, but it was Proviso and Evanston in the varsity . . . Jim Bowers of DeKalb, Illini soph, recently ran the mile in 4:14, 2 seconds faster than his best as a high school senior . . . His record in the Palatine Relays was 4:25.1 . . . New Trier gymnasts recently bumped York by 8 points . . . York sophs lost just 1 meet this year, to Arlington . . . Arlington sophs did the same, losing just 1 match, to York.

George Cox, recent Leyden cage mentor, will be assistant principal at the new West Leyden high school slated to serve freshmen only next fall . . . John Smith, frosh-soph wrestling coach at Bloom, has come out for rules changes needed to give that sport popular appeal . . . He asserts there's too much emphasis on defense . . . We'll have to see for ourselves in the sectional at Palatine this week and the state finals next weekend at Arlington . . . In case you didn't remember, Maine came within a single point of defeating top-ranked Rock Falls earlier this year, and will have a chance to knock off York this week.

COMPETING for Purdue track team at Illinois this Saturday will be Ron Etherton, York grad, 300-yard dash champ . . . Northwestern will also be on hand . . . Etherton won the 60 and 300-yard dashes for Purdue.

Winning the mile for Indiana against 3 other schools Saturday was Glenbard's Dick Pond, covering the distance in 4:18 . . . Harold Caffey of LaGrange placed second in 440 . . . Caffey is co-captain with Greg Bell, Olympic broad jump champion nearing Jesse Owens' 26-8¼ record.

Chuck Sedgwick of LaGrange has made 16 of 19 free throws for Bradley cagers thus far, but is shooting field goals at only .250 . . . Home court advantage in basketball this season has been worth 13.67 points in the Big 10 . . . Only switch from this observance is the Wisconsin-Illinois series, with both games going "the wrong way" . . . Ashley Haase of Arlington, on frosh grid squad at Lawrence, had a straight-A record first semester, blemished only by an A-plus in mathematics . . . With Lawrence frosh cagers is Bob Blust of Hinsdale, the team posting a 5-1 record to date.

In case you're wondering, there really is a Slippery Rock teachers college in Pennsylvania, and it's on the soccer schedule of Michigan State, which hasn't lost a match in 2 years of competition.

Then there's Floyd Smith of Chicago on the verge of high jumping 7' with 1 foot bare . . . Purdue, co-leader of the Big 10 cage race, uses an all-junior starting 5 with everyone generally scoring in double figures . . . Bronko Nagurski now weighs 230 at Notre Dame, has won his first 2 wrestling matches . . . Irish winter teams are having a good year: fencing, 10 straight victories; wrestling, unbeaten in duals; indoor track, unbeaten as of Friday . . . Bob Coates of Palatine is a member of Jonathan Edwards college cage squad, 1 of 10 residential colleges at Yale, majoring in chem engineering . . . He played on the frosh football squad last fall.

OUTBOARD BOATING is a fast-growing recreation in the Chicago area, with 205,000 in use in 1957 . . . Sales included 22,800 new ones last year . . . If all outboard owners in Chicago area attempted to launch them into Lake Michigan from the 3 launching ramps in the big city it would take nearly 2 years to turn the trick, with 1 boat going "down the ways" every 15 minutes . . . There would be 68,500 persons in line at each of those ramps, by the way.

Then would come the big problem . . . There would be 215 boats for each single mooring berth in Chicago's 8 harbors.

Sidelight of all this, of course, is a drive for more dock facilities for pleasure boating . . . We're always happy to get those fishing notes from Florida while we shiver up here . . . Mrs. Lon Ehler of Prospect Heights recently landed a 41-lb. amberjack off Jupiter, Fla., plus an oceanic bonito at 17¾ pounds off Palm Beach, according to the international women's fishing association.

Card Sophs Could Be 2nd

Arlington's frosh-soph cagers have a chance to tie for second place in the West Suburban race this Friday night by whipping Glenbard.

Glenbard and LaGrange are at the top of the heap along with Arlington. If young Cardinals can play as well against Glenbard as they did the second half against LaGrange, it's quite possible Cocah Ken Schaller's boys could gain revenge for an earlier whipping administered by the Bardlets.

ARLINGTON lost to LaGrange on free throws. Locals have been hitting around 65 per cent all year, only to sink only 50 per cent against the young Lions. Cards were 6 down at the half, and came back strong to go ahead by 3 with just 2 minutes to go.

LaGrange tied it up, though at 49-all with seconds remaining, only to have Arlington's Mike Dundy fouled just as regulation time ended. Mike missed his chance to be the hero of the night, though several missed layups earlier could have kept Mike off the spot at that late date. (Sp

Cagers to Open Regionals Next

Palatine and Lake Park will open regional play Tuesday night, March 4, with Arlington and Fenton going into competition Wednesday night, March 5.

That's the setup as the basketball season nears its end for local high schools.

Palatine will meet Niles in the second game in the Pirates' own tournament Tuesday night, starting about 8:30. Maine will meet Maryville in the initial encounter that night.

ARLINGTON will test Glenbrook in the second game Wednesday night at Palatine, with Leyden opposing Notre Dame. Cardinals whipped the Spartans earlier in the year and should win, but Glenbrook could get hot and upset the apple cart.

Improving Palatine should be a rough test for Niles, though normally the Trojans would have the edge. Maine definitely rates a strong nod over Maryville. If the form chart is accurate, Maine should meet either Niles or Palatine in the first game Thursday night, Mar. 6, with Arlington opposing Leyden.

Game times at about all centers are 7:00 and 8:30 where 2 games are to be played, with an 8 o'clock starting time prevailing where single games are to be contested.

FENTON will oppose Giant York, West Suburban league champion in the first game Tuesday night in regional play at the Elmhurst school, and could give the Dukes some mighty tough opposition if Coach Chuck Cole's Bisons can be hot. Oak Park will take on IC of Elmhurst in the other affair.

The York tournament starts Monday night with Proviso meeting Elmwood Park in the first game, and Glenbard testing Wheaton Community in the second affair. Monday winners will meet in a single game Wednesday night, with Tuesday winners meeting Thursday evening. Championship games at all centers will be held Friday night.

LAKE PARK will meet McHenry in the second game Tuesday night, with Elgin toying with Harvard in the opener. It will be Crystal Lake vs Woodstock, then Dundee vs. district winner Wednesday night.

Card Frosh Win Over LaGrange

Arlington's freshman basketball squad disposed of LaGrange Saturday morning, 40-30, with a 14-2 second period spurt by Coach Ted Wissen's boys sewing up the contest. Locals vaulted from a 11-10 count to 25-12 in the process.

Keith Grams and Fred Lussow each counted 12 points for the local cause, with George Tuttle contributing 10, Fred Empkie 4 and Dave Palmer 2. Tops for LaGrange was Milligan with 12.

Card Cagers To Host Glenbard In WSC Finale

Final warmup for the regional tournament is slated for Arlington high school cagers Friday night when they come home to meet Glenbard in their final West Suburban conference game.

The Bards won the previous meeting, but the Cardinals are hoping they can turn the tables this week. Glenbard will be filled with spirit, though, after knocking off York in a surprise victory last week.

ARLINGTON must whip Glenbard if it is to keep LaGrange from tying the locals in sixth place. If Coach Frank Bohac's squad knock off the Bards, with Downers beating Hinsdale, it will mean a tie for fifth place for the locals.

Heights lost last week's decision to LaGrange at the free throw line, with misses scored. Arlington also needs to hit 50 per cent of its field goal attempts in order to win, and could come up with only 40 per cent against the Lions.

THE CARDINALS held a 3 point lead the final segment, though, and could have won if LaGrange hadn't out-rebounded Heights in closing minutes. Generally, though, the locals played a good game, rarely losing possession of the ball without a scoring opportunity.

The shots were there, but the accuracy wasn't, and therein lies the sad tale. (Sp

Arlintgon JV's Drub LaGrange

Arlington JV cagers won another ball game Saturday, knocking over LaGrange, 52-47.

The Heights 5 had a rough first half, finally moving into a sizable lead the third segment. Tally was 40-31 going into the home stretch, with Coach Dick Kinneman's lads hanging on for the win.

Scoring for Heights was fairly well divided with Jon Benrud carding 15, Keith Butterfield 10, Bob Barbour 8, Don Gerken 7, Ed Whitelaw 5, John Double 4 and Mike Warnecke 3. High for the losers was Titus with 18.

Good Spirit

John Anderson has been a valuable asset with the Arlington cagers this year, though a knee operation keeping him out of practice until Christmas was a big handicap to his breaking into the starting lineup. John's spirit in practice as a good competitor has been a help, though, with experience with last year's JV's of value to the 6-1 senior guard. (S

Card Thinclads Run First Meet

Arlington high school's indoor track squad finished third to Evanston and Proviso in a practice meet Friday, the local frosh-soph finishing second. Next event is a freshman meet at Evanston March 4.

Taking seconds for Heights were Rich Bader in the 50, John Hawkins in the 440 and Dean Hedberg in the pole vault. Ron Marks placed third in the mile as did Bill Dodge in the 880.

Marty Green finished fourth in pole vault. Bob O'Neil finished fifth in high hurdles and Rich Yeager fifth in the 50.

THE FROSH-SOPH had 2 firsts when Bill Terbell copped the mile and Alan Westergaard the low hurdles. The relay team of Alan Westergaard, Tony Stavros, Bruce Fichte and Carl Graf also finished first.

Taking seconds for Heights were Mike Fields in high hurdles, Bruce Fichte in broad jump and Tony Stavros in high jump and 440, Mike Fields copped fifth in 880. (S

Card Gymnasts Split Proviso

Arlington high school gymnastics team fell to Proviso by 16 points at varsity level, but won the frosh-soph event by 32 in the Prospect high school gym Thursday afternoon. It was the final dual of the year for the locals, with only the state meet 2 weeks hence remaining.

Gary Moreland was a double winner for Coach Gay Hughes, taking trampoline and tumbling. Bruce Robb won first on horizontal bar. Placing second for the Cardinal and White were Ed Wolf on rings and Bob Carman on parallel bars. Local thirds went to Ed Kelley on side horse.

Arlington won tumbling and horizontal bar, both 12-10, and gained an 11-11 split on trampoline. Proviso walked off with the other 3 events.

THE FROSH-SOPHS of Coach Rick Farris copped every event but side horse. Closest Heights win was a 12.5-9.5 margin on horizontal bar, with other victory margins larger.

Taking firsts for the Arlington cause were Bill Sayre and Ric Anderson in tumbling, Don Bellou on parallel and horizontal bar, Mike Nelson on rings, and Bill Flood on trampoline. Seconds went to George Allen on parallel bars and Steve Bertock on trampoline.

Third places for the Cardinals went to Bruce MacCallum on horizontal bar, Ronald East on side horse, and Don Ballou on rings. (S

Heights Soph Cagers Lose Overtime Tilt

LaGrange's frosh-soph five clinched the conference championship Friday night with a 58-55 overtime victory over Arlington's young Cards.

It was the thirteenth straight win for the Lions, who stand an excellent chance of finishing the league competition without a defeat.

Defeat was close Friday night, however, so close that a single free throw could have reversed the decision. The regulation game ended in a 49-49 tie, with an Arlingtonite receiving an after-the-horn free throw and a chance for victory. The charity shot bounced off the rim, however, sending the game into the overtime period.

GUARD KEN RULE and center Gil Peters tallied 4 points apiece in the added 3 minutes to hand the locals their third defeat in 13 WSC contests.

Arlington could have won the game at the free throw line, where they hit only 13 of 26 attempts, far below their season average. The Cards outscored the winners 42-40 from the field but LaGrange made 18 of 28 free throws for 64 per cent effectiveness.

Although trailing 26-20 at halftime, Coach Ken Schaller's boys made their second half bid as usual. They outscored the Lions 17-9 in the third quarter to take a 37-35 lead into the final frame.

FINAL STANZA was a nip and tuck battle with Arlington leading most of the way. It was 41-40 Arlington halfway through the quarter and 47-45 with 1:15 to play. LaGrange went ahead 49-47 but Mike Dundy's 2 free throws knotted the score with 45 seconds remaining.

LaGrange held the ball until the clock showed 10 seconds and then fired a jump shot that bounded off the front of the rim. Arlington rebounded in time for a last desperate shot which was wide, the shooter being fouled after the shot.

LA GRANGE drew first blood in the overtime on Rule's basket. Rick Johnston's twisting jump shot made it 51 all. Rule came back with a 20 footer, but was matched by Dundy's drive-in.

Then followed a free throw by LaGrange's Jay Tressler, a pair of one-pointers by Peters, and an easy lay-up by Peters. George Bork's basket in the final seconds was lost in the winners hilarity.

Inaccuracy in Free Throws Cost Victory at LaGrange

Arlington's Cardinals had trouble getting started Friday night at LaGrange and wound up on the bottom a 51-45 battle of free throws.

The locals had the winners on the ropes on several occasions but lacked the power to keep them down. The Lions' Simmie Pearson, called to the sidelines with a burden of 4 personals, came off the bench in the last 4 minutes and scored 8 points toward the victory.

THE CARDS had only 12 field goals in the contest, which saw some 23 LaGrange fouls send the Red and White to the free throw line for 35 shots; only 21 of these made the scorer's book.

The Lions, on the other hand, missed only 7 of 24 shots from the gratis circle.

Missing 4 of 4 free throw attempts in the first quarter, Arlington fell behind 11-8. The halftime tally showed Coach Frank Bohac's squad down only one point, despite the fact that they came up with only one field goal in the second period. The Cards had led 18-13 halfway through the quarter.

LA GRANGE went ahead by 6 points at the start of the second half, only to have the losers take the lead 33-32 with 2 and a half minutes remaining to play. The lead see-sawed to a 36-35 standing, where it rested at the start of the final frame.

The effects of a pressing defense were beginning to show on the Lions as 4 of their regulars had accumulated 4 personal fouls. Two of these were to make their exit before the final buzzer.

Even with second stringers as opposition the Birds could make no headway. Jack Weber's 5 points were the only scoring threat in the final 8 minutes. His basket made it 46-45 LaGrange with a minute left to play.

AT THIS POINT the Lions went into a ball control game which freed a man all alone under the basket for an easy lay-up and a 48-45 advantage. The final 3 points came from the gift line.

The Cardinals, who many believe are destined to explode against some unsuspecting team, have only one more regular season tilt in which to uncork. Glenbard, owner of second place in the conference, pays its annual visit to Arlington gym this Friday night. (Sp

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

OUR OPINION that Warren and North Chicago, the Northwest and Tri-County league leaders, might upset the dope in the regional, made us look very bad last week. Warren lost by one point to Round Lake, winner of but one game, in an almost unbelievable upset, and Fenton stopped North Chicago. Warren had won 16 in a row but they depend on outscoring their opponents and when they had a cold night the worst team in the league beat them.

Again it proves that a really good ball team must have defense as well as offense even in this age of race horse basketball.

Denny Freund of Wauconda, 2-11, has smashed the Northwest scoring record by 27 points with one game still remaining. The Wauconda hot shot has averaged 29 points a game in one of the most amazing seasons recorded in this area for all time by any cage athlete. Freund's top has been 42 points but lately he has consistently scored over 30. At Antioch Freund hit 16 of 23 from the field and 10 of 11 free throws to tie the all time conference record of 42 set by "Red" Haviland of Antioch several years ago.

WAUCONDA had a great year in wrestling. Bill Friberg's grapplers beat all the conference schools in the Northwest with a 14-3-1 record but when it came to the league tournament the Bulldogs had to give way to Lake Forest who took 6 championships and 106 points to Wauconda's 97.

Wauconda had whipped both McHenry and Libertyville, the North Suburban winner and runnerup.

To show the strength of the Tri-County as compared with the other smaller school leagues we point out that Palatine beat Wauconda 33-11 but finished 4th in their own conference tournament. However, Palatine beat all the league members in dual matches except Glenbrook, who was wrestled to a tie.

McHenry scored 92 points to Libertyville's 67, Crystal Lake 65, Zion-Benton 64, Barrington 52, and Dundee 36. Woodstock does not have wrestling. A year ago McHenry and Crystal Lake tied for the championship. The previous year Libertyville finished last.

WHEN BARRINGTON whipped Libertyville a short time ago for the second time this season it was the 16th time in a row the Bronchos had bested the Wildcats in basketball. It has been 12 years since Libertyville has beaten Barrington. The Bronchos will get a chance to make it 17 straight in the regional tournament.

Barrington and Crystal Lake are going down to the wire tied for the North Suburban title.

Barrington's shared title will make 5 of 6 since they entered the league. The one year they failed and Crystal Lake won, the Bronchos took second. Crystal Lake has finished no lower than second in any of the 10 years the North Suburban has been in operation. Zion-Benton's undisputed title in 1950-51 is the only team besides Barrington to win a clear cage championship.

ROCK FALLS has moved to the number one position in the state cage ratings with a 22-1 season record. They say there is no other team in the state with 6 players tall enough to "dunk" the ball in the basket. Under coach Richard Haselton, in his third year at Rock Falls, the Rockets have a team of sharpshooters with a fine spirit and a good defense. At the moment they are the chief hope of the north part of the state to win the state title. The only trouble is that Rock Falls has not had the caliber of a schedule other top teams have played, and you do not learn much swamping weak opposition.

While Fenton knocked North Chicago out of the undefeated class in the Tri-County Conference a week ago their frosh-sophs did North Chicago a real favor last Friday when they beat Elmwood Park and dropped them out of a tie with North Chicago for the F-S championship.

Dick Wisner has all but captured the Tri-County scoring championship. With 189 points and the 10 game schedule completed his nearest rival with a chance to overtake him in the one remaining game is Jim Krauser of Elmwood Park who would have to score 36 points for a tie. Bob Armstead, North Chicago's outstanding colored forward is second a full 20 points behind the high scoring Pirate.

Doug Timmerman was one of the boys with the best chance of overtaking Wisner but he became ill and had to miss the Glenbrook game at Palatine, both wrecking his own chances and severely handicapping the Spartans who, as a result, are likely to drop into a last place tie with Lake Park in the final standings.

WHATEVER HAPPENS in the regional basketball tournament, Lake Park Lancers have made definite strides, basketball-wise, over last year when they lost all 23 games in their initial season. This time Lake Park has completed an 11-11 regular season for the varsity, with just 5 of those losses decisive ones.

Lake Park lost to Fenton by 2, to Glenbrook and Elmwood Park by 3, to Palatine and Glenbrook by 8, and to Naperville by 9.

Otherwise, Coach Jerry Carpenter's boys dropped just 5 games by 10 or more points, 2 to No. Chicago, 2 to Marmion and the Batavia contest. One of the No. Chicago games was close until the final 2 minutes. We hope Lake Park continues to win in the regional.

10 YEARS AGO: Northwest Conference season closed as Ela-Vernon beat Palatine 31-28 (varsity) and 36-34 overtime (frosh-soph). Palatine varsity finished 5th with a 6-8 record and the frosh-soph 4th with 7-7 . . . Bensenville whipped Wauconda 51-26 and 55-14. Thollander scored 21 for the varsity and Anderson 19 for the frosh-sophs . . . Arlington beat Woodstock 43-41 as John Shanley hit the winning basket with 3 seconds to go . . . Niles and Leyden play for the Northeast League title on Leyden's little court (seating 600) next week.

Bensenville set several Northwest records, including 264 points by Bob Thollander in 14 games. The Bisons scored 680 points in 14 games.

The Bison varsity hit a high total of 89 points against Grant and the frosh-sophs set a record against the same school with 70. Thollander had 103 field goals, 58 free throws, and a record of 33 points for one game . . . Dick Pepper of Palatine had a record in free throwing with 78% as he made 46 of 59. Pepper had 16 of 19 in a pair of games on one weekend using the old underhand style of tossing them in from the 15 foot line.

20 YEARS AGO: Palatine took the Bensenville Bisons into camp 30-24 and 27-12. O'Brien and Nangle, senior mainstays of the Pirates each scored 10 while Escorcia got 8 for the Bisons. Palatine varsity had a 7-3 record with 2 losses to Ela who finished undefeated. Palatine was the only first division squad on the Ela schedule. John O'Brien had a great free throwing record of 24 of 34 for the league season.

Palatine lightweights tied for the championship with Leyden as each posted a 9-1 record.

Ela had 8-2 for second and Bensenville lights had 1-9. Palatine's champ frosh-soph squad of 10 included 6 freshmen. Ray Hahnfeldt, 5' 1" frosh forward made 32% of shots from the field for the season . . . Arlington Heights lost to Leyden 45-29 and 23-14.

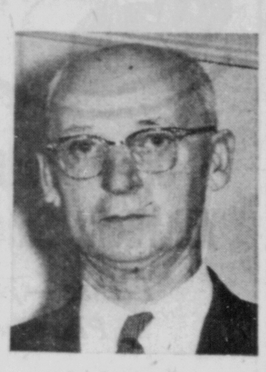
Beverly Moves Into 2-Game Lead in Paddock Classic

Beverly Lanes surged ahead in the race for first place of the Paddock Classic Traveling league by knocking off all 3 games at Des Plaines Bowling Lanes Saturday night. The Arlington Heights keglers shot 973, 937 and 1014 with Tom Kouros, 197 average leader of the league, hitting 616. Best effort for the losers was a 932 middle game, led by Tony Sasso's 225.



ED SANDER

Victor Electric of Gunnell's Lanes dropped out of the first place tie by winning only one game at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, a 2 pin victory. Jeffery copped the other 2 contests with 973 and 1006. Hec Healey shot 605 for the winners with Hap Procunier's 599 tops for the losers.

Hi-Way Recreation found their own Palatine alleys to their liking by whipping Barrington 2 out of 3 with 989 and 970 scores, though none of the 5 individuals could garner 600. Barrington Blatz won the third tilt with 922, led by Roy Papineau's 215 and 604 series.

Illini Cagers Win (or Lose) Regardless of Which Day

Illinois gets a second chance at Michigan's faltering basketball team in Huff Gym Saturday.

When the Illini and Wolverines last met, Michigan kept in a first place tie by beating Illinois 88-81. But Coach Bill Perigo's team lost its next 4 games and now is a second division companion of the Illini.

Illinois' weekend results in Big Ten play show little difference in the success of Saturday games, as compared with Monday's. Illini has won 2 and lost 4 Big Ten Saturday games, and won 2 and lost lost 3 conference contests Monday.

ILLINOIS, with a 10-9 season record, needs one victory in its last 3 games to finish .500 for the season. Illini now is 4-7 in the conference, with 3 games left.

Latest statistics illustrate the close competition between Illinois and opponents this season. Illinois has averaged 78.9 points a game, compared with 77.0 for opponents. Illini has hit on .389 of field goal attempts, to opponents' .395. Illinois' free throw percentage is .713; opponents' is .715.

Don Ohl's team-leading scoring average has slacked off, after 5 and 9 point performances in last 2 games, but he still has a 19.0 mark. All 5 Illinois regulars have averaged more than 10 points per game.

Paddock Grade Cagers Win 10th Over Central

Paddock school cagers of Palatine visited Central school of Mt. Prospect last Friday and added their tenth victory in a row without a loss. The final score was 29 to 21.

After being behind 7 to 4 at the close of the first quarter the local 5 found themselves and rushed to a 16 to 9 lead at the half.

ALTHOUGH MT. Prospect used a full court press throughout the entire game the final outcome was never in doubt after the first quarter.

The rebounding and shooting of Drew Merutka was the difference as the Paddock center controlled both backboards after a slow first quarter. He led both teams in scoring with 13 points followed by Sundling and Seehausen with 6 each.

Mt. Prospect — Thomas 2-1, Scarbaro 2-0, Ziel 3-0, Whitelex 2-0, Francek 1-0.

Paddock — Seehausen 2-2, Moore 0-4, Merutka 6-1, Sundling 3-0, Schur 0-0, Olson 0-0.

Miner: Close 2-2, Walters 1-2, Gow 3-0, Moore 1-0, Purvis 1-0, Fitz-Patrick 0-2, Kuffer 1-1.

2 Elk Grove Men Add Word 'Associates' to Firm Name

JACOB HETTEL

ROBERT SCHWARTZ

Jacob M. Hettel and Robert L. Schwartz, both of Elk Grove village, have been named associates in the Chicago architectural firm of A. J. Del Bianco, and the firm name is being changed to A. J. Del Bianco and Associates.

Hettel has been with the firm for the past 10 years, and Schwartz for 5 years. Both are members of the production department, assigned to residential, industrial, commercial or institutional building projects.

The name change is the first in the 20 year history of the firm. The "associate" designation is in recognition of major responsibilities being carried by Hettel and Schwartz and denotes them as principals of the firm, Del Bianco explained.

Since 1938, Del Bianco is said to have designed more homes in the Chicago area than any other architect, including those in such well-known developments as Elk Grove village, Rolling Meadows, Des Plaines Villas, Brynhaven, Northbrook East, Deerfield Park, Canterbury Gardens, Scottsdale, Southfield at 87th and Harlem, and Gold Coast Manor in Calumet City. Offices of the firm are located at 5501 W. Irving Park, Chicago.

Both Hettel and Schwartz live in Elk Grove Village. The Hettels live at 15 Woodcrest lane, and the Schwartz family with their 2 children are at 506 Brynhaven Circle in the new suburb. (BB

Internal Revenue Director Outlines Tax Procedures

H. Alan Long, director of internal revenue for this district today explained rules for deducting taxes paid when filing 1957 personal income tax returns.

Taxpayers itemizing deductions on page 2 of Form 1040 can deduct most state and local taxes. Federal taxes are never deductible except for certain ones paid in connection with a business or profession.

Long said persons can deduct for personal property, state income, real estate, state or local sales tax, state gasoline, auto license fees, and state capitation or poll taxes.

Taxpayers cannot deduct for any federal excise taxes paid on personal expenditures such as taxes on theater admissions, furs, jewelry, cosmetics, transportation, telephone and the like; federal social security taxes, hunting licenses, dog licenses, water taxes, auto inspection fees, and taxes paid for another person.

Whenever real estate is sold, the deduction for real estate taxes is apportioned between the buyer and the seller according to the number of days in the real property tax year that each held the property. The tax is apportioned to the seller up to but not including the date of sale and to the buyer beginning with the date of sale, regardless of the accrual or lien dates under local law.

If a person is a tenant-stockholder in a cooperative housing or apartment corporation he can deduct a proportionate share of the real estate taxes paid by the cooperative.

In most cases, a home owner is not permitted to deduct taxes assessed for pavements or other local improvements, including front-foot benefits, which tend to increase the value of the property. Tax payers cannot deduct social security taxes paid on the wages of a maid or other domestic help.

Long advised taxpayers who have questions regarding the deduction of taxes paid or any other matter on their federal income tax return for 1957 to telephone or visit the local office of the internal revenue service. The local office may be reached by telephone Monday through Friday. The address of the local office is U. S. Post Office Building, Des Plaines. (BB

Housewives' Failure to Deduct Maid Tax Under Investigation

Some local housewives who have not reported the wages of their household help under social security are in for a costly surprise as a result of investigations now being conducted by the Social Security Administration.

According to Northwest district Manager Julius Berman, these instances of non-compliance come to light when domestics file claims for benefits.

NEARLY ALL domestic employees are now covered by social security. Berman pointed out that the legal requirement to report the wages of household employees and to remit the social security tax on those wages rests directly upon the employer. The employer who fails to meet his or her responsibility to do this is liable for the delinquent taxes on these wages, plus interest and penalties for failure to report at the proper time.

Each employer of domestic help is required to make a report of the employee's wages at the end of each calendar quarter if the worker was paid $50 or more cash wages.

The social security tax on these wages is four and a half per cent, one half of this to be withheld from the worker's pay and the other half paid by the employer. For quarters in which less than $50 cash are paid to a household employee, no report or tax is due.

TAX REPORTS OF wages are always made to the District Director of Internal Revenue. In no case should they be made to the Social Security Administration. To obtain the proper forms and information about procedure to make such a report, the employer should write to the Director of Internal Revenue.

Employers desiring additional information about the coverage of their domestic employees under social security may obtain information by writing or calling the Northwest district Social Security office at 4255 Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago. The phone number is KIldare 5-8844. (BB

Jewel Tea Sales Increase; May Expand at Barrington

Jewel Tea co. sales were up 7½ per cent in 1957, F. J. Lunding, chairman of the board, and G. L. Clements, president, announced in releasing the company's annual report.

Sales totaled $414,465,815 and earnings were $6,960,812 or $4.61 per share of common stock. This was a gain of 9.8 per cent from comparable figures a year ago.

The results and comparisons with 1956 include the operations of Eisner Grocery co., acquired last March 12.

During the year, 14 new stores were opened, 13 of them in the Chicago metropolitan area. Fourteen outmoded stores were closed, leaving 227 stores in operation at the close of the year.

At the beginning of 1958, 17 new supermarkets were under construction. Plans for additional stores are sufficiently advanced to make Jewel Tea officials believe that a minimum of 35 store units will be opened during 1958. Smaller inadequate stores will continue to be closed, with the exact number depending on profitability and competitive developments.

It is expected that the store growth program will make it necessary to add approximately 200,000 square feet to the dry grocery warehouse in Melrose Park by fall. Manufacturing activities at the Barrington plant are also expanding and it may be necessary to add space at this location during the year. (BB

New Cotton Fabric Makes Housewife's Life Easier

A new fashion cotton fabric, containing many of the elements of synthetics, yet 100 per cent cotton, will be making its initial appearance this month in stores throughout the country, it was reported this week.

To be called "governed," this fabric will be available this year for all types of home sewing, from fashions for the woman to furnishings for the home.

Some of the properties of this new fabric were explained by Miss Mary Baier and Mrs. Margaret Linzer, managers of the Montgomery Ward catalog stores in Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights, respectively. Their firm developed and exclusively carries "governed" cotton.

"This fabric," the women said, "has been developed to be crease-resistant, drip-dry, washfast and colorfast. Some of the most beautiful spring and summer colors, in hand selected solids and prints have been included in the new assortments received here.

"In addition, 'governed' cotton has been developed and designed to be extremely easy to sew, making it a perfect fabric for both the beginner and the professional."

Through the vast research and buying facilities available to Wards, the cost to the consumer for "governed" cotton will be considerably lower than that of identical nationally advertised fabrics.

"Here," continued the pair, "during an era of care and trouble-free living for the woman, is another new idea in modern life." (BB

Air Reservists Told Red China May Lose Its Power

"Chinese communists may lose the power they have gained through the suffering they have imposed on peasant farmers," Gung-Hsing Wang, executive director of the Chinese American Civic Council of Chicago, told 150 officers and airmen of the 9631st Air Reserve squadron in Des Plaines Wednesday, Feb. 19.

Wang, one in a series of lecturers on foreign affairs and problems, told the Air Reservists that communist China in an attempt to become a world power is accelerating its industrial program to the hilt.

"THE ONE who is paying for this industrialization in China is the peasant farmer. Through the collectivization of farms, the Chinese Communists are exporting agricultural products in order to purchase machinery to build weapons of war.

"As a result," Wang emphasized, "Peasants are on stringent food rationing with many starving." Wang, a native and graduate of Shanghai university in China and holder of a master's degree from Tulane university, would not make an estimate as to how many peasants starve to death each year as a consequence of Chinese communist industrialization plans.

WANG SAID THERE is unrest in China among the peasants. When the communists rose to power, they instituted land reforms and the peasants were overjoyed about the change in their agricultural nation.

Then communists instituted collectivized farms where the "government is siphoning off the fruits of their labor." The communists have set up a "give-and-take" proposition and as a result of "giving" for so long, peasants have grown weary of Chinese communism.

Wang's hour and half talk on "An Appraisal of Communist China" was one in a series of lectures designed to keep Air Reservists informed of world problems and situations. Members of the 9631st Air Reserve squadron came from their homes from Chicago to Palatine and Hoffman Estates to hear Wednesday night's speaker. This is a part of the squadron's training activities. State Finds An Honest Man at Last Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19 — Diogenes can blow out his lamp — at least long enough to clean it. There's a man near Rochelle who has put him out of business.

He sent $15 in cash—a $10 bill and a $5 bill — to Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier anonymously with the following note:

"HERE IS a little gasoline refund tax money. I think I rec. too much for tractor farming. I think I used a little in my car."

He was referring to the gasoline tax refunds to which farmers are entitled when the fuel is used in farm machinery. Secretary Carpentier forwarded the cash to the Department of Revenue. (BB

Peter John Hartmann was born at Arlington Heights in 1889. He entered the Concordia College at Milwaukee and was, in his fifth year, when he was taken sick with the grip the first part of February. This developed into pleural pneumonia. He died Feb. 27. It seems sad indeed that a talented young man should be called so early from his earthly sphere of usefulness, but the Master's plans are beyond our comphrehension.

WHEELING — MISS Minnie Tegtmeier, aged 21 years formerly a resident of Wheeling, died Feb. 24 of typhoid fever at her home in Glenview.

Farmers along the avenue (Wheeling) are going into truck gardening more every year. Aside from potatoes as their crop, they now raise pickels and onions with some peas and sweet corn. Ernest Gosch has contracted 110 pounds onion seed for sets to be delivered at the car Wheeling station. He will also sow 12 pounds onion seed for large onions.

Palatine — Aug. Toppel and Mrs. Heideman were married in the city last week, and August's friends are busy figuring out how it is that August is now a father to his own brother and sister-in-law, how his daughter Martha is now married to her uncle, how his wife is now a sister to her own daughter. August says he doesn't care about the relationship. All that he thinks about is that he is married, and is happy.

BARRINGTON — The Norge Ski Club of Chicago contest Sunday on the Weleck farm, west of town, drew a crowd of 800 people to watch the men slide and jump with their wooden snow shoes, called "Skis." The hill is a steep one and adapted to the sport. The longest jump was 72 feet.

Henry Boehmer, aged 51 years, mayor of Wheeling, died Feb. 22. Mr. Boehmer lived here many years and only left here with his family about 6 years ago. He was president of the village board of this place for 6 years, retiring in 1901.

Dundee — W. C. Greve and Emma Behrens were quietly married Feb. 22.

Bensenville — Mrs. H. L. Geils died Feb. 20. Funeral was one of the largest ever witnessed in this locality.

Mr. Albert Heimsoth and Miss Martha Schroeder were united in marriage Feb. 23. The happy couple will make their home at Itasca.

Palatine — Henry Langrehr is very kind to give the boys his hitching post to tie their horses on, while they do their sparking.

HANOVER — Wm. Fahlbuch says his little daughter born Feb. 14 is healthy and well, same as the rest of his family.

Herman Thies and wife intend to make their home with grandfather, Fred Helper, who has lived kind of lonesome a few years.

Want to get married: — Any young lady aged 18 to 24 years who likes to get married to a prominent nice man, call on me. Frank Schoepke, Elgin, in care of H. H. Heine, Route 6.

Why ain't all neighbors kind friends and shovel up the road along their farms like Albert F. Heine, H. W. Heine Jr., Aug. Ackman, John Berndt, H. Berndt, Aug. Volkening, H. Kuies, Herman H. Heine and Al Detter. Pitch in and open the road and not spoil somebody's nice clover or timothy field.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rohrsen was the scene of a delightful wedding when their son, Mr. Henry Rohrsen and Miss Emma Lenshow were united in marriage Feb. 19.

Next week we will start publishing the serial war story, "Over the Top" and from then on this paper will contain 12 pages each week for those whose subscription is paid in advance. Delinquent subscribers will only get the home print part or none at all. Expenses are too great to do a credit business these days, but we'll furnish a good home awer or those ho fafreciate ppp paper for those who appreciate it.

Neighboring villages are following the examle of Arlington lowing the example of Arlington Heights in purchasing auto fire trucks. Palatine followed suit and now the village of Des Plaines will purchase one. Arlington Heights and Palatine raised a large share of the money by popular subscription, but Des Plaines will resort to the old fashioned bond issue to the amount of $4,000.

After a week of bitter fighting on the part of some of the stock and note holders on the north end of the PLZ and W before Judge Windes, the case came to an end Saturday.

APPARENTLY there are no buyers in sight for the assets and property of the railroad for which nearly every person along its route has worked for, prayed for and paid for. The continued operation is a necessity to the welfare of Wauconda where there are at least there industries whose very life is at stake. It has been suggested that the people of that place will be forced to organize a new company or make a supreme effort to induce some outside agency to purchase the PLZ and W. Otherwise Wauconda must be again relegated to the inland town class and the old stage again put in service.

Roselle — Saturday will be moving day. Robt. Chessman will move into the Beuver house. Ed Neger will move into the home which he recently purchased on Church boulevard on the west side. Fred Hitzemen will move into the Quindel house on third ave. Walter Hattendorf will move onto his farm. Dr. Theabold will move into the Fasse house on Third ave. Wm. Drougemuller into his own residence vacated by Dr. Theabold.

PALATINE — Frank Gahlbeck and Harry Schoppe went down to the Heights the first of the week to cry the Melzer auction. Frank found himself in the biggest crowd he was ever in. He had to use his cane to clear the path at times. There were a lot of Palatine people down there and a whole lot more who came to see what kind of an animal Gahlbeck really was. They had heard of Frank through the columns of the Enterprise and they wanted to get acquainted. They did and it was one of the big auctions of the season.

Please excuse us this week. We are short one man so we could not get up our best paper, but will be O.K. again next week.

The Government, after increasing the postage rates, has decreased the local service. Everything seems to favor the big corporations, who can mail a lot of circulars for one cent while we must pay 2 cents for a postal card.

The business district north of the tracks in Palatine will take a jump a block north of its present boundary if the plans of Mr. Kretschner, owner of the former J. A. Burlingame property materialize.

It became known this week that he has tentative plans for the erection of a business block of 3 stores.

Another subdivision is in prospect. This one is at the corner of Wilke and Palatine roads. A Chicago purchaser has secured title to 40 acres at that corner. Wilke road will be open to Rand this year which may bring further activity to the vicinity. (B12

Needle In The Groove

by PAUL H. LITTLE

More platters from the great Victor February stack to entertain us, and starting this week with "Thank You for a Lovely Evening" by Billy Butterfield and his orchestra (LPM-1590).

Billy plays a dynamic trumpet, and he is joined by men like trombonist Urbie Green, saxists Peanuts Hucko and Toots Mondello, that topnotch guitarist Barry Galbraith, with pert Dottie Smith on vocals. Tunes are "Whiffenpoof Song," "Cabin in the Sky," "Close Your Eyes," "You Stepped Out of a Dream," and some very pleasing medleys which include "I'll See You in My Dreams" and "The Lamp Is Low."

Film sound tracks on lp are winning popularity, especially when you have material like "The Seven Hills of Rome" which stars Mario Lanza (LM-2211). This is Lanza's first foreign-made film, and it's a fine one. He does operatic arias like "Questa o quella" from "Rigoletto" and the popular Arrivederci Roma," with the flipover side featuring "Earthbound," "My Destiny" and "Never Till Now." "Highlights from Raintree County" (LOC-1038) is another sterling example of good music from a fine picture perpetuated on lp, and this one has Johnny Green conducting, always an assurance of great arrangements and, in this instance, original music. Fact is, this is one of the best scores Johnny has given us. The use of 40 voices in mixed chorus adds plenty of tonal color, and it's great mood music.

A NEW MARY MARTIN disc needs little recommendation from yours truly; this one is "Mary Martin Sings — Richard Rodgers Plays" (Victor LPM-1539). Here's a great composer playing piano with a superb singer doing such immortal songs as "There's a Small Hotel," "Some Enchanted Evening," "It Might as Well Be Spring." 'Nuff said; go get yourself a copy at your community platter shop before they run out of stock!

Your critic happens to be a Belafonte fan and is fairly sure you are too. But Harry's great new Victor album (LPM-1551) turns the limelight on Millard Thomas, his guitarist and accompanist. William Dillard and the Bey Sisters sing wonderful ballads, novelties and calypso songs, with Frantz Casseus playing superb guitar. This is not just another calypso record; it is evocative of mood and setting, and songs like "Like My Heart" and "Linstead Market" reveal the creative eloquence of the Caribbean musician. We rate this album as one of the most thoroughly enjoyable platters we've heard in a coon's age. Sound is crisp and clean. (B12

FIFTY-ONE IMMEDIATE members of the J. Fred Meyer family gathered for the afternoon and a buffet supper Sunday, Feb. 23, to mark the Meyers' 55th wedding anniversary. The family gathered in the home of one of the Meyers' 4 daughters, Mrs. Arthur Kehe in Palatine. Other family members present included their daughters, Mrs. Oscar Maierhofer, Mrs. Emma Garms and Mrs. Lydia Malchow, all of Arlington Heights; 2 sons, Albert of Darien, Wis. and Fred of Forest Park; many grandchildren; 4 great grandchildren; Mr. Meyer's brothers, George, John and Albert and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Millie Meyer, all of Arlington Heights; Mrs. Meyer's brother, Herman Glade of Palatine; and her brother-in-law, John Haemker of Hebron. The Meyers lived on a farm in Arlington Heights after their marriage and now reside at 1022 N. Highland in the village. The couple has been subscribing to the Arlington Heights Herald their entire married life. (Community Camera (S

Arlington Couple Wed In Double Ring Service

(Jenart Studio

Two Arlington Heights families were united February 1 when Miss Marilyn F. Wellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wellman, 1610 Brown st., became the bride of William L. Box Jr., son of the senior Boxes, 838 S. Evergreen. The double ring service took place at 4 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights with Dr. Paul Stumpf officiating.

Mrs. Earle Auge was organist for the candlelight ceremony and Earle Auge was soloist. Selections were "Wedding Prayer," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Baskets of white snapdragons and chrysanthemums and palms and candelabra with ivy and white satin bows decorated the church.

For her marriage, the bride chose a gown of tissue faille and tulle fashioned with bouffant skirt with lace insertions. The bodice of the gown was of faille with long lace sleeves and the portrait neckline was trimmed with the same imported hand-clipped chantilly lace as on the skirt. She wore a crown of seedpearls and opalescent beading from which fell a circular fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses centered with white camellias. Mr. Wellman gave his daughter in marriage.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

More Missionary Adventure

Dear Peg:

As Father Krimm (our missionary friend about whom I wrote to you last week) showed us his slides of New Guinea, I was struck by the fact that the natives, in many ways, are quite childlike. Just as Megan and Bridget love to dress up in my old formals, hang as much jewelry on themselves as they can, put on lipstick and mascara and then dance all over the living room while I play the piano for them, so too, the natives' favorite pastime seems to be dressing up and having a "sing-sing." (Pidgen English for "dance." This is the language used between the natives and the white people.)

They spend a great deal of time planning their dances and then preparing for them by making fancy headbands out of tiny shells or brilliant feathers from the tropical birds of the island, pearl shell necklaces and bracelets, colored grass skirts and (of all things!) small capelets made of beetles sewn closely together on some material. And just as the children like best to act out some sort of story while they dance, the native dances usually depict some incident they have experienced.

For their "makeup" they use a powdered paint, obtained from the government trading stores, which when mixed with water produces a violent shade of red orange. In applying it they use the theory that if one small stripe across their faces looks good, twelve stripes will look twelve times better—to be most attractive one must indeed cover one's entire nose! Don't misunderstand, Peg, it is the men who do all this dressing up and dancing—the women are tending the pigs.

From Father's slides, we could see quite a difference between the natives living on the coast and those in the mountains. The coastal natives, among whom Father spent his first 4 years, appeared to be much cleaner (so much cleaner that their skins seemed to be a different color). They also were wearing clothes—"Mother Hubbard" type dresses for the ladies and wrap-around skirts for the men. The coastal natives seemed to be easier to teach and more willing to learn than those farther away from civilization.

Besides being in charge of his main mission (or "station" as it generally is referred to), Father also had a circuit of "bush stations" for which he was responsible. As frequently as he was able to, he packed up and taking several natives with him, made the trip in the steaming tropical heat through the jungle and giant high grass to the outlying communities of natives, where he would instruct, hold church, and listen to whatever personal problems had arisen since he last visited.

At each of these "bush stations" there was supposed to be a church, however, you would never recognize it as such from the pictures we saw. A small, flimsy structure made of bark, bamboo and thatching, Father was never sure in what condition he would find it—if he found it at all. After a brief stay at each of these stations, he would return to the coast and his main station. It was on one of these trips that the picture was taken of Father and several others holding one of the "smaller" jungle snakes—a big black creature 7 feet long!

Because Father contracted a tropical skin irritation, he was transferred to a mission in the mountains. Perhaps you know, but I wasn't aware of the fact that there are 2 mountain ranges running down the middle of New Guinea. Between these mountains stretches a valley—a valley only by comparison to the mountains the valley is 7,000 feeet above sea level. Although the climate is cool here (70 to 80 during the day and often 40 at night) the natives wear very little and what they wear is mostly strips of bark or a sort of rope made from these strips, held by a rope worn around their waists. The children just settle for a few leaves.

Besides being extremely dirty, these natives have a fondness for pig grease which they rub all over their bodies. The odor is quite offensive! Again, like children, these people are very curious. Until Father built a fence around his thatched hut, he had company watching him through the windows most of the time.

I thought the slide showing a man making a "hunger belt" out of rattan was pathetic. These garments are worn tightly around their waists so that hunger isn't felt quite so strongly during those times of the year when food is scarce. Not many crops grow readily in this area and what does grow doesn't always survive the rainy season. Also, the pigs, their main meat, are often full of worms and inedible. The slides revealed, by their bloated stomachs and thin arms and legs the malnutrition of both adults and children. I'm sure Father often wished that he could feed these people physically as well as spiritually. Whatever supplies Father must have are flown in from the coast, which is over a hundred miles away, once or twice a month. Besides this contact with civilization, there is another missionary about 45 miles away.

It must take a most unusual person to become a missionary — to voluntarily leave family, friends and homeland to take a message to people with whom he is scarcely able to communicate. This simple truth is even now being spoken by missionaries to their people in every language.

To his flock, Father Krimm says it this way: "God i gudfela papa belong yu ne i man belong marimari. Em i save tumas long yu na i save forgivim yu. Em i lukaut tru long yu. Em i laikim yu. Em i laikim tumas yu tu yu save long em, na laikim em, na harim tok belong em hir daunbilo long graun olsem baimbai yu ken stap gud tumas oltaim oltaim wantim em bihain yu indai finis. Natink em i namberwan laik belong yu tu: yu laik kamap long disfela gudfela ples bihain yu indai finis. Em i namarwan wok tru belong yu."

God is your kind, merciful, and loving Father. He is the most understanding and forgiving of all fathers. He really cares for you. He loves you and He wants you to know Him, love Him, and serve Him in this world and be perfectly happy, for all eternity, in the world to come.

My love,

Patty

Tape Recorders Must Be Banned

I feel that I should rush off to Springfield and pop a bill into the hopper for the next session's consideration. I want tape recorders banned.

I can't say that up to a short time ago I had given too much thought to the things one way or the other. In other words, they hadn't entered my life.

One time a male friend of my daughter's told an amusing tale of tape recording a large argument of his parents. I laughed appreciatively at the part where they made him erase the tape. Serves them right, thunk I. I no longer think thusly. They should have clobbered him and stamped all over the machine.

There is a machine in our town that deserves a good stamping. It is subversive. And, the recording of a large adult party from start to finish is enough to make me completely antisocial for the rest of my life.

Now, really, we go with a rather nice group of people and I refuse to admit that some of the things that were recorded were really said. For instance. Somewhere along the line there was some talk about the fellas going to a hockey game 2 weeks from Sunday.

In itself, this is innocent enough talk. The guys want to go to the hockey game—let them. Except everybody got into the act. Well, let's put it this way. The guys wanted to go to the hockey game and when us females found out about it, we could see no reason why we shouldn't go to the hockey game too. After all, we all know what a goal is even if some fellas are skating around trying to put a hard rubber disk into a net despite the efforts of some rather husky players who are trying to prevent same.

We watch TV on Saturday afternoon too. Forced into it, I admit, but we watch it. But, the recording of protests and reasons why it was to be stag and the collecting of fees to pay tickets was too awful to listen to.

There was one nice thing about it. According to science, one's voice never sounds like one's voice to one. Something to do with the vocal chords being so near the ear or something. We all denied ourselves like mad when someone in the crowd shouted that there we were.

So, as far as I can figure out, no one said anything. But, what a lot of interesting and embarrasing chatter from a bunch of strangers.

What to Do About the Baby Who Just Cries and Cries

An infant's cry is part of his language. It tells us that he needs something.

Tending to his physical wants will make the baby content again, if his crying was a sign of a specific discomfort. If he's lonesome, offer him comfort. Just be careful not to establish a habit you don't want to continue.

Some infants seem to lull themselves to sleep with a little fretful crying. If this is your baby's habit, don't let it disturb you.

OTHER SMALL babies display a great deal of restlessness and fussing, without any apparent reason. This condition is believed to be due to an immature nervous system. In a short time, the baby's nervous system will catch up with the rest of his development and he will be able to rest more readily. However, it is a good idea to tell your doctor if your baby is restless a great deal of the time.

If it is unusual for your baby to be restless in this fashion, watch him carefully since this may be one of the first signs of an illness.

Colic is probably the cause of most of the prolonged crying during the first 3 months of life. This condition is associated with gas in the intestinal tract. Tension and fatigue, too, may play a part in colic, since many babies have colic spells at a certain time each day, usually in the evening. Your doctor will tell you how to relieve this distress.

Fortunately, even the most severe case of colic seldom continues after 3 months.

SOMETIMES a baby seems to be crying from hunger although he has just been fed. He may need a stronger formula or be ready to have solid foods added to his diet.

The older baby who cries long and often should be checked by his doctor to be sure there is no illness or nutritional problem to account for it. If the baby is physically all right, his daily routine should be reviewed to see if that is where the trouble lies.

Perhaps he is confined too long in his table seat, toilet seat, or in a too-small crib. He may be wrapped so snuggly he can't move freely.

If the crying occurs at naptime or bedtime, he may be getting too much sleep. His nap periods may be too long, or play just before sleeping may be too exciting.

LACK OF attention or not having anything to play with will cause boredom. And a bored baby will cry. Even though Mother is too busy to stop and play with him, talking to baby as she moves about the house, occasionally picking up and returning thrown toys, and placing his playpen where he can see her as she works, keep him from getting lonesome and bored.

The older baby should have plenty of opportunity to make use of his developing strength — to crawl, stand, and walk when he shows readiness for these activities. (Soc

Elsa Maxwell's Advice to Guests

Be Interesting — And Be Gone!

Be interesting — be imaginative — and be gone.

These 3 ingredients, says Elsa Maxwell, will make you a perfect guest — one who gives good value for the invitation received, likely to be invited again as soon as possible.

Miss Maxwell — one of the world's best-known hostesses — gives these tips in an article, "To Be the Perfect Guest."

1. BE INTERESTING: stock in trade for a good guest is conversational ability, developed by cultivating fresh ideas. Keep up with the magazines and newspapers. Read the latest books, the classics.

2. Be imaginative: wit is the peg on which the reputations of great conversationalists hang, but true wit isn't given to many of us. If you haven't got it, never mind. Cultivate a memory for anecdote. When you hear a good story, remember it — but be sure to remember how to tell it. Do as any good actor does: rehearse the bit in private before trying it on an audience; and if it helps the story to exaggerate a little — do so.

TWO SURE-fire silence breakers, Miss Maxwell found, are love and sex. Any conversation will hit a lull at times, she says; but few lulls will survive a question like: "Just what is it that makes men want to leave home for a girl like Marilyn Monroe?"

3. Her final cue for the popular party-goer: be gone. The wise hostess she says, will keep a clock in plain sight. When the clock says time's up, tell your hostess how much you've enjoyed the evening, say good-night — briefly — and shut the door.

The article is condensed from Miss Maxwell's book, "How to Do It."

"PAUSE THAT REFRESHES" takes time out from dancing for 70 young people from seventh and eighth grades in Wheeling school at February 15 Junior Cotillion dance. Music for the affair was provided by Al Popp's orchestra. Parents of the dancers serve as chaperones for the dances, which are held 4 times yearly in the Wheeling school gym.

For Women

Choose 'Pre-Schoolers' Clothes Wisely, Carefully

Comfort, convenience, and serviceability should all be considered when shopping for clothes for your preschool youngsters.

Of these, comfort is most important. Check several points so your child's movement isn't hampered or his skin chafed.

Raglan or kimono-type sleeves are preferable. If they are "set-in," the armholes should be roomy. Shoulder width should span the back and chest with no straining. If too large, shoulder seams won't stay in place.

ELASTIC at the sleeves, waist, or legs should go only part way around, and never be so tight as to leave marks. The neckline should be low enough in front that it doesn't ruh or choke, closely fitted in back but won't ride up, and not so large as to slip off the shoulders.

Hips and crotch of clothing should allow bending, stooping, sitting, and reaching without discomfort. Make sure trousers and sleeves are not too tight or too long.

Seams should be soft, flat, and sewed securely. Separate skirts or trousers are recommended. They should be suspended from the shoulders by straps (crossed or fastened to prevent slipping) or by built-up jumper tops.

WINTER CLOTHING should be light in weight. Put on only enough to prevent chilling. Two lightweight garments are warmer than one heavyweight. This also makes it easier to regulate body heat.

For convenience, shop for preschool clothing that is easy to put on a wriggling youngster and that has self-help features so he can learn to dress himself. Trimming should be as simple as possible.

For serviceability, buy materials that won't stretch or shrink in laundering, require little or no ironing, are colorfast to sun, have adequate reinforcing, and provide allowance for growth by letting out seams and hems.

Violet Society To Meet March 5

Wall Decor Is Vital to Room

The dominant area in any room is its walls. As a result, the manner in which the walls are decorated will play a major part in the appearance of a room.

The quickest and most economical means of completely changing the "look" of a room today is with a ready-to-apply wallpaper such as Birge Quick. In only a few hours and frequently for less than $10, the walls may be redecorated by an amateur.

NEW, READY to-apply wallpapers such as "Quick," are colored and designed to give the average home decorator the beauty and smartness in wall decoration formerly found only in expensive handprinted wallpapers.

As the importance of wall treatment has gained recognition, and the application of wallpaper has been simplified by products such as Quick, bare walls have lost their popularity.

WALLPAPER DESIGNS can make a small room appear larger, can make ceilings appear higher or lower and can help correct other architectural imperfections.

Birge-Quick is available at leading paint, wallpaper, department and hardware stores in this community.

Open Letter to Palatine

An Open Letter to the Village of Palatine.

I think the majority of townspeople have come to the conclusion that they or their needs are of little consequence to the officials of our village. A deaf ear is turned to most pleas, at least the ones that won't bring in revenue.

As a phone call did no good I am hoping that someone in the Village Hall reads the paper and will know how disappointed one mother in town was when she could not get the roads into the Hillside Cemetery opened after the heavy snowfall so that she could visit there.

Are people really becoming so insensitive to others feelings? A funeral from Chicago requested the roads in the cemetery be cleared and then after getting to the cemetery found their wish not granted and had to carry the casket in. I wonder what they thought of Palatine. Next year should we experience the same kind of weather put yourself in my place and the others who have loved ones there and please keep the roads open.

You tell us that one of the reasons our taxes are higher is because we have acquired more snow equipment and you did do a good job of keeping the main roads cleared but it was only by the Grace of God and maybe a careful foot that kept a school child from being hurt from a skidding car on the ice around the schools.

Let's not have another dreadful accident to one of our children before we see some of the results of our high taxes.

Keep Up the Good Work

Keep up the good work and publicity on slum conditions. It seems to me the church could do much to alleviate suffering right at home instead of working so hard for foreign missions.

Mrs. Roy Anderson

"Slums in Arlington Heights?"

There should be little sympathy with people too lazy to provide decent living quarters for themselves. These "ex-migrants" should take their wages in summer or winter and do something for themselves.

The pioneers came out to the prairie and no one heard them crying that "something should be done." They had the gumption and the industrious thrift to help themselves.

People who live in slums deserve no sympathy. Work, thrift and sanitation will make any place habitable. Slums exist because shiftless tenants make them. Grinding poverty and filthy living quarters in America today are conditions that come home to roost with the lazy—just as they did with the savage and the indolent in time past.

We agree that every person must have equality of opportunity; to be politically and economically free in every respect —without reservation or evasion. There, unless sickness or disaster strikes, civic responsibility for the individual should stop.

If people are just lazy or shiftless, the remedy lies in themselves. To baby the lazy recruits, their ranks, many people are laying the foundations for a career of public relief.

'Sticking Your Necks Out'

You are certainly sticking your neck out running the series "Shame of the Suburbs." But in my personal opinion that is to your credit.

The way you exploit the situation is enough to make anyone sad and gooey, but I want to read what can be done in a practical way to better conditions.

Who are the officials to be reached and prodded. What are their names? When are they up for appointment. When and how can legislation be enacted to change existing laws? Is there a better approach?

I was going to discontinue The Herald, but you've made me change my mind.

Seek Help for Orphanage

My husband and I are with the army occupational troops in Okinawa.

As former homeowners and subscribers of the Palatine Enterprise, we know of the many nice things the Paddock Publications have done and of the great many people it reaches.

We hope you will have a space in the publications for our personal appeal in behalf of the orphanges in Okinawa. We army wives have lots of spare time and some of us have been making clothes and mending old clothing for these very deserving and needy children. We do not have much to work with. This an excellent opportunity for the missionary societies of the churches and for people who love children. They are so grateful for the things we do for them.

We could use adult clothing which we cut down for the children, all ages of children's clothing, patterns, buttons, zippers, small toys, pieces of old blankets or anything they care to send.

The scars of the terrible battles fought here are many, but these brave determined people with the aid and guidance of the American occupational groups are making excellent progress.

It has been quite cold here this winter and clothing for the children is very inadequate.

Garden Section for Papers?

I have a suggestion to offer:

I believe you could increase your circulation a great deal by including a garden section in your weekly paper. The majority of the people now living in the suburbs are ex-city folks, such as myself, much in need of expert guidance in items such as what to plant, when to plant, fertilizer and the thousand garden hints that could and would make our gardening jobs easier and more successful and the end result would make the general appearance of the suburbs more beautiful.

You now devote nearly a whole page to what happened 50 years ago.

The Sunday sections of all the Chicago papers have a garden section. Why can't our neighborhood paper do the same?

The Way We See It

Arlington High School Does Commendable Job for Pupils

Debates on education—frequently angry and ill-tempered—have been a repetitious and depressing feature of American life since the Russian Sputnik began its streak around the globe.

Comparisons of Soviet and American school systems and the quality of instruction offered is exciting "panic" in some quarters of the U. S. If we restrict ourselves to scientific education, the Soviet schools do have a better science curriculum than U. S. public schools—but then France, Germany, Italy, and Denmark have even better ones, so why choose Russia as a model?

On the contrary, considering the magnitude of the tasks which the nation has increasingly imposed on its educators and which the educators themselves have eagerly taken over, the results have been astonishing.

Future historians will marvel at the level of literacy and at the achievements of science that can be credited to America's wildly pluralistic, decentralized educational system which has been operating at a discount rate, with the people paying in times of comparative prosperity less than 50 per cent for value received.

In view of this national educational "controversy," it is gratifying to note the workmanlike job that Arlington high school district 214 has been doing for its students, and in spite of the distracting turmoil of the district's record growth.

Curriculum at Arlington took on added significance with the recent report of Dr. James B. Conant, director of the Study for the American High School, whose recommended program parallels closely that of Arlington.

This educational achievement is doubly significant because its development took place during a period when the high school was faced with the pressures of sheer economics—where to dig up enough money to finance classrooms and teachers for an increasing deluge of teenagers.

Years before Sputnik made the public aware of what the high school had been aware of some time, Arlington's board members and administrators were devoting special study to the QUALITY of education as well as the QUANTITY.

In his report, Dr. Conant emphasized the important need for special education of gifted students, urging high schools to adopt "ability grouping" for these pupils. Arlington initiated such a program in 1946, although most suburban schools didn't follow suit until 1950-1952 and Chicago high schools are just now adapting the program.

District 214 in 1946 developed remedial classes for students who couldn't master traditional college preparatory courses, accepting the fact that the same curriculum can't be taught to students in a school system providing educational opportunity for all. The school program was developed into 4 basic educational channels: college preparatory course, business education, vocational course, and a general course.

Some 5 years ago, the school administrators and board members realized that while the needs of slower learners were being met in the "grouping" program, the school was not doing enough for gifted, more ambitious students.

To fill this gap, accelerated courses were offered in science, mathematics, English, history, and foreign language to allow students to complete 4 years of high school work in addition to 1 year of college-level study.

Although Dr. Conant's recent report urged only a 3-way grouping, Arlington was able because of its size to develop 5-way "ability grouping" in almost all its courses.

Developing and expanding the curriculum is a continuing process at Arlington. For example, next fall the school will begin offering fourth year study in foreign languages, an engineering industrial arts course for students planning to study engineering in college, and a course in Far Eastern history, a heretofore untouched field in most high schools.

The high school's philosophy is one of encouraging students who are capable and have a desire to learn—but not at the expense of destroying an invaluable balance in curriculum. Accelerated, special programs are voluntary and available not only to mathematics and science students but to gifted pupils in English, art, music, language, classics, etc., as well.

Explains Curriculum Director Reuben Conrad: "If we concentrate wholly on math and science, we're in just as much danger as if we had no scientists at all. For the greatest challenge of all, if we want to survive in the future, is learning to live with others."

Competition or Courtesy

The competitive spirit enters into practically everything that Americans do. This quality of the individual perhaps more than any other single attribute is responsible for the country's greatness. It is to be expected then that the competitive spirit enters into the everyday business—or pleasure—of driving. Increasing congestion on the highways in recent years appears only to increase the degree of competitive driving.

Unfortunately, this quality becomes explosive when it is demonstrated behind the wheel. The urge to "out drive" the other fellow leads to acts of discourtesy which sooner or later trigger destruction.

According to the Institute for Safer Living, discourtesy or lack of consideration for the rights of others now ranks among the most serious driving faults. It often surpasses lack of driving skill, experience, or judgment as the underlying cause of an accident. These discourteous acts may show up on police and fatality records as "speeding," "passing on hills and curves," "running stop signs," "jumping lights," "hogging the road," and numerous similar violations of good driving practice. But hidden though it may be, the basic cause is there. Clues as to its presence are found in the tangled metal and bloody debris of auto wrecks from coast to coast.

This country now has more than 78 million registered motor vehicle drivers sharing the road with each other in what is often bumper to bumper traffic. Cars and drivers are increasing at an annual rate much faster than additional highway space to accommodate them. This means that drivers must learn to curb their competitive instincts in traffic and develop new concepts of patience and tolerance. Failing this, ways must be found to rule the aggressive, the competitive, the discourteous driver off the road.

The latter measure may prove difficult. Courtesy is a product of the spirit which in itself cannot be enforced by law. It must spring from within the individual himself. For him to understand his inborn competitive tendencies and how they affect his behavior in traffic is a progressive step toward achieving courtesy—and safety.

In the Shadow of the Steeple

'Common Folk' Win Over Do-It-Yourself

by REV. WILLIAM O. MCGill

Score one for the common people. Chalk up a triumph for the nebbishes frustrated by gremlins. My neighbor and I have done it. We have defeated the forces of the nether world —and we have brought into being an ice-skating rink.

Don't think it was easy, for it was not. On several occasions he decided that it would have been better if his brother-in-law had given the boys a burro several years ago — because now they would not be on speaking terms. Then their uncle would not have given them a handy-dandy plastic skating rink, 32 feet in diameter.

"DO IT YOURSELF" always conjures up the man of the house, comfortably clad, achieving great results. Quietly and efficiently he goes about his tasks finding a great sense of fulfillment making things in his little workshop.

To us, it always means sore hands, aching muscles and endless frustrations. Improvisation is the order of the day; as soon as each improvisation takes care of one frustration, 7 other demons come to take its place.

AFTER 2 MONTHS of talk and calculation as to the amount of water it would take to fill the rink, we started out. The day was too cold and the wind was too brisk.

Can you envision a sheet of plastic, about 33 feet in diameter deciding to become a sail while 2 foolish characters try to clip it to an aluminum "fence" 6 inches high? The chief end served by the fence is to give the sail a certain rigidity, making the take-off surer.

It looked as though the boys who were standing on it might learn something about aerodynamics and the use of a magic carpet — at least for awhile.

ALTHOUGH THE day was too cold for our fingers, it was not cold enough to freeze the water. So we looked at it and at the thermometer. Then we did not need to look at the thermometer. We couldn't even look at the rink — it was covered with snow.

The brother-in-law came to visit. After toying with the idea of not-speaking, cordiality became the order of the day. Result? Uncle shoveled the snow off the rink.

Water under snow does not freeze smoothly. Three or 4 days later, it became possible to skate on about half the surface. We sprinkled it, morning and evening. Within only 4 weeks after putting down the rink, there was a fairly smooth ice over all the circle. Sprinkling was then needed only briefly at the end of the day's skating to sort of clear up the scuff marks.

Now — it's too cold to skate.

Superstitions, Primitive Rituals

How Science Defeated Tuberculosis 'Demons'

by JOAN TURNER

"Take a wolf's liver boiled in thin wine, bacon of a sow fed herbs, and the flesh of a she-donkey. Eat with the broth."

Sound like a gourmet's delight?

Perhaps. But in ancient Rome this speciality was used as a cure for tuberculosis!

THE ANCIENT world was familiar with TB. The first traces of the disease are found in tombs of the dead from the Neolithic period about 5,000 BC. Throughout the ages men tried to cure the disease. They drew on their own superstitions, on their limited knowledge of the human body, and on their incomplete scientific observations.

The Hindu People used to pass a child with TB through a hole in a tree 3 times. Officials of The eTuberculosis Institute and other tuberculosis agencies here agree that this is a very interesting practice, but they suggest that modern Chicagoland residents stick to the more orthodox forms of treatment that will return the TB patient to a normal, healthy and useful life.

TB WAS thought by the Polynesians to be caused by the demon Mumu. To cure it, a priest swumg a spear over the patient's head and sang, "Oh, Mumu, I am about to spear you." If the spear didn't slip and finish off the patient, the evil spirit of the disease would flee the body.

In later times it was believed that witches caused TB. Therefore, the best treatment was to drink the milk of cows fed in a churchyard.

Mummy powder remained in use as a cure for centuries. One particularly bizarre recipe for obtaining the mummy powder in Alexandria reads, "Take a woman with red hair, nourish her with fruits up to 30 years, drown her in a vase filled with honey and aromatics, close, and open in 120 years."

OPEN UP THE vase and you're ready to go with the raw materials for the cure!

The Arabs had several exotic cures. One was composed of sugar of roses; another was a combination of oak, pomegranate, mimosa, and acacia. Unfortunately, lovely as these mixtures were, they did not cure TB. Another exotic cure was found among the Greeks who took a vulture's lung burnt upon vine logs, and mixed with a lily blossom in wine.

Tree frogs were popular in some countries, because spitting into the mouth of a tree frog transferred the disease to him. Another cure was the eating of the "middle of a snake."

ANOTHER CURE required the eating of the lungs of a hog and the flesh of a cow.

The TB sufferer could check on this cure. He was advised to run for an hour after taking it. If he didn't get sick, the cure was a success. Boiled crocodile was recommended for a chronic cough.

Amulets worn to ward off TB were numerous. They varied from being the root of quince to a mole's right foot.

Tied in with the medieval belief in kings was the belief that the ruler had special healing powers. Kings held audiences during which they laid their hands on TB patients who failing to respond to treatment had been advised to "betake themselves to the king." Records show that Edward I of England touched 533 TB patients in one month, and Philip of Valois laid his hand on 1,500 at one ceremony.

BETWEEN 1662 and 1682, Charles II was reported to have touched more than 92,000 victims of the disease.

Sounds incredible, doesn't it? But as late as the 18th Century no less famous a man than John Wesley suggested curing TB by "cold bathing and breathing into a hole cut in wet earth."

And this is not much stranger than the attitude 50 years ago when climate was considered the greatest single factor in the treatment of TB. Shortly after the turn of the century, fresh air treatment was inaugerated in Edwards Sanitarium and a number of fresh air schools were established in Chicago for the treatment of child victims.

LATER, IT was established that climate alone would not cure. Rest, aided by surgery, became an integral and important part of the treatment. This prevailed until about 10 years ago with the advent of specific drugs against TB.

Today, the disease is treated with a combination of drugs and with surgery, with a program of rest, good diet, and modified recreation.

Quotoons

A successful woman is one who doesn't have to work as hard after catching a man as she did trying to catch him in the first place.

An opportunist is a person who knows how to take a hard knock and hammer something good home with it.

The only time of the day a woman doesn't have the courage to lie about her age is before breakfast.

Perhaps one of the reasons the automobile is so popular is that you can drive one without owning it.

A lot of reputations are run down by reckless talking.

Unchanging Human and Spiritual Values

Weekly Has Vital Function

Rapid physical changes sometimes give the appearance of altering long-established traditions and values. But the thousands of newspapers comprising America's weekly press still deal in human and spiritual values which do not change.

In addition to providing a permanent chronological record of community life they have always been a leading force for progress. Their editorial pages are a great influence in shaping public opinion.

IN THE midst of world-wide changing conditions and startling advances in methods of disseminating ideas and information, the community newspaper is yearly growing in stature. It is the primary visual source of information and a forum of opinion on local, county, and state issues.

Weekly newspapers go into the homes of more than 20 million subscribers and are generally read by the whole family. It is conservative to estimate that between 2 and 3 people read the average community paper — over 50 million readers of the hometown newspaper.

The editor of the local newspaper is usually one of the best known and most respected members of the community, he knows everyone and everyone knows him. Because he is well-known and well-informed on matters of local importance, an editorial opinion expressed by him on any question is noted by his readers, even if they do not agree with him. So it is that thousands of weekly newspaper editors in this country hold a position of unusual influence.

OUR tremendous transportation and retailing systems capable of moving and displaying all the nation's wares, would be of little value unless people knew what products were available, at what cost and in addition, had the desire to buy. Creating demand is the province of good advertising. Newspapers hold top honors as the leading advertising medium today. There is a reason for this and it was summed up recently by an advertising executive who said: "At the retail level, nothing sells like newspaper advertising." And across the nations, in small towns and suburban areas, it is generally true that a regular ad in the hometown paper is the mark of a successful business.

The people, who live and work and own property in the countryside areas of our country, have traditionally been a stabilizing influence in our political and economic development. This influence is doubly important now as the trend toward suburban living brings millions of new people in contact with it.

IN THE YEARS from 1955 to 1975, if present trends continue, over 38 million people will move to the suburbs of our larger cities. These new dwellers on the fringes of rural America will find their lives fundamentally changed. While they work in the city, they will not be a part of it.

The growing number of people in suburban areas, who read their weekly papers as well as a daily, is resulting in an ever-broadening sphere of influence for the country press.

Reporting the news is a primary responsibility, but beyond this with an awareness of their position and influence editors as never before are presenting thoughtful and effective comment on events involving the opportunities, liberties, and well being of all of us. The people will be able to make wise decisions on specific issues as they arise only if they are kept continuously informed.

Shame of the Suburbs

WANTED—A PLACE TO LIVE

(Second in a series)

David Garcia, 35 years old and a husband and father of 3, is an exceptional man. He's the sort of fellow friends single out with the comment—"If we could only do what he's done!"

For Garcia has solved the toughest problem for a member of the Spanish-American minority in the northwest suburban area: finding a decent place to live.

The 5 Garcias live in a trim but small home on Franklin rd., about one-half mile northwest of Palatine's village limits. The house has asbestos siding and by no stretch of the imagination would it ever be featured in Better Homes and Gardens magazine.

But it's their own home. They bought it last year.

Now the average home-buyer is not considered exceptional. In these days of low down payments and long-term mortgages, almost everybody in the suburbs owns their own home.

Why then was this purchase noteworthy, even remarkable?

To understand why, you must consider the background of the man. Garcia was born and raised on a farm in Texas. His father, not educated himself, didn't insist that the boy go to school and so there was little time spent in a classroom.

With no skill to call his own, Garcia stuck with farm work and spent his days harvesting crops as part of the vast "stoop labor" force of the Southwest.

In his thick-accented English, Garcia tells how he and his wife and children came north about 4 years ago. With winter work scarce in Texas, they decided to stay here and he got a job at the Creamery Package plant in Arlington Heights.

Garcia—a man of energy and determination—wasn't content to do unskilled labor. He acquired a highly-specialized skill the hard way—by learning it on the job and after he was in his 30's. He became a plumber.

But the family was still crammed into a 1-room shack on a farm. They ran up against the barriers of prejudice and cost in their struggle to get out of slum living conditions. Rents were either too high or rental quarters were unavailable to "Mexicans." A down payment on a house seemed completely out of reach.

They saved every penny they could anyway. Garcia's wife worked part time and they at last amassed $1,500 in savings. They were finally able to find a house for which that sum covered a down payment and buy it.

Sitting in his bright and cheery home, which has clean venetian blinds at the windows and fresh linoleum on all the floors, Garcia searched for words to describe his ambition. In a combination of words and gestures, it comes out that he has a fierce desire to improve himself . . . "to always go up, up . . . "

He realizes what a handicap his lack of education was and his children will stay in school.

Garcia's climb from miserable living conditions to the independence of home ownership is unfortunately not typical. Others, some without his drive and adaptability, some trampled at the bottom of the economic and housing ladder by circumstance, background or prejudice, have been unable to climb.

Out of the estimated 800 Spanish-American families who live year-round in the area bounded by Bensenville, Mundelein, Evanston and Barrington, only a handful, perhaps 10 per cent, have adequate housing.

The rest live mostly in tumbledown colonies of trailers and shacks, clustered in farmyards along such roads as Landmeier, Higgins, Algonquin and Touhy.

Generally the ones who are better off have trailers, though often of pre-war vintage. Trailers can be very comfortable living quarters and are for several hundred families of construction workers temporarily brought to the northwest area.

But the trailers owned by the Spanish-Americans are not parked in trailer parks, which must have suitable water supply, septic and drainage systems and the like. Their trailers stand, nearly always in violation of county building and zoning regulations, behind warehouses or barns and beside farmhouses.

Because their trailers cannot be hooked up to a non-existent sewer system, the trailerites must haul water from a well and use an outdoor privy. The trailers are warmer, sturdier and better furnished than the shacks and brooder houses often in the same farmyard.

Typical of the family who is at this middle level of trailer housing is the Martinez family who live south of Higgins rd. opposite Mount Prospect rd. One boy is in the first grade at Elk Grove school and a high school age daughter works full-time in a restaurant at O'Hare airport. Martinez has owned the 3-room trailer for 2 years and pays no rent to park it because he works for the farmer-landlord in the fields in summer. The 3 rooms were spotless and freshly pressed linens were stacked on a daveno ready to be put away when reporters visited. A parakeet chirped in a corner, adding a little cheer to the living room.

The Martinez dream of the day they can buy a bigger trailer and one that has something besides "outdoor services," in the words of Mrs. Martinez. The husband recalled what happened once before when they had sought more living space.

"We tried to rent a farmhouse near Itasca," said the husky construction laborer. "The woman made us come back any number of times before she told us she didn't want us because we were Latin-Americans."

The Martinez living conditions might seem intolerable to the suburbanite housed in his bi-level. But the trailers are luxurious compared to the lowest type of housing available to these former migrant workers and their families.

This third level of housing consists of tiny 1-room huts, occasionally winterized but usually meant only to be used as summertime dwellings.

The Gasco family, with 5 young children and the parents, are jammed into a typical place. It once was a brooder house. The only furnishings are 2 double-size beds and a table. One window is covered to keep out the cold. To get water one must walk across Landmeier rd. to the pump at another farm. Even more primitive are the toilet facilities, an outdoor privy, or for the sick mother kept to her bed, privy pots.

One light bulb barely reaches out to the corner of the 15 by 20-ft. room. The seriously ill mother wears a babushka and coat in bed to keep warm.

By any standard, the Gasco home is far below the minimum needed for decent family living. But their plight is shared by many. The average family probably has quarters which fall somewhere in between the barely acceptable home of the Martinez and the squalor in which the Gasco family exists.

What can be done to raise the level of accommodations for the majority of these forgotten suburbanites? How can others be helped to the self sufficiency of the Garcia family?

These questions will be discussed and possible solutions given in a later article.

AN ICE BOX sits forlornly outside a chicken brooder house converted into a dwelling for Spanish-Americans. There is apparently not room for the ice box inside the building, which can be recognized as a home by a television aerial sticking from its roof. There is no running water for any of the families who live here on a farm near the intersection of Algonquin rd. and route 83.

THIS COLLECTION OF TRAILERS and one-room shacks is a part of the suburban scene near Mount Prospect and Higgins rds. At least these families do not have to pay rent in winter months to park their trailers, as do some families. Instead they work in the truck farmer's fields and warehouse during growing and harvesting season. In striking contrast to primitive outhouse on the left is the swing set on the right.

ALTHOUGH IT PROVIDES a bare minimum of living space for the 5 people who live in it, reeks of kerosene used in a heater, and has neither toilet nor running water, this trailer on an Elk Grove township farm is called "one of the better places" available to Spanish-Americans, according to one person familiar with the housing situation.

CROWDED INTO A SMALL TRAILER in a farmyard on Algonquin rd. near route 83 are the 5 members of the Rodriguez family. The mother, 28-year-old Mrs. Maria Alida Rodriguez received only 2 years of schooling and wants her children to receive more. The children are Arthur, 8, right foreground, Alonzo, 5, behind mother, and baby Lupe, 6 months, in mother's arms.

Did you ever see a three-quarter ton egg? You may have given several of them away—free. If your birds come into large egg size too early, up to one-third of their eggs may be extra large and jumbo with the result that you can give away three quarters of a ton of eggs per year for each 1,000 layers you keep. The poultry business isn't that good—you can't afford it. The answer? Buy H&N "Nick Chick" Leghorns for the best egg size, the best production, livability, feed efficiency, and egg quality, all combined to earn you the most money. NEED SOMETHING? SEE THE WANT ADS?

Recession to Hit Meat, Vegetable Farmers First

by L. H. SIMERAL

Many farmers are concerned about the likely effects of the business recession on their income. In a previous report these effects would depend on how long the recession lasts, how severe it becomes, what the farmer is producing, and what the government does to protect the farmer from the effects of reduced consumer spending for food and other farm products. The previous report discussed the first two questions. This one concerns the latter two.

In the short run—one to two years — farmers who produce meats and fruits and vegetables seem likely to suffer more loss of income than those who produce the price-supported crops. In the longer run, the effects of depression will spread to practically all farmers, since the government could not support one large group while another group carried the full load of feeding the unemployed.

SO FAR IN this recession the unemployed consist largely of the workers who spend the largest shares of their incomes for food. These people are the nation's industrial workers. They run the factories and operate the mines. They typically spend 30 per cent or more of their incomes for food, whereas most other consumers spend less than 25 per cent.

As most farmers well know, marketing expenses are relatively fixed and are not easily reduced. In fact, some labor groups will make strong efforts to secure wage increases this year. Thus most of any cuts in consumer spending for food will be passed back to the producer in the form of lower prices.

In the 20 years between the two World Wars, farmers' gross cash receipts went up and down, step by step, with changes in the incomes of industrial workers. The relationship may not be so close now, but any major decline in the incomes of non-farm workers is certain to cut farmers' income.

TO DATE THE price effects of unemployment on farm income have been largely hidden by other factors. A shrinkage in the supply of meat has more than offset the decline in consumer demand. Meat production was 5 per cent lower in December than it was the year before, 7 per cent lower in January, and 10 per cent lower in early February.

Prices of canned goods probably have not yet been marked down; but if consumers are buying less, stocks will not move as fast as expected and prices will be reduced later. This year's contracts for the production of canning crops may not, however, be much affected by later cuts in retail prices.

The recent loss of crops in Florida and elsewhere will tend to offset the price effects of reduced consumer demand for fresh fruits and vegetables in industrial areas.

IF THE RECESSION deepens and continues for a year or two—or more—there will be increasing pressure upon Congress to cut price support levels for crops—and dairy products. This pressure will come from the unemployed and from taxpayers, who greatly outnumber farmers.

Any persistent recession in the United States will be accompanied by similar conditions in many other countries. Since the products from 15 to 18 per cent of the country's acres are sold in foreign countries, depression in those countries would cut the markets for our crops—especially wheat, cotton, tobacco, corn, and soybeans.

People Can Overcome Carelessness

"We have positive proof that people can overcome carelessness and haste that bring on accidents," says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois.

More than twice as many fatal accidents occurred in farm homes last year as on farms outside the home. Falls and fractures caused more than half of the home accidents that resulted in death. About 80 per cent of the falls happened when the victim fell on the same level. Others were caused by falling downstairs or off stepladders.

About one-fourth of the home accidental deaths resulted from fires. In many cases the fatal burn was caused by an explosion when people used gasoline or kerosene to start a fire.

Parents and other adults in every home have the responsibility to see that safe conditions are provided and maintained and that safe practices are followed at all times. An orderly home is a safe home. (Fm

Agriculture is changing. This change has been in food since 1940. Food produced went up 34 per cent. Mouths to feed went up 25 per cent.

There are 1,300,000 fewer farms in the United States today than there were 15 years ago. Farm machinery replaced, 2,700,000 farm workers.

AGRICULTURE IS OUT of balance with the rest of our economy. Earnings of resources used in farming, especially of labor, are low compared with returns elsewhere.

Two kinds of adjustment needs are evident. One is resource use. This kind of adjustment results from the fact that many farms have not yet fully adjusted to modern machinery and methods.

Farmers were asked how many acres of harvested crops would be the very best amount, when put together with adequate machinery, a normal livestock program, and 1.4 man-years of family labor. These farmers estimated about 180 to 200 harvested acres. Such an adjustment would reduce the number of farms in Illinois by about 30 per cent.

THE OTHER KIND of adjustment is total production. Total farm output has increased a little too rapidly compared with the growth in demand. This high farm output lowers farm prices, forcing farmers to either enlarge their farms or to go to off-farm employment, or to do part-time farming along with off-farm work.

Looks to me like there will be fewer opportunities to enter farming as an occupation. Therefore, I told a group of farm boys and girls at the Arlington high school, at a Career Day last Thursday to enter college following high school.

THE AVERAGE college graduate earns at least $100,000 more than a high school graduate during a lifetime. Regardless of what comes in the future, those who have more training in most cases will be able to fit the situation.

As your sons or daughters graduate from high school, please encourage them to get some more training. This is something that can't be taken away. (Fm

Open Housing Healthier Than Closed

Calves wintered in "open housing" are usually healthier than calves in conventional closed-type housing.

Dr. E. I. Pilchard Jr., University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine, says that open housing is a new trend in winter housing for dairy calves. Calves can get plenty of fresh air while humidity is kept low and strong winds and drafts are eliminated.

Calves of about the same age can be kept in groups of 10 or fewer. Dr. Pilchard says this allows the farmer to keep a closer watch on individual animals and to spot signs of disease in an early stage. Fewer calves in each pen also mean that fewer will be exposed to disease if one of the animals becomes infected.

The housing unit should be well cleaned before being used. Remove old bedding and boards, and scrape and scrub the floor, walls and equipment with a good disinfectant.

Dr. Pilchard recommends that a veterinarian be called in case any signs of disease are seen in dairy calves. If he is called early, he can prescribe treatment before the disease gets a good start.

State Employment Service Farm Conference March 7

The northwest office of the Illinois state employment service will hold its annual farm conference at 1:30 p.m., March 7, at the Illinois state employment service office, 5306 W. Lawrence ave., Chicago.

This year the Illinois state employment service staff will attempt to answer any questions that may be asked pertaining to social security, labor, and housing problems.

Present will be the state farm Supervisor Richard Calhoun. He will explain new agricultural laws and give a complete picture of farm conditions in Illinois. Dean Lemke of the social security board in this area will answer any questions on social security.

At this meeting all the tentative orders for estimated labor needed for the coming season should be placed with the Illinois state employment service for recruitment and consignment. This method proved very staisfactory last season. (Fm

Meters In Farm Home Tell Fuel Costs

Farmer Raymond Keppy (above) of Scott County, Iowa, reads LP-Gas meters in test to determine operating costs for appliances. Daughter Myrna Keppy (right) prepares load for dryer. LP-Gas is also used for stock tank heating on the Keppy farm (left).

Iowa farmer Raymond Keppy selected liquefied petroleum gas for his new home because of the fuel's efficient, clean-burning qualities. But he also wanted to determine if the "beyond-the-mains" gas was as economical as it is efficient. So, through the cooperation of the National LP-Gas Council, he installed individual meters for the year-round air conditioner which heats in winter and cools in summer, the built-in range, refrigerator, clothes dryer, automatic water heater, and incinerator. The same fuel is also used on the 300 acre farm for pig farrowing, chick brooding, and stock tank heating.

Keppy found it took only 1,876 gallons of LP-Gas to heat their large home (2,350 square feet) in winter and 1,040 to cool it in summer. Other monthly consumption averages were: water heating, 57.6 gallons; cooking, 15.4 gallons; clothes drying, 7.7 gallons; incineration, 15.6 gallons, and refrigeration, 22.8 gallons. Outside, for the two month period of Februry-March, it took 250 gallons to heat the 24' x 80' farrowing house, 192.6 gallons to keep water warm for 300 head of cattle, and 100 gallons to brood one houseful of chicks. After checking gallonage cost, Keppy said he was convinced that LP-Gas is economical. Other farm families can multiply the Keppy gallonage figures by the price of LP-Gas in their areas to determine costs for similar consumption on their farms.

Landscape Specialist To Speak

A meeting on how to have an attractive lawn and a well landscaped home has been planned for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 5, at the Farm Bureau building, 201 N. Dunton St., Arlington Heights. H. R. Kemmerer, extension landscape specialist from the University of Illinois, will be present to discuss the above subjects.

James Fizzell, assistant farm agent for Cook County and a graduate of the floriculture department at the University of Illinois, will discuss the wise use of flowers to make the home attractive.

The public is invited. (Fm

Water Will Boil Until It Freezes

Water will "boil" until it freezes in a dramatic demonstration of freeze-drying—one of the latest food preservation methods—at the first annual Farm and Home festival on the University of Illinois campus.

This exhibit is only one of many slated for the "World of Processing and Distribution" at the March 27, 28 and 29 show, says Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser. The Festival will have five other "worlds" that help to set the theme, "The Wonder Worlds of Farm and Home Progress."

Many exhibits will show some the far-reaching impact of new food and food product marketing patterns that have taken us from the country store to the modern supermarket.

Supplementing the Festival's exhibits, displays and demonstrations will be a selection of outstanding speakers with something to say about important problems facing agriculture today. Information on topics from the future of dwarf corn to progress on dwarf fruits will be presented.

Mees says the festival promises to be quite a show—regardless of whether a person lives on a farm, in town or in a city. (F

Santa Fe Ups Scholarships

The Santa Fe Railway has announced a $6,550 increase in its annual college scholarship awards to boys and girls, participating in 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America activities.

In authorizing the increase in the 1958 programs, E. S. Marsh, Santa Fe president at Chicago, said the railroad will contribute $15,050 this year toward helping rural youth defray college expenses.

The 25 4-H Club scholarships awarded throughout the Santa Fe system will be increased $100, so each of them will amount to $350.

The nine Santa Fe-served states participating in the programs are Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

Four of the scholarships are offered to Illinois farm youth, two in each organization. (Fm

To Honor Parents

More than 63,000 Illinois 4-H boys and girls will pay special tribute to their parents during National 4-H Club Week March 1-8.

These young people, between 10 and 21 years old, have selected as their theme, "4-H Salute to Parents." During this week they will honor parents and recognize the important part they play in the lives of children and youth.

The over-all purpose of National 4-H Club Week is to inform the public about the meaning and value of the 4-H program. Boys and girls will also be invited to join 4-H, and new members will be assisted in starting 4-H projects.

The 4-H'ers also will honor volunteer 4-H leaders who help to guide 4-H work in local clubs throughout the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

4-H Club Week will be highlighted nationally in Washington, D.C., when six outstanding members present the annual 4-H Club "Report to the Nation." The 4-H-'ers will review the report with President Eisenhower. They will also visit Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the federal extension service. (Fm

PROBE JARS COUNTY

Off The REGISTER Record

by HEC

- An Amazing Investigation
- The Facts In A Nutshell
- What's The Pitch
- Here's Bad Tax News

A Du Page county grand jury has been called into special session at Wheaton in one of the most amazing investigations on record in this county. The deliberations were expected to wind up Wednesday afternoon, after 27 supervisors, all subpoenaed by the state's attorney, had been heard.

There were no direct charges against these men. The public records of their activities and claims had been checked by a Wheaton newspaper at the courthouse where they are a matter of public record. The paper claimed in a series of sensational stories that irregularities were evident and that the taxpayers were being bilked

The charges seemed to be leveled at only a few supervisors, the main one from Wheaton. He received the brunt of the attack. But all expense accounts and claims of all supervisors for the past year were published, leaving them open to the implications of wrongdoing.

In the heat of the journalistic probing, the state's attorney assigned a member of his staff to investigate the charges made. After four days of investigation, he, the state's attorney, concluded that there were sufficient grounds to bring the matter before a special grand jury. He thereupon subpoenaed the entire county board.

The newspaper responsible for this action said in a story it came about in the wake of a series of articles "charging that CERTAIN members of the board were padding their claims and that the Board was collecting illegal per diem for Forest Preserve Commission work."

It has been pointed out that the practice of collecting per diem for Forest Preserve Commission work has been in effect for at least 15 years. It appears to be a matter of legal interpretation, or custom.

It can hardly be construed to be deliberate wrongdoing, since it was the practice before many of the present membership were on the board. It would be pushing legal reasoning pretty far to charge criminal intent on the basis of facts set forth.

Since the newspaper conducting the investigating charged only that CERTAIN members of the board were padding claims, why has the stigma of guilt been placed on all the rest?

The state's attorney is the legal advisor to the county board. That's why we say this is an amazing investigation.

The bad news is out. Your tax valuations are going to be increase 5%. This is a blanket increase and affects all due to the state revenue department's action in setting a multiplier of 1.05 for Du Page county.

It means that Addison township's total valuations of $86,703,350 for 1957 will be increased, according to our mathematics, by $4,335,167.50. That's a pretty good increase in valuation.

All townships in the county will be affected accordingly. The chances are that everybody's taxes will be increased proportionately. Only a lowering of rates would reduce taxes or keep them where they are.

If your tax bill last year was $500 and if rates remain the same, you can expect an increase of about $25 on your new tax bill. It could be more.

The state sets a multiplier (tax factor) for each county in an effort to establish a principle of 60 per cent property assessment all over the state.

If as in one county in Illinois the assessor, to show you he is a good fellow, assesses your property at less than 10 per cent of its real value for tax purposes, the state steps in and sets a multiplier of 9.0 which brings it up pretty close to the rest of the properties in the other 101 counties. How would you like to have your assessment multiplied by 9?

Teachers Recommend School Program On TV This Sunday

"Satellites, Schools and Survival," a half hour documentary film narrated by Charles Van Doren, will be shown on WNBQ this Sunday, March 2, at 1:30 p.m.

This film has been produced by the National Education association. The Bensenville elementary teachers urge you to watch it. The film will present the relationship between our American education system and our country's survival as a free nation.

Several noted Americans will appear including, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, senate majority leader, and H. R. Gaither Jr., chairman of the board of the Ford Foundation.

Besides these interviews the film will show the growth of American education since 1900 and features an eighth grade science class at work.

THE CHANGES that 50 years have brought is readily apparent in this old photo of Bunge hardware in its 1st year of operation in the building that still stands in Itasca just north of the bank. The horses in the background at the left seem to be scoffing at the motor car which they had hardly begun to consider a rival. Bunge's 50th anniversary celebration is this weekend.

Call Grand Jury Back Tuesday To Finish Supervisor Quiz

The grand jury's study into charges that county board members—at least a few—have been padding expense accounts has been continued to next Tuesday.

FOURTEEN HOURS OF appearances Tuesday and Wednesday before the jury and State's Attorney William Guild came to a close at 5 p.m. Wednesday when the jury promptly announced its decision to continue the probe to next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

At that time the panel of 4 women and 19 men may immediately work toward verdicts or might conceivably call back some of the supervisors for additional questioning. Culmination of the case is expected, however, within a week.

BEGINNING AT 10 a.m. Tuesday the board members were called before the jury by Guild individually. The appearance of most lasted about 30 minutes, but a few of the county board members were interrogated as long as an hour, it was reported.

In the meantime, at least one supervisor has disclosed that the morale of the board at this time, even though the possibility of grand jury action remains indefinite, is "very low." Board members have been effected both mentally and physically.

WoodDale Zoning Hearing March 17

The Wood Dale zoning board of appeals will conduct a public hearing March 17 at 8 p.m., to consider a petition asking for the rezoning from "B" residential to "A" commercial classification of the property on the southwest corner of Commercial st. and Walnut ave., it was announced this week by Joseph J. Vachout, zoning board chairman.

LOCAL JURORS

Among the 23 persons serving on the current Du Page grand jury as nominated by the county jury commission are 2 people from local sectors.

They are Ethel S. Anderson, Wood Dale rd., RR 1, Bensenville, and Clarence E. Gusterine, 514 Edgewood, RR 3, Wood Dale. Kenneth L. Hales, Glen Ellyn, is serving as foreman.

ONE OF THE members only lightly involved in the padding charges has said he will definitely resign. Some others are so disgusted that they say they may never again turn in any vouchers for expenses or claims.

Makes A Big Jump From Ballet To Texas Air Base

Ralph Taylor has found it's a long way from Sadler Well's ballet in London to the Lackland air force base in Texas in more ways than one.

THE SON of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, 334 Miner, Bensenville, he is a professional ballet dancer who performed with the widely known Sadler Wells group during a previous air force tour that found him assigned to an English base.

Using the professional name of Edward Konstantine, but simply Airman 3/C Taylor to the air force, he took naturally to the stage since it's in the family. His mother was formerly a dancer and an aunt, Alicia Markova, is a well known ballerina.

WHILE IN ENGLAND he appeared before Queen Elizabeth and has also been seen by audiences in Chicago, New York and "too many other places to recall." Airman Taylor hopes to resume his dancing activities as soon as he is settled down at a permanent station here in the states.

He has also had summer stock experience that has included some dramatic roles which, he admits, appeal to him strongly, but one of his most important jobs to date has been as choreographer for one of Carol Channing's programs.

Redmond Out For Coroner Abolishment

William A. Redmond, Bensenville candidate on the Democrat ticket for the Illinois house of representatives said Friday night he is in favor of abolishing county coroners. He was appearing before the regular Downers Grove township Dem organization.

In pointing out that the coroner's main duty today is to determine the cause of unnatural death he reminded that "the verdict of a coroner's jury is not binding on the grand jury or the state's attorney. The county spent about $28,000 for the coroner's office last year and "for what?" he asked.

Cigar Store Squaws

Eighty per cent of the wooden cigar store Indians, once popular in the U. S., were squaws.

Try Free Nursing Service

The Du Page health department made known this week that it now has a home nursing service available to all county residents.

IT IS SCHEDULED to be provided free of charge on a temporary basis with funds secured from the state for that purpose. The money is expected to allow the service to continue until about July 1, it is estimated.

After that date the service is expected to continue with the backing of the Community Nursing service association for the Du-Page area now being formed. As announced last week, nominal fees will then be charged to cover operational expenses.

DR. CHARLES LANG, head of the DuPage health department, urges all doctors with patients requiring home nursing care to contact his office at once. The service can only be supplied at the request of a family physician.

Eleven Mishaps In A Week In Bensenville; 5 Injured

Eleven traffic accidents were reported the past week by Bensenville police with 5 persons suffering injuries. Four of them were children.

THIS VIRTUAL DELUGE of mishaps brought the rate of collisions on village streets to date this year to a record high of nearly 1 per day, a police department spokesman disclosed.

Three youngsters in a Wood Dale family sustained bumps and bruises Monday at 5 p.m. when the car being driven by their father, Robert G. Mittel, 33, 441 Oak, Wood Dale, was involved in a crash with 2 other autos at York st. and Irving Park rd.

Susan Mittel, 7, received a bump on the head; her sister, Donna, 6, a bumped chin, and her brother, Carl, 4, a cut lip. Mittel said he would take them all to the family doctor.

HIS CAR AND that of Jerry S. Knex, 50, Berwyn, were both eastbound on Irving and halted when struck by an auto heading in the opposite direction which, according to the police, went out of control. The driver was another Wood Dale resident, Kathryn A. Caron, 36, 444 Catalpa.

A 16-year-old Bensenville student, Doris Hawkinson, second ave., was taken to DuPage Memorial hospital, Elmhurst, with a cut on the left side of her head after being struck by an auto as she walked at Main and Addison sts. a few moments later Monday.

Police said she apparently walked into the path of the car being driven west on Main by Marie B. Gehrke, 46, 186 Oakwood dr., Wood Dale. The girl suffered her injury when her head apparently struck the pavement, police added.

A CARPENTERSVILLE man who received what was described as a minor head cut faces severe charges resulting from the collision of his car and another Sunday on Irving Park, a short block east of Mt. Prospect rd.

Charged with driving while intoxicated, having his lights out and crossing the center line of the highway is Thomas Nash, 27. His car collided with that of Herman A. Burde, 43, 116 N. Center, Bensenville, who escaped injury.

Bus Service For Local 'Y' Swimmers

A pickup station for north DuPage youngsters attending the girls' swimming classes at the Elmhurst YMCA slated to begin March 15 has been announced by Irene Humphrey, the Y's women and girl's secretary. The bus will leave from Irving Park and Wood Dale rds., Wood Dale.

Registration, with the fee including the bus service, is still open, she advises. Interested girls between the ages of 8 and 13 years are directed to contact the Elmhurst YMCA at TErrace 4-4500 for further details.

Police 'Sponsor' Fox Hunt

Patrolman Russell Rasmussen of the Bensenville police department ran headlong into a foxy situation early Tuesday afternoon.

IT WAS A tough fight that found him romping through several backyards in chase, but Rasmussen finally emerged the victor. The loser was a brownish fox of good size which Rasmussen shot when he cornered it in the yard at 327 S. Barron.

The police department alert on the fox went out when a call came in from a Mrs. Nelson at 329 S. Judson. "We have a fox here that has been playing out in the backyard for about half an hour," she announced.

SEVERAL persons have reported seeing foxes in the Bensenville area recently and one resident told police of seeing one in the apparently friendly company of 2 dogs. It is believed the foxes are thriving in the nearby unused southwest sector of O'Hare field.

New Memorial Hospital Wing Now In Use

One of 2 wing additions to Du Page Memorial hospital in Elmhurst is now nearly completed and is already partially in use, it was announced last week.

THE WEST addition and remodeling is now providing the emergency and x-ray departments with enlarged facilities and new equipment. Also in use for several weeks have been the cafeteria and enlarged dining room facilities.

The 5-story east wing being built to increase the hospital's capacity to 327 beds will be open in the near future, the announcement on the progress states. The congested conditions will then be relieved for the surgical, medical, pediatric and obstetrical departments as well.

THE PROGRAM will also provide a snack bar and gift shop to be operated by the Memorial hospital guild. The progress is considered quite satisfactory since ground was broken to launch the $2.5 millions expansion program only a little over a year ago.

The program has been made possible through voluntary contributions from groups associated with the hospital, industry, business, local organizations and individual citizens as well as indebtedness of $1.6 millions undertaken by the hospital.

Three Local Men Among Inductees

Three of the 4 DuPage residents recently inducted into the armed forces from draft board 122 at Wheaton hail from the north end of the county.

The quartet included Robert Paul Heinrich, Itasca; Guido John Arquilla, Roselle; Travor Bauman, Wood Dale, and John Arthur Dines, West Chicago, according to the draft board bulletin.

Addison Town Man Killed In Texas Accident

Elwood G. Fiene, 24-year-old son of William and Eleanor Fiene, S. Addison rd., Addison township, was killed in a Texas highway accident Saturday.

TEXAS AUTHORITIES reported that Fiene, a teacher the past 3 years at St. Paul Lutheran school in Harlingen, Tex., was on his way to a basketball game in Corpus Christi when involved in a head-on crash near Robstown, Tex. No other details on the crash are available.

Fiene was a native of Addison township and attended St. Paul Lutheran school in Addison and York high school. He was a graduate of Concordia Teacher's college in River Forest from whence he went to the Texas school as his first teaching assignment.

FUNERAL RITES TODAY, Thursday, at 1:30 p.m. will proceed from the Richert and son chapel, Roselle, to St. Paul Lutheran church, Addison, where the Rev. Walter E. Rehmus will officiate. Burial is slated in Zion cemetery, Churchville.

Scholarship Applications Due March 15

Some Du Page high school senior will win a $1,000 Golden Jubilee scholarship from the Illinois congress of parents and teachers next month.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE filed before March 15 with the PTA district 32 director, Mrs. W. O. Zin, 42 N. Lincoln st., Lombard, or Mrs. H. E. Moore, 439 Turner ave., Glen Ellyn. Information and instructions may be secured from any DuPage high school principal.

STUDENTS DESIROUS of entering the teaching profession are urged to apply since it is such work that the 33 scholarships being awarded in Illinois are devoted. A special committee of educators and PTA leaders will pick the winner and 2 alternates March 26.

It's Official — 1.05 Tax Multiplier For Du Page

DuPage county this week officially received a tax multiplier of 1.05 for the current year from the state department of revenue.

WHILE IT WAS the first time the county has been given a multiplier since 1951 the figure was not considered a blow and actually represented a slight drop from the tentative multiplier of 1.0526 that had been announced earlier.

DuPage did better than all surrounding counties, according to Donald Smith, chief deputy county treasurer, and can be thankful that it doesn't have a multiplier of the size rendered in Will county to contend with. The multiplier there, he revealed, is 7.0!

COOK COUNTY'S new multiplier is 1.44 while in Kane county the state has come up with 1.19 as the magic number. There, however, officials aren't calling it magic for they had earlier complained about a tentative multiplier of 1.09.

Setting of the 1.05 multiplier for DuPage means that property valuations are automatically increased 5 per cent for taxing purposes. Though not necessarily so, it probably means that your taxes will go up by that rate in virtually all cases.

Keeneyville Man Is New Deputy Sheriff

Sheriff Stanley Lynch has announced the appointment of 2 new men on his force who this week began serving as patrolmen. They are Donald Welsher, Keeneyville and Herbert Loser, Belmont.

Rally For Redmond At Addison March 8

The Addison township Democratic organization will sponsor a rally for Bensenville's William Redmond, party candidate for the Illinois general assembly, at the Addison VFW on Lake st., just west of the Addison village limits, Saturday, March 8.

Host for the event, free to the public, will be the township Democratic women's auxiliary headed by Mrs. Ruth James who reports there will be entertainment and refreshments.

Business Trend In Sharpest Increase In North Du Page

Business activity, at least during one recent month, registered a bigger jump in north DuPage than anywhere else in the county over a year ago.

The latest report from the state revenue department on disbursements of the retailers occupational tax shows that $79,085 was recently sent out to 18 county municipalities for business in November recorded the following month.

This figured out to be an increase of just over 6% from the total of $73,505 tabulated a year ago. In north DuPage the gain was a sharper $6,932 to $8,284 or approximately 20%. Elmhurst, as usual, led the rest in the most recent tabulation with a $16,721 total.

Following is an analysis of the local villages for the most recent totals and those announced a year ago:

	1956	1957	Gain In $	Gain In %
Bensenville	$3,267	$3,837	$ 570	17.4
Roselle	1,394	1.903	509	36.5

Although he is much too young to realize that he was the guest of honor last Saturday evening, little Stephen Bronars was pleased with all the added attention he rated that evening. His parents, the Henry Bronars, entertained 20 relatives at a party to help celebrate their son's first birthday with everyone enjoying the birthday cake, ice cream, and all round pleasant time.

Home From Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowe returned Monday evening to their home on Church road from a two and a half week vacation trip which took them to the Mexican boarder of Texas. Enroute down they made several stopovers including a visit with friends in Cincinnati, Ohio, and several days in Houston. While in the southern sector they made several trips into Mexico, and while in Matamoros enjoyed watching the American girl, Patricia McCormick, star in a bull fight. A stopover in Hot Springs, Arkansas, for a few days on the way home rounded out a wonderful winter holiday.

Congratulations again to the Fenton basketball teams who played hard to achieve what happened Friday night at Elmwood Park high school. The soph team won a real thriller and, to show their exuberance, carried their coach, Mr. Jonkheer, out of the gymnasium on their shoulders . . . and the Varsity tried to repeat the play that had been so successful for them against North Chicago the preceding week. Fate seemed against them, and they had to go into an overtime which finally gave Fenton the game and clinched for them a definite second place in the Tri-County conference. Good luck in your efforts against York in the regional on March 4th.

Wood Dale Cub Scouts

In spite of the frigid weather parents and cubs of cub pack 34 turned out in large numbers for their blue and gold dinner in observance of scout week. The dinner was potluck, prepared by the cubs' mothers. Table decorations, designed and placed by the den mothers, gave a festive air to the public school gym.

Dinner was followed by the awarding of a large number of badges and pins. High point of these awards was the reception of the buckskin of achievements graduating into boy scouting, and the certificate of achievement by retiring den mother Mrs. Edward Willer, given to her as a token of appreciation for faithful service to her den and pack during the past years.

The cubs then brought the dinner to a grand climax with a series of skits, some serious, some humorous, but all of them a measure of the earnest efforts of the cubs and of the devoted labors of the den mothers.

There will be a pack meeting this Friday evening, February 28, at Wood Dale public school. Starting at 7:45 there will be various feats of skill. Each den is to have a table set up and everybody is urged to test his skill. There will be a prize for the best contestant at each event.

All mothers are urgently requested to attend this meeting. A few weeks ago there was a Father's and Son banquet — this pack meeting will be for mothers and sons. That's all I can say at this time because they won't even let me in on the secret.

Thanks to Messrs. Bud Prather, Truman Varland, Bob Mosher, and Rey Hungerford who acted as chauffeurs and shaperones several cubs were able to attend the recent boat show at the amphitheatre. It was an exciting and memorable day for all those able to attend.

Once again we wish to extend our SOS for HELP! Our charter is being held up because we have no cubmaster. We have 2 assistant cubmasters, but unless somebody volunteers to assume the duties for cubmaster very soon, we cannot apply for a charter.

"Exploring Alaska" will be the theme for March. If anybody has any movies, slides, pictures, or general information on this subject that he would be willing to share with the Cub Scouts, please contact one of the following Den Mothers: Mrs. J. Carter, PO 6-3183; Mrs. F. Haynes, PO 6-1449; Mrs. R. Larson, PO 6-1323; Mrs. W. Prather, PO 6-1258; or Mrs. M. Wright, PO 6-2213.

About Itasca People

Save The Children

Itasca Junior Woman's club is sponsoring a clothing drive for the "Save the Children" federation. This group is also collecting toys for local church nurseries and Beacon house. The drive for clothing and toys will begin March 15 and continue until March 31. Clean, serviceable children's and adult's clothing, blankets and sheets are badly needed. No electrical toys should be contributed. Items for the drive should be packed in cardboard boxes to simplify handling. These boxes may be dropped off at any of the following places: north side, Mrs. Usher, Rush st.; south side, Mrs. Eleanor Oury, Mrs. Duane Clark, Parkside road; Mrs. Ann Borre, Ranchettes; and Mrs. Michel Debowski, Country club estates.

Evening Guild

A representative from the cancer information center in Wheaton will be at Bethany church March 4 at 7:45 p. m. A film will be shown and a demonstration on how to wrap bandages for cancer patients will be given. Ladies who are interested in this program should bring old sheets, men's white shirts or pillow cases and large scissors and a thimble to the meeting. This program is being sponsored by the Woman's Evening Guild of Bethany church.

Hat Sale

Itasca ladies will be in the market for Easter bonnets within a couple of weeks. Before shopping elsewhere, Itasca Junior Woman's club wishes to remind ladies of their hat sale which will be held March 15 between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. at Washington school. Over 200 new hats will be sold at reasonable prices. Itasca Senior Woman's club will have a bakery booth at the sale; local girl scouts are planning a candy booth. Itasca Garden club has recently announced that they are also preparing a booth of garden supplies. The hat booths will be decorated with comic hats which were made by club members for a contest. This hat sale is a "first-time" project in Itasca.

Lions Club

J. Navarre MacComb Jr. of Inland Steel co. will be the guest speaker at Itasca Lions club's next meeting. Mr. MacComb will show slides and discuss Inland's ore mine properties in Canada. This meeting will be held March 6 at 7 p. m. at St. Luke Lutheran church.

There are still a few tickets available for the 3 and 4 p. m. servings of a ham dinner at First Presbyterian church. March 4 is the deadline for reservations for this event. Tickets are being sold by Mrs. Edward Marwig, Itasca 749. This dinner is being sponsored by the Woman's association of the church.

Garden Club

Fraher presided at the business meeting. Four flower arrangements made by new club members were judged and analyzed by the group. In an informal atmosphere new members are thus given an opportunity to learn how to use flowers, foliage and containers to the best advantage. The Garden club plans to participate in a hat sale and bazaar which will be sponsored by The Junior Woman's club on March 15. They will have a booth of garden supplies at the bazaar.

The monthly family night potluck supper will be held at Bethany church Saturday at 6 p. m. The program will feature Daniel Driggett who will show slides of a European trip he made last summer.

These Lutheran Churches Call You to Lenten Worship

"BEHOLD THE LAMB OF GOD!" JOHN 1:29

In this Holy Season of Lent our hearts and minds are drawn in a special way to the wonderful facts of our salvation.

John the Baptist was the forerunner of Jesus. He was chosen of God to bear witness to Christ. He was to prepare the way for the coming of the Messiah, the Promised One. When he saw Jesus, he declared, "Behold, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world!"

Just before He began His public ministry, Jesus went to the Jordan River where John was baptized. Here He was declared to be that Lamb of sacrifice Whose blood would be shed on the Cross of Calvary for the payment of the sins of the whole world.

"Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." In these words John the Baptist summed up all the Old Testament teachings and prophecies concerning Christ. The centuries had been filled with the sacrifices of lambs without spot and without blemish. They were merely types or symbols of the sacrifice of the only-begotten Son of God. But He was the perfect sacrifice "as of a lamb without blemish and without spot." 1 Peter 1:19. "He did not sin, neither was guile found in His mouth." By His holy innocence and His full and complete suffering and death our Savior, Jesus Christ, satisfied the righteous anger of God over against a sinful world.

And God the Father hath accepted the sacrifice of His Son for the reconciliation of the world. When John said, "Behold the Lamb of God," the Father said, "This is My beloved Son in Whom I am well pleased." And "Him God raised up from the dead, and gave Him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God." 1 Peter 1:21.

Tioga VFW Auxiliary

Feb. 25, 1958 — Girl Scouts in Bensenville have called on our Auxiliary for donations to their rummage sale. Can you help them out? Virginia Edgerton is waiting calls to pick up anything (PO 6-2971). This sale takes place March 4 so let's hurry — things may also be left at Tioga home, even Mgr. Harold Bills helps for this one. Proceeds to be used in town! Our Scout or Brownie uniforms will be greatly appreciated.

A few treats at last meeting. Four guests from Elmhurst auxiliary; the president and 3 of her officers, also a group of CAP Cadets and personnel who gave an oral and physical demonstration of instruction. What a credit to a parent these boys are! Our guests and members were certainly impressed by these young people.

Longtime Membership chairman, Vi Gansberg, was honored with a ruby pin for all her efforts. She believes so strongly in our organization wants everyone eligible to be a member. Call her, gals, (PO 6-0145) if you have friends who wish to join — I have 2. Vi.

Overdue congratulations, to Irene Zaucha on the birth of her little daughter, Jane. Sorry, Irene, just found out; and to anne Hermann, congratulations, she finally found someone who wanted her gall bladder enough to go after it! Just in time, Anne, potluck at March 20 meeting. Get all those exotic recipes ready, girls. For next meeting, March 6. Nomination and election of new officers plus bakery goods to be offered by Junior Activities committee. Seems more "good will" purchases were made than the budget allowed.

For those who will help balance the books by donating please call Gloria Buttens (PO 6-2743) so she doesn't try to make up this deficit alone. While in the kitchen, get a dozen or so, cup cakes ready. March 7 is our last trip to Elgin for some time. Because of the months before next party, please, please, see that each fellow gets a treat.

Your response was so wonderful last time, do we dare hope to equal it once again? Eleanor Franz (PO 6- (or Virginia Edgerton (PO 6-2971) will pick them up at your home or any bakery. We would all be happy to see you at meeting March 6 and they can be brought along then.

Very important — Community Chairman, "Lu" Kimball needs 3 more cars to drive friends of Bensenville home to Hillside for Easter shopping trip, March 18, 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Won't you please volunteer? (PO 6-1509).

Ready for dates? (Too bad, Midge).

March 1—Hobo hop. Nobody miss this!

March 6—Meeting. Election. Cup cakes. Bake sale.

March 15 Irish Jig dance. Community service. Hi-Fi.

March 18—Shopping trip. Bensenville Home friends. Community service.

March 20—Meeting. Potluck.

See you at meeting, with cup cakes, and bake goods.

Several members of the auxiliary will leave their kitchens this Friday and as members of the kitchen band provide the entertainment for the first Blue and Gold banquet of St. Paul cub pack 12. The band is composed of the following: Helen Schwarz, Flora Jensen, Violet Lemke, Virginia Lovell, Gerda Rosenwinkel, Violet Ramsaier, Verna Thon, Lois Halterhoff, Florence Goodwin, Lorraine Schoenbeck, June Schmidt, and Vivian Krage. They may not be good musicians, but they are loud. Accompanist for the evening will be Dorothy Carlson.

The post will hold its business meeting Tuesday, March 4, at the club, beginning at 8 p.m. Main topic for the evening will be election of officers for the coming year. Commander Miller asks that all comrades make an earnest attempt to make this meeting because it is your organization.

Congratulations to Verna and Oscar Thon, who will celebrate their wedding anniversary February 28. Bill Moeller of the North Avenue Moellers, met with a bit of misfortune while on the job. He had a piece of steel removed from his knee, but is doing pretty well at this writing.

Just a little reminder that we need your old sheets and will continue to need them for a long time. To date there have been 324 dressings made by members of the auxiliary, and we are very happy for the wonderful cooperation in this project. Several workers met at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Hughes this past Tuesday.

Addison led all DuPage municipalities in new home construction during January, according to the latest monthly report of the Bell Savings survey.

WITH 34 PERMITS FOR dwellings, the local village easily had an advantage over Lombard with 21 permits as Bensenville ranked third with 10 residence projects.

The cities and villages on the whole proved to be well ahead of the corresponding period a year ago.

In all, there were 102 new home projects approved as compared to 94 in January, 1957. Even greater was the jump in overall value for all permits issued last month. The figure was $3,618,858—a gain of over 80 per cent from the $2,005,847 registered a year ago.

FAR BEHIND ADDISON and Bensenville and apparently still being stymied by the winter slowdown were Wood Dale, Itasca and Roselle. Each village released just one permit during January. All 3 were, however, for new dwellings.

Completing the top 10 residentially behind Addison, Lombard and Bensenville were Wheaton, Downers Grove, Elmhurst, Glen Ellyn, Naperville, Villa Park and Wood Dale in that order, according to the Bell Savings computations. (DF

Roselle Library Notes

Roselle public library has always had a large circulation of children's book, though the children's collection is smaller than the adult, more children's books are read each month. Parents and teachers encourage reading and the library is always willing to assist both.

Parents read to children before they go to school. While mother seeks new tales, the children often hunt for a favorite they have heard dozens of times. Books are true friends to little children and old friends are best.

A selection of readers await first and second graders who are becoming familiar with words. A wealth of stories and information await the skilled readers of third grade and beyond.

Teachers, anxious to promote reading, borrow books for classroom use and keep them available for children for several weeks at a time. In this way a great variety of books is introduced to children by their teacher who is familiar with their interests and abilities.

During the summer months, Friends of the Library cooperate with the library staff in promoting children's reading. Story hours are held weekly for the younger children. Attendance last summer had our small building almost bursting. Friends conducted the first summer reading program last year. It was the Book Worm club and the Book Worm has remained at the library all winter keeping an eye on the comings and goings of boys and girls.

Children of Junior high age have a special collection. Two cases accommodate books selected as most interesting to this age group. The books are not intended to limit the readers but to make it easier for them to find the books they prefer. With a few exceptions all books are available to all readers whether they are reading for pleasure or information.

Special attention is given to assisting children and young people with school assignments or seeking information for their own satisfaction. Tho the collection is small, every effort is made to supply information needed. We are interested in adding to the collection in order to answer all inquiries. Our object is to make the child feel that the library, with its shelves of books, is a place of learning as well as school. We hope he will see the library as a place where learning can continue beyond school and where the "student" follows his own curiosities when no teacher gives him an assignment.

Is your child making use of the library?

Itasca Ranchettes

Now that our beautiful but rather treacherous snowdrifts are beginning to fade like the old Roman empire, most of us are starting to stick our green thumbs into ye ol' seed catalogue. Thinking of all the laborious work the summer has in store for us is a pleasure — Now! Anything to divert our weary thoughts from the sub-zero weather we have so bravely endured.

Leadership Course

Last Wednesday when the temperatures rose to a sultry 18 degrees above zero Mrs. Ray Christensen picked up 2 twigs and journeyed into the wilderness, more commonly known to us as Salt Creek forest preserve, for a Girl Scout cook out. This was part of Mrs. Christensens girl scout leadership training course. Among the many interesting and useful things she learned to do were how to make emergency candles, (these are used in drying out wood) making stoves out of tin cans for the girls to cook on, making things to sit on, and how to build a fire using only one match. That is something I am sure we would all like to know. Because of the cold the ladies decided to do their cooking inside the lodge.

Display Handicraft

Have you folks heard about our cub scouts from the Ranchettes? Robert and Bruce Mammen and Chipper Cywin from den 3 recently participated in a handicraft display with their pack which is pack 11 in Medinah. Handicrafts from all dens was on display at Medinah Food shop. The boys were in strict competition with packs from Roselle, Itasca, Wood Dale and other surrounding communities. After the judging pack 11 emerged as the victors. We would also like to thank the boys' den mother, Mrs. Clifford Cywin, and assistant den mother, Mrs. Howard Mammen for the wonderful job they are doing.

Cub Dinner

The first blue and gold dinner for cub scout pack 11 will be held Saturday, March 1, at Medinah grade school. Since all cub scouts have been working so hard to lay the plans for this big event, we hope all families of cub scouts make plans now to attend this dinner, thus making it a huge success.

Girl Scouts

Girl scout troop 250 held its weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Christensen February 20. After a short discussion the girls decided to save cancelled stamps and pictures from the covers of greeting cards to send to children in foreign lands to enjoy. The eager beaver patrol welcomed 2 new girls into their patrol; they were Sandra Barton and Darlene Wiebe. After the patrol meetings Judith Bieschke, Linda Mack, Sandra Spring and Carol Tegtow gave reports on France, Italy, Pakistan and Brazil, respectively. The troop danced a Lithuanian folk dance. In closing their meeting the girls formed a friendship circle and sang taps.

Play Cards

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soduski of Woodview dr. entertained their card club. After an evening packed with fun and laughter Mrs. Soduski served a late supper to the card players. They were Mr. and Mrs. J. MacIntosh, Mrs. C. Simpson, Mrs. M. Scott and Mrs. L. Soduski.

Sunday Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hoglund of rte 53 entertained Mr. and Mrs. Victor Anderson of LaGrange Sunday afternoon. After dinner the foursome gathered around the card table for an interesting evening of bridge. Mr. Anderson's name may sound familiar to many, because he used to be the butcher at Itasca basket.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCluskey of Andrene lane spent a very enjoyable afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Regal and Mr. and Mrs. James Regal and their son, Andy. After dinner Bobby, Gary, Karen and their cousin, Andy, had a lot of fun outside trying to see who could absorb the most water.

The Elgin Board of Education also will make an official protest at the hearing opposing the trailer court site. Superintendent of Schools Orrin G. Thompson said the court would bring in a lot more children than can be schooled under present circumstances while bringing in only a small amount of assessed valuation in personal property.

WHAT FORMERLY SERVED as the power plant and boiler room for the courthouse and other adjacent county buildings in Wheaton was wrecked Tuesday morning as the massive chimney on the structure came crashing down with a roar heard and felt for a block. The building's facilities were replaced by newer units recently. This photo sequence shows the huge chimney as workmen began chipping away at the top last week from a rangy scaffold, the demise as the lower three-fourths of the chimney was hauled down with the aid of steel cables and a tractor Tuesday the settling rubble moments later.

OUR OPINION that Warren and North Chicago, the Northwest and Tri-County league leaders, might upset the dope in the regional, made us look very bad last week. Warren lost by one point to Round Lake, winner of but one game, in an almost unbelievable upset, and Fenton stopped North Chicago. Warren had won 16 in a row but they depend on outscoring their opponents and when they had a cold night the worst team in the league beat them.

Again it proves that a really good ball team must have defense as well as offense even in this age of race horse basketball.

Denny Freund of Wauconda, 2-11, has smashed the Northwest scoring record by 27 points with one game still remaining. The Wauconda hot shot has averaged 29 points a game in one of the most amazing seasons recorded in this area for all time by any cage athlete. Freund's top has been 42 points but lately he has consistently scored over 30. At Antioch Freund hit 16 of 23 from the field and 10 of 11 free throws to tie the all time conference record of 42 set by "Red" Haviland of Antioch several years ago.

WAUCONDA had a great year in wrestling. Bill Friberg's grapplers beat all the conference schools in the Northwest with a 14-3-1 record but when it came to the league tournament the Bulldogs had to give way to Lake Forest who took 6 championships and 106 points to Wauconda's 97.

Wauconda had whipped both McHenry and Libertyville, the North Suburban winner and runnerup.

To show the strength of the Tri-County as compared with the other smaller school leagues we point out that Palatine beat Wauconda 33-11 but finished 4th in their own conference tournament. However, Palatine beat all the league members in dual matches except Glenbrook, who was wrestled to a tie.

McHenry scored 92 points to Libertyville's 67, Crystal Lake 65, Zion-Benton 64, Barrington 52, and Dundee 36. Woodstock does not have wrestling. A year ago McHenry and Crystal Lake tied for the championship. The previous year Libertyville finished last.

WHEN BARRINGTON whipped Libertyville a short time ago for the second time this season it was the 16th time in a row the Bronchos had bested the Wildcats in basketball. It has been 12 years since Libertyville has beaten Barrington. The Bronchos will get a chance to make it 17 straight in the regional tournament.

Barrington and Crystal Lake are going down to the wire tied for the North Suburban title.

Barrington's shared title will make 5 of 6 since they entered the league. The one year they failed and Crystal Lake won, the Bronchos took second. Crystal Lake has finished no lower than second in any of the 10 years the North Suburban has been in operation. Zion-Benton's undisputed title in 1950-51 is the only team besides Barrington to win a clear cage championship.

ROCK FALLS has moved to the number one position in the state cage ratings with a 22-1 season record. They say there is no other team in the state with 6 players tall enough to "dunk" the ball in the basket. Under coach Richard Haselton, in his third year at Rock Falls, the Rockets have a team of sharpshooters with a fine spirit and a good defense. At the moment they are the chief hope of the north part of the state to win the state title. The only trouble is that Rock Falls has not had the caliber of a schedule other top teams have played, and you do not learn much swamping weak opposition.

While Fenton knocked North Chicago out of the undefeated class in the Tri-County Conference a week ago their frosh-sophs did North Chicago a real favor last Friday when they beat Elmwood Park and dropped them out of a tie with North Chicago for the F-S championship.

Dick Wisner has all but captured the Tri-County scoring championship. With 189 points and the 10 game schedule completed his nearest rival with a chance to overtake him in the one remaining game is Jim Krauser of Elmwood Park who would have to score 36 points for a tie. Bob Armstead, North Chicago's outstanding colored forward is second a full 20 points behind the high scoring Pirate.

Doug Timmerman was one of the boys with the best chance of overtaking Wisner but he became ill and had to miss the Glenbrook game at Palatine, both wrecking his own chances and severely handicapping the Spartans who, as a result, are likely to drop into a last place tie with Lake Park in the final standings.

WHATEVER HAPPENS in the regional basketball tournament, Lake Park Lancers have made definite strides, basketball-wise, over last year when they lost all 23 games in their initial season. This time Lake Park has completed an 11-11 regular season for the varsity, with just 5 of those losses decisive ones.

Lake Park lost to Fenton by 2, to Glenbrook and Elmwood Park by 3, to Palatine and Glenbrook by 8, and to Naperville by 9.

Otherwise, Coach Jerry Carpenter's boys dropped just 5 games by 10 or more points, 2 to No. Chicago, 2 to Marmion and the Batavia contest. One of the No. Chicago games was close until the final 2 minutes. We hope Lake Park continues to win in the regional.

10 YEARS AGO: Northwest Conference season closed as Ela-Vernon beat Palatine 31-28 (varsity) and 36-34 overtime (frosh-soph). Palatine varsity finished 5th with a 6-8 record and the frosh-soph 4th with 7-7 . . . Bensenville whipped Wauconda 51-26 and 55-14. Thollander scored 21 for the varsity and Anderson 19 for the frosh-sophs . . . Arlington beat Woodstock 43-41 as John Shanley hit the winning basket with 3 seconds to go . . . Niles and Leyden play for the Northeast League title on Leyden's little court (seating 600) next week.

Bensenville set several Northwest records, including 264 points by Bob Thollander in 14 games. The Bisons scored 680 points in 14 games.

The Bison varsity hit a high total of 89 points against Grant and the frosh-sophs set a record against the same school with 70. Thollander had 103 field goals, 58 free throws, and a record of 33 points for one game . . . Dick Pepper of Palatine had a record in free throwing with 78% as he made 46 of 59. Pepper had 16 of 19 in a pair of games on one weekend using the old underhand style of tossing them in from the 15 foot line.

20 YEARS AGO: Palatine took the Bensenville Bisons into camp 30-24 and 27-12. O'Brien and Nangle, senior mainstays of the Pirates each scored 10 while Escorcia got 8 for the Bisons. Palatine varsity had a 7-3 record with 2 losses to Ela who finished undefeated. Palatine was the only first division squad on the Ela schedule. John O'Brien had a great free throwing record of 24 of 34 for the league season.

Palatine lightweights tied for the championship with Leyden as each posted a 9-1 record.

Ela had 8-2 for second and Bensenville lights had 1-9. Palatine's champ frosh-soph squad of 10 included 6 freshmen. Ray Hahnfeldt, 5' 1" frosh forward made 32% of shots from the field for the season . . . Arlington Heights lost to Leyden 45-29 and 23-14.

9 Pirates, 8 Cardinals Vie for Honors

Palatine will be host to the sectional wrestling tournament, Friday and Saturday, involving the first 4 place winners from the districts held last weekend at Elmwood Park and Elgin. The Pirates will have a lot of local interest in the meet as 9 of Palatine's 12 grapplers won their way into the district semi-finals to guarantee a chance to advance to the sectional meet.

The Friday preliminary round will start at 7:00 p.m. in Palatine's big gym and pit the first place winners at Elmwood Park against the 4th place boys from Elgin and vice versa.

LIKEWISE THE 2nd place winners from one meet will meet the 3rds from the other in an automatic pairing and bracketing designed by the state authorities.

Semi-finals will be held at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday with the 3rd place bouts at 7:00 and the championships at 8:00 Saturday evening.

Cagers to Open Regionals Next

Palatine and Lake Park will open regional play Tuesday night, March 4, with Arlington and Fenton going into competition Wednesday night, March 5.

That's the setup as the basketball season nears its end for local high schools.

Palatine will meet Niles in the second game in the Pirates' own tournament Tuesday night, starting about 8:30. Maine will meet Maryville in the initial encounter that night.

ARLINGTON will test Glenbrook in the second game Wednesday night at Palatine, with Leyden opposing Notre Dame. Cardinals whipped the Spartans earlier in the year and should win, but Glenbrook could get hot and upset the apple cart.

Improving Palatine should be a rough test for Niles, though normally the Trojans would have the edge. Maine definitely rates a strong nod over Maryville. If the form chart is accurate, Maine should meet either Niles or Palatine in the first game Thursday night, Mar. 6, with Arlington opposing Leyden.

Game times at about all centers are 7:00 and 8:30 where 2 games are to be played, with an 8 o'clock starting time prevailing where single games are to be contested.

FENTON will oppose Giant York, West Suburban league champion in the first game Tuesday night in regional play at the Elmhurst school, and could give the Dukes some mighty tough opposition if Coach Chuck Cole's Bisons can be hot. Oak Park will take on IC of Elmhurst in the other affair.

The York tournament starts Monday night with Proviso meeting Elmwood Park in the first game, and Glenbard testing Wheaton Community in the second affair. Monday winners will meet in a single game Wednesday night, with Tuesday winners meeting Thursday evening. Championship games at all centers will be held Friday night.

For the second year in a row the Fenton high basketball team has drawn the York Dukes, West Suburban league Champions, as their first round opponents in state regional tournament play. The Bisons meet the Dukes in the York regional at 7 p.m. March 4.

Leading York in quest of a regional title will be Seniors Wayne Millies and Len Mahoney, 2 6'4" boys who are tough to deal with on the court. The Bisons dropped a 71-48 decision to York on January 3 of this year in a non-conference game.

Fenton plays its last regularly scheduled game of the season tomorrow night at West Chicago.

LAKE PARK will meet McHenry in the second game Tuesday night, with Elgin toying with Harvard in the opener. It will be Crystal Lake vs Woodstock, then Dundee vs. district winner Wednesday night.

7 Bisons Qualify For Wrestling

Coach Gene Hoffman's Fenton wrestling squad had 7 survivors from the district competition held last weekend at Elmwood Park, who will now compete in the sectional this weekend at Palatine

Joe Cuthbertson qualified at 95 pounds as he drew a first round bye, was pinned by Conley of Palatine in the second round and then beat Pitts of York 3-2 for third place.

JIM DIOMAR took fourth in the district as a result of a bye and two losses to also qualify. (The first four places in the district competition qualify.)

Dennis Harvey qualified with a second at 127 pounds on the strength of a 3-2 win over Perzan of Elmwood, a 3-2 win over Steil of Arlington Heights and a 2-1 loss to Vonesh of Leyden.

Duane Carlson enters the sectional at 138 pounds on a third place district finish as he beat Rotkelson of Elmwood 3-1, lost on a referee's decision to Veit of York, and be at Karser of Palatine 2-0.

MYLO PEARCE became the fifth Fenton qualifier as he beat Guard of Elmwood 6-2, pinned Sandborn of Palatine at 5:19, and lost 4-0 to Leckband of Arlington for second place.

Sophomore Rich Ulrich qualified in fourth place as a result of a bye and two losses, one to Nordin of Palatine and one to Rederson of Leyden.

Hugh Wilson was Fenton's only district champ as he disposed of Michaels of Elmwood at 3:05 (a pin), Lohmuller of York 5-0 and Schneck of Arlington Heights 2-0. Wilson is a heavyweight.

Card Frosh Win Over LaGrange

Arlington's freshman basketball squad disposed of LaGrange Saturday morning, 40-30, with a 14-2 second period spurt by Coach Ted Wissen's boys sewing up the contest. Locals vaulted from a 11-10 count to 25-12 in the process.

Bisons Take Over 2nd Spot

The Fenton high school varsity cagers, who have made a habit of winning the close ones this season, clinched a second place finish in the Tri-County conference with a 55-51 overtime victory over Elmwood Park on the losers court last Friday night. The victory was number 13 for the Chuck Cole coached squad and assures them of finishing with the best record, won and lost, of any Fenton basketball squad in several years.

The victory was doubly sweet in that it was the first victory over a team which has been somewhat of a nemesis for the Bisons, having beaten them twice previously this season.

FOR THE SECOND time in as many games the Bisons were forced to win it with their leading scorer and rebounder, Bernie Sell, out of the game on fouls. Up until he left the game the usually prolific Sell had counted only 7 points, his seasons low, but had picked off over 20 rebounds, a seasons high.

The first half followed with Elmwood moving out to a 26-20 halftime advantage on the strength of some fine shooting by Krauser and Plache.

FENTON fought back to close the gap in the third quarter and then tied and went ahead early in the fourth. Trailing by two in the closing minutes the Tigers tied it up and set the stage for what Fenton fans hoped would be a repeat of last weeks North Chicago thriller. With the score tied and time running out, the Bisons played for the last shot. Unlike last week however, as Freddy Hohman maneuvered for the shot the horn sounded and the game went into overtime.

Biefeld's free toss started the overtime scoring and when Hohman added another the Tigers began to press down court. The Bisons were then able to spring Greg Dierking loose underneath for two baskets and wrap up the big win.

Dierking's 14 points were high for Fenton while Krauser had 15 for the Tigers. (Sp

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB PADDOCK

WHAT'S IN A BYE? Qualifying for the sectional wrestling tournament at Palatine, in this case. With just 7 schools entered in district tourney at Elmwood Park last weekend, the fourth seeded boy was always given a bye through the first round of competition. That meant those boys automatically qualified for the sectional meet this week at Palatine.

With seedings made by coaches, York gained 6 byes, Palatine 4, Arlington 1 and Leyden 1. Interestingly enough, team point standings went just the opposite way, Leyden, Arlington, Palatine, York.

Heights coach Dick Mudge reported he was well satisfied with his team's performance in copping second in the district, with a couple of exceptions. He believes that by correcting a few mistakes, the Cardinals could be a strong contender for the sectional title. First and second place winners in each weight class will compete next week in the state finals at Arlington.

OUR SPY at Illinois, Bob Frisk, makes this prediction for next year's Illini cage squad: senior Roger Taylor 6-0 and junior Mannie Jackson 6-2 at guards, soph Johnny Wessels 6-7½ at center, and junior Govoner Vaughn 6-4 and soph Vern Altmeyer 6-8 at forwards. Bob doesn't feel Terry Bethel, 6-7 All-American prep player from Collinsville, will start but should play a lot. Quoting Bob: Altmeyer looks real good and is a top defensive player.

Wessels is farther advanced now than George BonSalle was at a like time and can hook with either hand. He needs a little hustle to be real good.

Jackson is starting to drive now and if he's moved out to guard, he'll be even more dangerous with that deadly jump shot, too. Vaughn is a fixture in the front line and Taylor, who'll undoubtedly captain the team, is a good scorer and feeder. Next year just might be the year!

285 Sign For Little League At Bensenville

Registration for the Little and Minor leagues division of the Bensenville boys baseball association has been closed after a record 285 boys signed for the 1958 season.

THERE ARE STILL a few vacancies in the Pony league (13 and 14 year olds) and registration will be accepted for Pony league only until enough boys have registered to complete 4 team rosters.

The baseball association voted at the last meeting to change the names of the 3 existing Pony league teams so as not to conflict with the names of the Little League teams.

Each manager chose his own team name with Frank Erickson, veteran Pony League manager choosing the Pirates.

Howie Dierking will manage the Athletics, Wally Robertson the Cardinals and Harry Reed the Orioles.

The new managers in the Little League are Maurie Vick, who will manage the Cubs, Chuck Kero the Yankees, and Bob Townsend the Cubs.

THE MINOR LEAGUE, which has been enlarged to 6 teams to accommodate all 8 and 9 year olds boasts 5 new managers, all former coaches. John Varble will manage the Bears, Jay Butler the Rams, Frank Novatny the Apaches, Ray McKoski the Eagles and Rich Hebel one of the 2 new teams.

The managers are planning to select teams at their March 10 meeting.

It was the second time the Bisons have beaten the Tigers this season even though Elmwood Park's overall record was better than Fenton's.

RAY OF ELMWOOD got hot in the 3rd quarter and his five field goals enabled the Tigers to pull ahead of Fenton 42-40 as the period ended.

The teams traded baskets throughout the final quarter and Fenton went ahead by 1 point with about two minutes to play. At this point the Tigers attempted to apply a little more defensive pressure, made some mistakes, and the Bisons moved out to their comfortable final margin.

Brown scored 26 for Fenton while Ray tallied 24 for Elmwood.

Adamowski to Act at Once on Road Annexation

Streamwood deannexed one-half mile of its 76-mile cobweb of roads in northwest Cook county last week. Even so, Cook county State's Attorney Benjamin Adamowski announced he is planning specific action against Streamwood's annexations in the immediate future.

Following a meeting with the Bartlett village board, Streamwood has agreed to disconnect E. Bartlett rd. between the Bartlett village limits and Lake st., a distance of about a half mile.

However, Streamwood said for the time being it would retain control of a portion of Lake st. which Bartlett also asked to have disconnected.

Meanwhile, down in the county building in Chicago, Adamowski through his first assistant state's attorney, Elroy C. Sandquist, issued a letter to Attorney Thomas A. Matthews. Matthews represents Barrington and Schaumburg Center in opposing the wholesale road annexation.

Adamowski's letter reads, "I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter concerning the village of Streamwood and various documents attached thereto.

"Please be advised that the state's attorney's office feels strongly in regard to the annexations by Streamwood and other municipalities in Cook county. As you probably know, we already have a suit filed against Hickory Hills on a similar situation. We are at the present time contemplating specific action against Streamwood which should be culminated within the immediate future. (HES

Tribke Is Still In the Race!

As the result of an oversight in last week's issue, William R. Tribke of Schaumburg Center has been besieged with telephone calls asking if he is still running for Schaumburg township Republican committeeman.

Tribke, a constable and father of 3 children, assures callers he is still seeking office. Last week's Enterprise mentioned those who would be invited to appear before the Hoffman Estates Home Owners association board but inadvertantly failed to mention his name. However, he was invited and did appear. (HES

Busch Cites Shortage of Den Chiefs

"We are very short of den chiefs in the cub scouts program" reports George Busch. Consequently, Busch has started a 4-week training course in leadership for 28 boys who desire to become den chiefs.

When the boys graduate, they will be assigned to a den mother for 2 weeks before they receive their cords. They then will officially become den chiefs and serve with that den for one year.

A 6-week junior leadership program will follow the den chief training course, consisting mainly of training films. At the end of both courses, there will be an overnight trip. The boys will receive graduation certificates as trained junior leaders from council headquarters. The boys, age 11-12, are not permitted to miss a session because it is an intensive course usually given to boys 14 and 15 years of age. (HES

Don't Force Children to Read: PTA

Four panelists advised 60 parents attending the Twinbrook PTA meeting Monday not to worry about their child's reading nor to force him to read. The panelists also remarked that muscle co-ordination among students varies with the child.

These were the most pertinent remarks made by the Rev. Albert F. Harkins, Universalist minister for the Hoffman Estates area; Miss Ann Fox, Schaumburg school district curriculum co-ordinator; Dr. Lloyd W. Kinsey, Elgin optometrist; and Mrs. Agnes Skadberg, reading consultant for the Arlington Heights elementary school system. (HES

Merchants Must Still Feed Meters

Bothwell st. merchants are going to have to continue to feed parking meters in front of their stores each hour if they want free customer parking on sale days, the Palatine village board decided Monday night.

When village Attorney Thomas Matthews said there was no legal basis for hooding parking meters and merchants purchasing the time, the board was unanimous in permitting Bothwell st. merchants to continue their past practice of meter feeding.

The board ruled it would not purchase any meter hoods. Bothwell st. merchants have been running semi-monthly promotions for their local establishments for several months.

Ed Bandur Wins Postal Promotion

Edward Bandur, 130 Grand Canyon st., Hoffman Estates, was promoted to superintendent of a U.S. post office Chicago finance station, Postmaster Carl A. Schroeder of Chicago announced this week.

BANDUR'S NEW position will place him in charge of one of the most important functions of the Chicago postal system, Postmaster Schroeder said. The promotion was retroactive to Feb. 8.

A native of Chicago, Bandur has been a resident of Hoffman Estates for one year. He is married and the father of one son, Michael, 10, who attends St. Theresa's Catholic school in Palatine, where the family also worships.

He is a member of the Postal Supervisors organization, the Polish American Federal club, American Legion Post 401, and holds the rank of major in the Reserve Officers corps. During World War II, Bandur served as an army postal officer in Africa, China, Burma and India.

DURING HIS 19 year postal career he served in Chicago's Main Post Office, the Wicker Park station, and finance station "S".

At the promotion ceremony, Postmaster Schroeder stressed the point that efficient operation, good management, and a happy satisfied employee go hand in hand for a better mail service. Supervision plays an important role toward this goal, the postmaster concluded.

Name Red Cross Drive Chairmen

Chairmen for the March fund campaign of the American Red Cross for Ontarioville and Schamburg township have been appointed by Thomas W. Evans, general chairman for the suburban campaign.

In Ontarioville, Evans said, the chairman will be James D. Friel, manager of the Hill-Behan Lumber co. for the past 5 years. Mrs. Leonard Wiese Sr., Roselle rd., will be chairman in Schaumburg township.

"Red Cross contributions help you to help others," Mrs. Wiese said, "and your contributions make it possible to rehabilitate those whose homes are destroyed by disastrous tornadoes, floods, or fires."

"As a former serviceman," Friel stated, "I know how much the Red Cross can mean in keeping the family at home, and the serviceman at his far-away post a united family. Anything of a serious nature that happens to the family of a serviceman back home can be reported to the serviceman in a matter of hours, so important decisions can be made, or so the serviceman can be informed of sickness back home."

Mrs. Wiese and Friel will plan campaigns in their areas to reach all of the people, and they will appoint others to help in the organization and carrying out of the local drives.

MRS. WIESE has been a solicitor in the Schaumburg countryside for the past 5 Red Cross fund campaigns. She is chairman of the Schaumburg 4-H club, and is active in the Hanover-Schaumburg Home Bureau. Still active in the PTA, Mrs. Wiese has been the organization's hospitality chairman, secretary, and program chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiese are the parents of 5 children, Leonard Jr., 20, who is in the army in Germany, Lester 19, Harold 14, Joyce 12, and Lynn, 4.

Friel is a graduate of the University of Illinois with a degree in Electrical Engineering. He spent 6 years in the navy in submarine service. He is unmarried.

Nat'l Political Strike at Hoffman Natural Gas Battle Raging

Hoffman Estates residents, in an effort to obtain natural gas and reduced heating costs, find themselves in the middle of a Washington political battle.

Congress has been debating the control of natural gas at the well-head. One element wants gas pipelines released from under federal power commission control and let supply and demand rule the market. Other governmental officials want to retain governmental control.

If gas pipelines are taken out from under government control, the cost of natural gas is expected to rise. The exact percentage is not known. This will lead pipeline companies to expansion and give rise to the possibility of natural gas coming to Hoffman Estates.

However, if pipeline companies are kept under federal control, pipeline companies, as the result of a federal court decision, are expected to remain dormant with no possibility of gas pipeline extensions to Hoffman Estates.

The situation came to light, Charles Burney, president of the Hoffman Estates Home Owners association, said, because of the extreme winter heating costs through use of liquid gas.

WINTER HEATING costs often reach $60 a month and several Hoffman Estate home owners, during the present recession, have found it difficult to balance the budget.

Burney said an exhaustive survey by the association shows liquid or butane gas costs approximately 60 per cent more than natural gas.

In an effort to feret out the situation of the largest unincorporated community in Illinois, Burney wrote Senators Paul H. Douglas and Everett H. Dirksen and Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church.

Burney explained that Northern Illinois Gas co. has been unable to secure an additional volume of natural gas due to an inability of People's Gas, Light and Coke co. and its subsidiary, Natural Gas Pipeline co. of America, to finance proposed expansion because of the U. S. Court of Appeals decision in what is termed the "Memphis decision."

THE APPEALS COURT, as a result of the U. S. Supreme court decision in 2 previous cases, in its Memphis decision said the rate in a long term contract for the sale of gas and electricity could not be changed by the unilateral filing of a new rate.

This means because of rate increases, pipeline companies are subject to refunding $217,000,000 per year. Pipeline companies contend this decision will bankrupt them and have appealed to the U.S. Supreme court. Jerome K. Kuykendall, chairman of the federal power commission, believes the Memphis decision will not cause bankruptcy.

Senator Dirksen sent Burney a report on a Memphis decision speech by Kuykendall and remarked that he hoped a Supreme court decision would be reached during this session.

CONGRESSWOMAN Church wrote that she originally voted for removing gas pipeline from governmental control but in the light of present developments is about to reverse her position.

Senator Douglas said in his letter to Burney the Tennessee Gas Transmission co. wants to bring gas into the midwest from Canada but Natural Gas Pipeline co. of America opposes it. Douglas said the Canadian government also may oppose the move.

"I am glad that you are concerned about the consumer interest in natural gas," Douglas wrote, "and hope that you will join those of us in Congress who are resisting renewed efforts to wipe out all regulatory power of field prices of natural gas sold in interstate commerce for resale. Thank you again for writing me about this important issue," Douglas concluded.

ALSO CONFUSING the picture, and possibly scuttling Republican hopes in this session of Congress, was the recent news that Texas gas producers were getting support through a $100 a plate campaign dinner to support such action in Congress.

Meanwhile, the Hoffman Estates Home Owners association, stands by watching the situation. Burney said the association is taking no stand at the present but after surveying the situation will indicate its position to Senators Dirksen and Douglas and Mrs. Church.

MRS. MARJORIE HUGHES, Hoffman Estates den mother, receives a certificate of appreciation in recognition of outstanding contributions to Scouting from George W. Gaul, Northwest Suburban Scout council district executive who presented the award on behalf of the executive board.

Directors Hear Four Politicians

Four Republican and Democratic Schaumburg township committeeman candidates in the April primary appeared before the Hoffman Estates Home Owners association board of directors to tell of their qualifications for the post.

Republicans heard were William R. Tribke and Jack Reedy. Democrats who explained their qualifications were Harry McGee and Tom Beaulieu.

Two candidates invited did not appear. Both were the committee incumbents, Republican Louis Redeker and Democrat Raymond Nebel.

The board said it hopes to decide at its meeting next Monday whether or not it will endorse any candidate or will merely support a "get out the vote" campaign.

Schaumburg Class Pictures Slated

Announcement has been made that class pictures will be taken in all Schaumburg district grade schools Thursday and Friday, Feb. 27 and 28.

There was a general curriculum of all teachers last Monday to hear reports from the committee chairman and to continue work on the courses of study for each subject at each grade level.

Fifteen Themes At Cub Banquet

Each of the 15 dens at the Hoffman Estates Cub Scout Blue and Gold banquet last Thursday had a different theme for the 625 scouts and their parents.

Displays of the 3 Hoffman Estates Cub Scout packs ranged far and wide. In Pack 97, Den 1 had a globe with a Scout on top circled by flags. Den 2 had a tree with Cub Scout pennants. Den 3 decorated a cake and had Cub Scouts sitting on nut cups. Den 4 had a castle cake. Den 5 used chuck wagons to portray a western theme.

AMONG PACK 294 dens, it was an Indian display for Den 6, and a Cub Scout train with 7 little cubs for Den 7, Den 8 used the Lincoln theme. Den 9 had a "Happy Birthday" tier cake and Den 10 an achievement tree sprayed in gold. Den 11 followed a patriotic theme.

Pack 97 Den 1 had Indian teepees. Den 2 had a knitted American flag draped across the center of its table. Den 3 made a log cabin, and Den 4 had a covered wagon.

PTA Committee Chairmen Named

The Hoffman school PTA executive committee last week appointed chairmen for its standing committees. Shirley Schenck was appointed ways and means committee chairman. Bob Konotony, PTA vice president, will head the membership program.

Robert Summerfield is educational chairman, Edward Fosdick program chairman, and Mrs. John Pursley was appointed chairman of a special committee for hospitality.

FOOD RATES FIRST at any banquet and here 600 Hoffman Estates Cub Scouts and parents pitch in during their annual Blue and Gold banquet last Thursday in the Arlington high school cafeteria.

Five Hanover Rezonings Set

Five Hanover township rezoning petitions will be heard at 6 p.m. today in the Bartlett village hall by the Cook county zoning board of appeals.

Two petitions are for heavy industrial sites, two are for small business and the most controversial is a request for a 96 acre trailer camp on Lake st. (U.S. 20) about 300 feet east of E. Bartlett rd.

Bartlett's village board, the Elgin school district and neighboring home builders all are 'dead set" against the rezoning of the land, held by an unnamed trust held by the Oak Park Trust and Savings bank.

The heavy industry petitions have been filed by Fred Ottinger, Rte. 4, Elgin, who seeks to have 62 acres rezoned on the northwest corner of Gifford and Bartlett rds. and 19¼ acres rezoned along the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad right of way about 500 feet south of Spaulding rd.

OTTINGER said he plans to sell the property to the Elgin Industrial Development co. of which he is one of the directors. The development company is composed of members of the Elgin association of commerce.

The final 2 petitions are rezoning requests from farming to B-1 business. Edward F. Heinberg, S. Western ave., Bartlett, requests rezoning 1½ acres on the south side of Lake st. about a half mile southeast of Bartlett rd. In the other petition, Herman W. Lamprecht, 844 Logan, Elgin, seeks to have ¾ of an acre rezoned on the northwest corner of Schaumburg and Bartlett rds
